Allies Shell Japs at Finschhafen

M'ARTHUR MEN SHOOT DOWN 40 ENEMY PLANES

Army Within 2 Miles of Town.

ALLIED HDQ. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 24 [Friday]—(AP).—Australians who landed from the sea six miles north of Finschhafen, New Guinea, on Wednesday have pushed resisting Japanese southward, reached the airdrome only two miles north of the base, and have placed the coastal town under artillery fire.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced these developments today in a bulletin which also disclosed that a heavy air engagement ensued the day of the landing in which 40 Japanese planes were downed and five others probably were destroyed. Three allied planes were lost. Warships also helped to cover the landing forces.

"Enemy resistance is being rapidly reduced and we are pressing toward Finschhafen, which is now under artillery fire," the announcement said. "We have reached the north end of the airfield."

Battle 25 Minutes.

The Japanese air force began attempts to intercept the ships off Finschhafen in midmorning Wednesday. The landings began at dawn. Two of the first attacking planes were shot down from high altitude. The big fight occurred at noon. Japanese planes attacked landing craft. Anti-aircraft guns on American warships put up a heavy fire. Allied fighters engaged in a 25 minute battle.

"Twenty to 30 enemy bombers, covered by 30 to 40 fighters, attacked," the announcement related. "Our fighter cover intercepted with complete success, not a ship or passenger being damaged or injured."

[The Tokio radio said last night that two allied cruisers were set on fire and other ships damaged.]

Threatened by Pincers Drive.

Finschhafen is threatened ultimately by a pincers, there being other Australians who landed between it and Lae on Sept. 4 to open the operations which resulted in capture of the latter air base.

Capture of Finschhafen would put MacArthur in a strong position, if he so chose, to strike at crescent-shaped New Britain which, in turn, outflanks Bougainville, principal Japanese holding in the Solomons.

Headquarters also announced that 6,300 Japs were slain in the Lae-Salamaua sector and that final estimates may place the figure much higher.

The heavy air losses of the enemy at Finschhafen strongly indicated the Japanese air force, rendered virtually impotent over New Guinea during the closing stages of the Lae-Salamaua fight, has been reënforced and intends to resist the latest MacArthur moves.

Bomb Port Third Time.

Prior to Wednesday's landings above Finschhafen, a formation of enemy planes was sent to attack ships involved in the operation and nine were downed by intercepting P-40s.

Only 85 miles northeast of Finschhafen, the enemy airdrome at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, has been dealt its third heavy bombing since Sunday. Ninety four tons of explosives were dropped there and on Finschhafen in the latest raids.

The Japanese air force attacked the allied base of Buna on the Papuan peninsula of New Guinea, the Nadzab air strip 20 miles up the Markham valley from Lae, the American airfield at Munda on New Georgia in the Solomons, and other American positions on Vella Lavella.

Ireland Bans U. S. Movie, 'A Yank in the R. A. F.'

DUBLIN, Ireland, Sept. 23 (AP).—The American movie, "A Yank in the R. A. F.," was banned by the minister of justice after running one week at the Savoy theater, where it had been booked for a two weeks' run. No reason was given for the ban, which becomes effective tomorrow.

Reds Smash Within 9 Mi. of Smolensk

LONDON, Sept. 24 [Friday]—(AP).—The Red army yesterday smashed to within artillery range of Smolensk, closed in on Kiev, and toppled the Ukraine citadel of Poltava to engulf German defenses along a 300 mile line just short of the middle Dnieper river, Moscow announced early today.

A soviet bulletin announced the capture of a town nine miles northeast of the German central stronghold of Smolensk as soviet armies plunging westward overran 863 villages along the huge front and killed more than 5,300 Germans.

Surging toward White Russia the Red army also captured a rail junction midway between Bryansk and Gomel and the Moscow radio said soviet troops already had entered White Russia, which adjoins Poland.

A Berlin broadcast acknowledged the peril to Smolensk, Kiev, and other eastern front bastions; admitted the loss of Poltava, said soviet troops had broken into Roslavl below Smolensk, and reported "a few small Russian detachments had reached the Dnieper."

Reds Nearing Dnieper Bend.

The German military commentator, Capt. Ludwig Sertorius, said the Red army's offensive was "the most gigantic of the entire eastern campaign," and that the wide soviet pincer move on Kiev was being pressed with "extraordinary violence." He admitted German troops are "systematically disengaging themselves."

[The Germans at one time held approximately 500,000 square miles of Russia proper. Now it is estimated they hold only 200,000.]

Moscow dispatches said the battle for Dnepropetrovsk had begun with the Red army attacking less than 13 miles from that city at the great bend of the Dnieper. A Dnieper rail center to the south also was imperiled by soviet units attacking eight miles away. In this area a Nazi broadcast indicated the Russians had pushed along the Sea of Azov coast to within nine miles of the Melitopol-Crimea railway.

Of their gains ranging up to 12 miles in the six key sectors, the Russians made their greatest stride in the push toward Gomel. More than 300 villages were swept up in this drive.

Crescent Drive on Kiev.

The fall of Poltava was announced in an order of the day by Premier Josef Stalin. Its conquest removed the last major enemy fortress on the north side of the Dnieper bend. Stalin's order said Poltava fell after "three days of fierce fighting" and termed the city a "powerful German center of resistance."

Far to the northwest, the German situation at Kiev is particularly critical, Moscow dispatches said. The Russians, deployed along a crescent northeast, east, and southeast of the rich Ukraine capital, at one point are within 18 miles of the city.

At the top end of the Russian front, the soviet danger to Smolensk was admitted indirectly by a Berlin broadcast which said Smolensk now is in a sector "bulging rather far out toward the east."

Gain Beyond Smolensk.

Northwest of Smolensk, the Moscow bulletin said, the Red army had gained up to four miles and captured more than 40 localities near White Russia.

White Russia, overrun by the Germans in their crushing 1941 drive, is the last great area lying between the triumphant Russians and Poland on the central front. It is bounded on the south by the Ukraine and the great Pinsk marshes, on the east by the provinces of Bryansk and Smolensk, and on the north by the Pskov district of the Leningrad area. White Russia covers approximately 80,000 square miles.

Bomber Fleet Blasts Hitler's Invasion Wall

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Sept. 24 (Friday)—(AP).—A strong force of R. A. F. bombers blasted at targets in Germany last night for the second successive night. As usual the preliminary British announcement failed to identify the objectives.

LONDON, Sept. 24 [Friday]—(AP).—A great concentration of British bombers made a pulverizing assault against Hitler's west wall defenses between Dunkirk and Calais, France, early today while another strong force roared out for a deeper assault within the continent.

Great explosions shook the English coast 20 miles away. Scores of enemy searchlights and bursting shells stabbed the skies while the bombers poured tons of explosives on the fortifications guarding the French invasion coast.

The roar of heavy bombers as they went out in a long procession over Dover strait continued more than an hour. Within a few minutes after the flights started, the Berlin, Koenigsberg, Leipzig, Paris, and Luxemburg radios were silenced.

500 Mile Front Blasted.

The night assaults climaxed a tremendous 24 hour bombing offensive against German continental air and sea bases and industrial targets on a front 500 miles long and more than 200 miles deep from the west coast of France to the north coast of Germany.

During that period at least 14 targets were blasted by heavy and medium bomber armadas.

German planes made insignificant raids on areas of British East Anglia and the northeast coast. Neither damage nor casualties were reported.

Double Header Yank Raid.

The 8th United States air force staged its first double header raid yesterday when Flying Fortresses twice bombed the docks and shipyards at Nantes, France. The Forts, only one of which was lost, shot down nine Nazi fighters and their Thunderbolt escorts got four more over the Nazi submarine base and shipping center. In other American sweeps, Marauder bombers attacked enemy air fields in France.

Taking up where their bigger colleagues had left off Wednesday night in an attack on the German rubber and railway center of Hanover, British bombers yesterday raided air fields near Rennes, Lille, and Abbeyville, France, and Schelde, Holland. In all the day's wide-spread American-British forays, a total of 24 German fighters were shot down at a cost of three bombers and six fighters.

AURELIO'S NAME ON N. Y. JUDGES' TICKET UPHELD

New York, Sept. 23 [Special].—The appellate division of the Supreme court today unanimously upheld the decision of Supreme Court Justice Benedict E. Dineen that Magistrate Thomas A. Aurelio was entitled to the Democratic and Republican nominations for Supreme court justice in the first judicial district.

Upon application by the chairman of the law committee of the New York county Republican and Democratic committees the appellate division granted permission to carry the case to the court of appeals, the highest court in the state. Chief Justice Irving Lehman set Monday for a hearing at Albany.

After disclosure by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan that Aurelio in a telephone conversation had pledged "undying loyalty" to Frank Costello, racketeer, to whom he owed the Democratic nomination, both major party organizations attempted substitutions for Aurelio. The Democrats named Matthew M. Levy, American labor party nominee. The Republicans named George Frankenthaler.

POPE TO MAKE SELF PRISONER, SWISS REPORT

LONDON, Sept. 24 [Friday]—(AP).—A Reuters [British] news agency dispatch from Zurich, Switzerland, said today it was reliably reported from Rome that Pope Pius XII. intends to become a voluntary prisoner in the Vatican by reëstablishing the conditions prevailing before the Lateran treaty.

The Germans have established a guard at the entrance to the Vatican.

From 1870, when church states were incorporated in the kingdom of Italy, until 1929 the popes remained in self-constituted imprisonment in the Vatican. Then Pope Pius XI. signed the Lateran treaty with the government of Italy, headed by Benito Mussolini, which recognized the pope as sovereign of Vatican City.

M. P. Suggests Drafting of U. S. Women

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The suggestion that the United States should conscript women before British women 45 to 50 years old are conscripted for work in aircraft factories was made in the house of commons today.

A feature of the debate on the man power situation was that opposition to the call for the older British women came almost exclusively from male members of parliament. Women speakers openly ment.

Women Champion Bevin.

Women speakers openly championed the minister of labor, Ernest Bevin, who is asking approval of the cabinet's plan to raise another 700,000 workers by the middle of next year as "the final mobilization of man power that will bring victory."

John Henderson, Conservative, opened the attack on the plan, protesting that America has not yet conscripted women. He said that if the man power shortage was as serious as Bevin has stated "one would have thought that the United States would have at least started with the lower age groups." Not even Germany, he said, has called women more than 45 years old.

Bevin warned that the whole problem must be approached from the viewpoint that "the war isn't yet over." He said that since 47 year old women registered two weeks ago he has received no complaints. There was no protest either, he said, when women of 50 were registered for nursing nor when he decided to register former cotton workers up to 55 years old.

Receives No Protests.

Aircraft production, Bevin said, will be given priority in the allocation of new labor. Besides women, he proposed to "call and direct" boys and girls between 16 and 17 into aircraft factories.

In addition the minister said, thousands of women conductors were needed for the extra buses to be put into operation to carry workers to and from their jobs.

Bevin also reiterated his warning that unless 30,000 men volunteered for underground work in the coal mines, he would use compulsion.

The labor minister disclosed that 22,750,000 of Britain's population of 33,000,000 between 16 and 64 were now in the fighting services, in civil defense or employed in paid jobs, and that 1,600,000 women between 40 and 60 are now employed.

Ralph Assheton, financial secretary of the treasury, denied that government offices were overstaffed, altho he said that the number of civil servants had increased from 400,000 before the war to 720,000 now.

SCHEME MUST BE APPROVED BY CONGRESS

Plan Is Submitted to 43 Nations.

'Dream' Talk

New York, Sept. 23 (AP).—Sen. Robert A. Taft [R., O.] said tonight "when we talk of bringing freedom—or the four freedoms—to the rest of the world, we are talking in a dream language."

Speaking at Town hall over a radio network, he asserted: "Let us not wreck our chance of success in this great endeavor by reaching out to create impossible utopias of individual freedom where individual freedom never has existed and might not be recognized."

"If we can crusade for the four freedoms," Taft said, "Russia can crusade for communism."

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—The United States today submitted to 43 allied nations an agreement on an international relief and rehabilitation administration based on British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's suggestions for a post-war organization to preserve world peace, which he made in a London radio address last March 21. It is to be a vast agency of international government, of far reaching authority and colossal activities expending billions of dollars.

The relief organization, patterned on the league of nations with the additional machinery proposed by Churchill, is regarded by its authors as the blueprint of a possible international institution to enforce peace. By some it is viewed as a likely nucleus of a new league of nations or super-state.

Needs Congress' Consent.

As the result of a concession wrung from the administration by Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.], the consent of congress will be necessary to American participation in the undertaking. Secretary of State Cordell Hull said congress would be asked to authorize by joint resolution appropriations for the participation of the United States.

Sen. Vandenberg said the understanding with the administration is that the text of the international agreement shall be incorporated in the resolution, so that congress will pass upon the entire project.

Plan Modified.

An administration move last June to put the plan into operation by executive agreement with allied nations and without reference to congress was halted by Vandenberg who raised the question that it was a treaty requiring the approval of two thirds of the senate. The ad-

Propaganda Is Seen Massed in OCD Talks

[This is the first of a series of articles describing activities of local groups of internationalists.]

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

A propaganda network of vast dimensions is being pieced together by internationalists here, it was charged yesterday by Republican nationalists.

The office of civilian defense and the League of Women Voters are stringing up the network, and they say that it is to be used not for propaganda but merely for "discussion."

More than 600 neighborhood discussion groups have been organized by the OCD in the metropolitan area. This number is growing. The National League of Women Voters aims at reaching 1,500,000 persons a month, and the Illinois league is busy carrying out its part in the program.

Connections Between Them.

There are connections between the two organizations, and between both of them and organized internationalists who are striving to make the United States a member of a world super-government. For example, a sponsor of the OCD project is Mrs. Quincy Wright, who from 1934 to 1942 was foreign policy chairman of the National League of Women Voters and now is a national director. Mrs. Wright is executive director of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations. Mrs. Wright's husband is professor of international law at the University of Chicago and has been listed as director of the Foreign Bondholders' Protective council.

Prof. Wright is out of town. Mrs. Wright said she thought the organization to protect holders of foreign bonds is "pretty defunct."

Post-war World on Program.

"The OCD neighborhood groups are discussing what the war is about," she said. "Naturally, it is impossible not to speak of international affairs and the post-war world."

Back in 1934 Prof. Wright, who was a red hot interventionist before Pearl Harbor, was urging that the Constitutional requirement of a two-thirds vote in the senate for treaties with foreign nations be scrapped. At that time he drafted a report suggesting the Constitution be changed to confer the treaty making power upon the President and a simple majority of both houses.

The policy line starts at the top of OCD, whose new acting director is John B. Martin, 34 years old. He attended Oriel college, Oxford university, under the scholarship plan of Cecil Rhodes, the British empire builder who hoped that the United States could be brought back into the fold.

Names Are Withheld.

A list of about 250 volunteer leaders of the OCD discussion groups has been drawn up. This the OCD refuses to make public. A request for the names was successively turned down by George W. Fleming, director of the morale department; Walter Roy, his superior, and Ralph H. Burke, deputy coördinator of OCD, who is topped only by Mayor Kelly.

"Our rule is not to give out names of volunteer workers," Burke said. "Their finger prints have all gone thru the FBI machinery."

Roy said he wouldn't give out the list because he must "protect the workers and the OCD."

Fleming said that the goal is to have a discussion group in each of the 15,000 blocks of Chicago. There is a morale warden for every block, he said.

Altho these officials denied any tendency toward internationalism in the discussion groups, the sponsors are predominantly internationalists.

English-born Author.

One of them is Horace Bridges, English-born author and lecturer and a member of the Connaught club, London. In 1915 he espoused the establishment of an international tribunal with executive power, and disarmament. As leader of the Chicago Ethical society he repeatedly criticized the famous saying of Stephen Decatur:

"Our country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be right; but our country, right or wrong."

Decatur's words cut away the roots of international law, Bridges said.

PUT U. S. FIRST IN WORLD PLAN, LEGION URGES

Demand Safeguard for Sovereignty.

BY THOMAS MORROW.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 23.—Warning that America's interests must come first in any post-war organization of the nations of the world, the American Legion national convention today adopted three resolutions hammering home the theme that the sovereignty of the United States and the people must be protected.

Delegates representing more than a million veterans of World War I. unanimously supported the three resolutions, which were submitted by the committees on national defense, foreign relations, and resolutions. All of the measures stressed the point that America's first responsibility is to preserve its cherished institutions on the home front.

Own Interests First.

"Our own national interests must ever be our first concern," said the resolution brought in by the foreign relations committee, "and we believe that our nation can best serve and protect its national interests, commensurate with its power and responsibilities, by participation in the establishment and maintenance of an association of free and sovereign nations, implemented with whatever force may be necessary to maintain world peace and prevent a recurrence of war."

In the resolution submitted by the national defense committee, the convention took the stand that the nation must maintain liberty of action "as masters of our own destiny."

"Whatever may be the international adjustment in post-war conferences," the resolution stated, "it will be well that our participation be based upon a program for the development under sound government of our full national strength and for the maintenance of our liberty of action as masters of our own destiny, free and able to collaborate with those nations whose concepts we approve and whose international attitude and action are in accord with our own policies."

Back Decentralized Government.

Freedom of individual enterprise was described by the resolutions committee as of importance equal to that of the four freedoms of the Atlantic charter. In its resolution indorsed by the convention, it called for the decentralization of government after the war, holding that the government is best which governs least.

Another resolution that met with the unanimous approval of the convention demanded that younger men in executive and administrative jobs of federal, state, county, and municipal departments take their chances with the draft as do other young men, unless conclusively proved that their work cannot be done by older men and women.

Immediate deportation at the end of the war of all disloyal aliens and American-born Japanese was urged in another resolution.

Behind Gen. Marshall.

Few comments were heard from the floor as the resolutions were adopted. As Gen. Frank Parker was reading the national defense committee report urging that the chief of staff be given 7,700,000 men by December, 1943, John Stelle, former governor of Illinois, took the floor and asked:

"Does this mean the American Legion is telling the demagogic politicians that we are behind Gen. Marshall 1,000 per cent?"

"Yes," Gen. Parker answered, and added: "I'll answer that again, and the answer is 'Yes.'"

[Warren H. Atherton elected national commander of Legion. Story on page 17.]

Boasts 42 Degrees, but Gets One Wanted at 74

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 23 (AP).—Dr. Frank P. Graves, 74 years old, former New York State commissioner of education and possessor of 42 college degrees, achieved a boyhood ambition today when he received a bachelor of laws degree from Albany law school. Dr. Graves returned to his studies in September, 1941, a year after his retirement as commissioner. He faces state bar examinations before he can practice law.

EXHIBIT OF NAVY POWER OPENS IN TRIBUNE SQUARE

Show to Boost War Bond Sales Campaign.

BY HARRY McCLAIN.

Christened at noon yesterday in Nathan Hale court, adjoining Tribune Tower, the U. S. S. Bond Quota was launched upon a 30 day run in quest for bond buyers in the treasury department's 15 billion dollar third war loan.

At the bow of the Bond Quota, full sized wooden replica of a patrol craft escort ship, built by the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing company, the navy show, sponsored by the treasury in coöperation with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, was opened officially by Rear Adm. John Downes, commandant of the 9th naval district.

Attendance yesterday totaled 12,367 persons. The first day of war bond sales amounted to $102,025, of which $50,000 was purchased by the Bond Clothing company.

Adm. Downes and the navy were welcomed to Tribune Square by Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, who recalled that early in the summer, after a shortage of weapons had turned to a surplus, the ordnance department of the army put on an exhibition in Tribune Square.

Visitors Near Million.

"This exhibition," said Col. McCormick, "was followed by an air forces exhibiton, and nearly a million persons saw how well equipped the army has become. Today we are opening a navy show and we take pleasure in putting on these exhibitions to show visitors that our forces are the best equipped in the world."

"The navy show which begins today," said Adm. Downes, "pays fitting tribute to our tremendous growth in sea power in a period of scarcely more than two years. The Jap attack at Pearl Harbor awakened us to a realization that we stood at the brink of humiliating defeat unless we threw everything into war support.

"Thru the length and breadth of the country American man power and American industry came to the rescue. Today the figures speak for themselves. Today we are strong enough to present such a show as this and feel proud of our achievements.

Now Have 613 Warships.

"Two years ago the United States navy had 383 warships; today it has 613. Two years ago there were in all only 1,076 naval vessels to protect our enormous coast line, both here and overseas. Today there are 14,072 naval craft in action. In 1941 the navy had only 1,744 planes. Today 18,269 navy planes are helping to make the skies safe for America.

"Gratifying tho these statistics are," Adm. Downes said, "they must not lull us into a false sense of security. With our forces for the first time taking the offensive in the Pacific, the Atlantic, and the Mediterranean it is up to us more than ever to back the attack with increased production and with increased purchases of war bonds.

"The navy is very happy to have made its contribution to this show. You will find here a dramatic picture of navy weapons of war—of coast guard and marine as well as navy equipment. You will find here a sample of what has been done up to now and a challenge—a challenge of what must be done in the future. Progressive action is now ours. It calls for more effort than ever to make this success quick and complete in order that our losses may be kept to the very minimum."

Music by Two Bands.

A moment after the closing words of Adm. Downes' address, Lt. [j. g.] Margaret Cecil, senior WAVE officer in the Chicago area, broke the traditional bottle of champagne across the bow as she said: "I christen thee U. S. S. Bond Quota. May your course lead over the top."

The musical part of the program, which was started in Michigan avenue, was supplied by the band from Navy pier. After christening of the Bond Quota, the program moved to the lower level where another band from the Glenview naval air station played while planes from the station zoomed and dived overhead.

The treasury department's hope for success of the navy show and an appeal for maximum bond purchases was broadcast from Washington where Theodore Gamble, an assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of the third war loan spoke.

Harold Swift, Illinois chairman of the war finance committee, then sold the first $1,000 bond to John T. McCutcheon, noted Tribune cartoonist, and a color guard from navy pier raised the American flag, signaling opening of the show to visitors.

Bond Quota Has Gear.

After the opening ceremony in Michigan avenue Adm. Downes and the commanding officers of various naval installations in the Chicago area started on a tour of the show. Their first stop was aboard the Bond Quota in which the Pullman company has installed the complete navigating and deck gear of a fighting ship, including a 3-inch anti-aircraft gun for which the Miehle Printing Press company manufactured the mount.

Leaving the Bond Quota, the ranking officers entered Tribune Tower to see displays of the marine corps, WAVES, SPARS, and Seabees in the public service office. In the main lobby they saw a Sperry gyro-compass manufactured by the Chrysler corporation in Detroit, and in Harmony hall they found a pictorial story of naval training as given to recruits at the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

In the tent south of Tribune Tower the party found exhibits from the naval air technical training commands on Navy pier and the school at 87th street and Anthony avenue.

See Mine Sweeper.

At the rear of the tent the officers found tied to the Tribune dock a mine sweeper, built entirely of wood, which was constructed in the north branch river yard of the Henry C. Grebe Shipbuilding company. The mine sweeper arrived at the dock more than an hour before the opening of the show and remained until near midafternoon, when it was taken into Lake Michigan for a trial run. The ship will be delivered to the navy within a few days.

Dock space occupied early in the day by the Grebe mine sweeper was filled at 5 p. m. by a destroyer escort ship, built by the Defoe Shipbuilding company of Bay City, Mich. This ship left Bay City late Wednesday on a trial run to Chicago and will remain on view to show visitors until noon Sunday.

Seagoing Tank and Planes.

Outside the tent on the route to the parking space occupied by four navy airplanes and a captured Italian reconnaisance seaplane, the navy official party ascended a stairway to peer inside a seagoing tank, built by the Ingersoll Steel and Disc division of the Borg-Warner corporation in its Kalamazoo, Mich., plant.

The naval airplane display includes a North American trainer, known as the Texan, a Douglas Dauntless dive bomber, a Vought-Sikorsky fighter which flies at more than 400 miles an hour, and a Grumman torpedo bomber of the type used with great success against the axis enemies.

The navy show will be open daily for the next month from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m.

OPA FINDS 22,500 STOLEN COUPONS BELONG IN WEST

Approximately half of the 45,000 stolen gasoline ration coupons found on one of two men arrested here in an OPA investigation of illegal traffic in coupons were issued for use in the Pacific coast states, it was disclosed yesterday by Michael F. Mulcahy, OPA director for the Chicago metropolitan district.

The "H" on the coupons identified them as intended for west coast use, Mulcahy said. This indicated, he said, either that they were stolen on the west coast and brought here for sale, or stolen in transit to the coast. The remaining coupons bore an "F," disclosing they were intended for the middle west.

The men, Robert Mastie, 47 years old, 5052 Iowa street, a shipping clerk employed at the North Pier terminal, and J. W. Lavender, 46, of 4958 Blackstone avenue, operator of a filling station, are at liberty on bonds of $2,000 and $1,000 respectively, awaiting disposition of their case. A third man, known only as Al, is sought.

300 BILLION DEBT LIMIT PLEA SEEN BY LEGISLATOR

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—Congress may be asked soon to boost the national debt limit to 300 billion dollars. Chairman Clarence Cannon [D., Mo.] of the house appropriations committee told reporters today the present rate of government spending is approaching the present statutory debt limit of 210 billion dollars.

He estimated the present spending rate at between 7 billion and 8 billion dollars monthly. A 300 billion dollar limit, Cannon said, may be sufficient "if the war doesn't last too long."

Because Chicago Tribune correspondents in Washington and thruout the world watch day to day developments vigilantly, doing their own fact finding, Tribune readers are fully and immediately informed of every important happening.

CHARGES ARMY SOLD $2,000,000 TOOLS AS SCRAP

Detroit Man Says Hoard Brought $76,500.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23 [Special]. —The army air force recently sold more than $2,000,000 worth of critical machine tools as scrap for $76,500, in order to clear space in a warehouse for storage of other war materials, a Detroit manufacturer charged here today.

Lt. Robert Ludvik of the AAF, who conducted the sale, said it had been ordered by the war production board. He said the tools cost the government $1,400,000, but that the cost would have been $2,000,000 or more if they had been purchased thru dealer channels. He said the government realized $76,500 from the sale.

Reports Buying Tools.

The manufacturer, who declined temporarily to let his name be used because his firm has war contracts, said that his company had purchased some of these tools from a dealer to fill orders which were behind schedule.

"Many of these tools that the army sold at such a ridiculously low price are the very kind that we are making for the government now," he said.

Lt. Ludvik said that the tools, consisting largely of reamers, drills, taps, dies, and cutting tools, were obsolete by the time they were delivered to the Studebaker corporation in South Bend, Ind., early this year.

Stored Last March.

They were shipped to the Detroit warehouse of the AAF at 14255 West Warren last March, Ludvik said. A form listing many of the types available was sent to several war contractors, but the tools were never publicly advertised for sale, he disclosed.

On July 26, he said, Franz Stone, chief of the war production board industrial specialties branch, tools division, told army officers here that the WPB regarded the tools as obsolete. On this basis, AAF officials ordered the entire lot sold, as scrap if necessary, to clear the warehouse immediately, Lt. Ludvik said.

Anti-Aircraft Specialist Is Named Gen. Arnold's Aid

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP). —The appointment of Maj. Gen. Homer R. Oldfield to be special assistant to Gen. Henry H. Oldfield, a native of Bethlehem, Ia., comes to his new post from Camp Haan, Cal. He was commander of the anti-aircraft artilery training center there.

HOLD JUDGMENT ON TRIB-BUNA TRUCK TIRE LIFE

Current Record Too Good to Be True.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 23.—A pair of Trib-buna tires on a one and a half ton Chevrolet truck is building a record for longevity exceeding most optimistic expectations. In 3,376 miles of travel, only .040 of an inch of synthetic has been worn from the tread designs, originally .374 of an inch deep.

If this rate of wear was consistent, the truck could travel 31,500 miles without the tires going bald. This is better than the average life of pre-war natural rubber. Since this is beyond normal expectancy, judgment will be withheld until more miles are accumulated.

Synthetics Are Satisfactory.

Indisputably, the experience to date is proving that 100 per cent synthetics are satisfactory at moderate speeds for trucks of the small size common for local delivery and farm services.

The Trib-buna resistance to road wear has shown consistent improvement with use of the two tires. At 500 miles, the tread loss was .0115 of an inch, indicating a life expectancy of 16,261 miles; at 1,000 miles, the loss was measured at .019 of an inch, indicating expectancy of 19,684 miles; and at 2,000 miles, the .0315 of an inch wear indicated a life of 23,746 miles.

These two casings have more mileage on them than any other of the 36 that are being used on a light truck and on a passenger car in Chicago Tribune tire tets.

24,000 Mile Life Expectancy.

The pair now has a better record than four Trib-bunas on a Buick coupe. The wear on the passenger car tires after 1,393 miles of travel indicates a tread life expectancy of 24,930 miles. The Buick is traveling at 45 miles an hour while the truck is kept at 40.

These figures on Trib-buna are applicable to all of the government's standard buna-s synthetic since the only difference is the source of the raw materials for the main ingredient, butadiene. The government makes its butadiene from petroleum and from grain alcohol. Butadiene for Trib-buna was converted from alcohol salvaged from waste sulphite liquor at the TRIBUNE's Canadian woodpulp mills.

MRS. F. D. ROOSEVELT BACK IN U. S. AFTER A 23,000 MILE TRIP

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 23 (AP).—Looking tired after her 23,000 mile trip to the South Pacific and Australia, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt told a press conference today she was glad to be home, adding "I don't think I ever worked as hard in my life."

She arrived from Honolulu by plane at 11:20 a. m. [Chicago time] today, just five weeks and two days after leaving the country on the longest of her many journeys. She rested briefly at her hotel, tried in vain to find and telephone the father of a marine corps lieutenant who dropped 3,000 feet into the sea —and will recover—and then answered reporters' questions.

Mrs. Roosevelt was asked whether the men and officers feel the Pacific front is regarded as less important than the one in Europe.

"They know it is important; they know how big it is," she answered. "I think they do feel we at home don't know how big it is.

"As for equipment; they know it is enormously increased, and excellent."

222 Swedish Merchant Vessels Lost Thru War

New York, Sept. 23 (AP).—Sweden's merchant marine lost 1,191 lives and 222 vessels, of 577,000 gross tons, from the beginning of the war until the end of August, the American Swedish news exchange announced here today. Included were 25 ships of 46,000 gross tons seized by German prize courts and 16 fishing boats of 800 gross tons.

ALL POST-WAR BILLS IN SENATE DELAYED WEEK

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—A senate foreign relations subcommittee delayed today for at least a week any action on a dozen or more pending post-war policy proposals, including the house-approved Fulbright "lasting peace" resolution.

Sen. Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.] predicted the committee would act within "three or four weeks" on a resolution of its own. He said there was some feeling in the senate that the house had gone out of bounds in passing the Fulbright measure.

Gillette told reporters that, while he welcomed the house action, he believed the senate would desire to pass a resolution of its own. The senate holds the constitutional authority to advise the President in the negotiation of treaties, which cannot become effective until ratified by a two-thirds vote of the senate.

CHICAGO YANK NO HERO, JUST FIGHTING MAN

Gunner Flies 50 Missions from Africa.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 23.—Staff Sgt. Arthur B. Raymond Jr. of 113 Harrison street, Oak Park, is going home. He is eligible because he has just completed his battle stint—50 missions as a ball turret gunner on a Flying Fortress.

Staff Sgt. Arthur B. Raymond Jr.

Raymond insists he is no hero, but—

When the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor he quit his job with the black press gang of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and enlisted, because he thought that was the thing to do.

He has flown 50,000 miles as a fighting airman.

He was in the first raid on Rome.

On his first mission he shot down a Messerschmitt 210 fighter plane. On others he bagged two Focke-Wulf 190 fighters.

He wears the air medal with 11 oak clusters.

Just Another Gunner?

Raymond says he is just another gunner, intensely proud because he was able to fly 318 hours with a squadron which had 15 Chicago boys, more than any other in Africa. He's thankful, too, because he escaped that old 50th mission hoodoo, altho it almost got him.

It was Sept. 8, the day before the 5th army landed at the Gulf of Salerno, when Raymond's plane, "Rigor Mortis," flew to bomb the German headquarters among the lovely ancient villas of suburban Frascati outside Rome. On the preceding raid, Raymond's heat suit had broken. It gets pretty cold at 28,000 feet, and so his hands and feet were frozen. They were still painful when he hobbled out to the Fortress to get raid No. 50 behind him.

The anti-aircraft fire was heavy and enemy fighter planes swarmed around the allied bombers.

"We came in the third wave," said Raymond, "and caught most of the fighter attacks. Give me fighters any time. They're something to shoot at. You don't feel so helpless."

Showered with Glass.

Then a shell fragment hit his turret. It drilled a hole past his head showering glass all over his eight day beard, but didn't scratch him.

The plane was pitching now in the concussion blasts from enemy batteries, but it dropped its bombs, lifting the target off its foundations, and headed for home. A few enemy fighters followed out to sea, but Raymond reached Africa safely. His 50th mission was behind him.

"It was always a 50-50 chance you would come back," Raymond said. "But just because a fellow shot down a few planes doesn't make him a hero."

He started bagging his "few planes" months ago. His luck, he insisted, started last Feb. 26 on his first combat mission against the Island of Ustica, north of Sicily. He shot down a German fighter. On May 10, over Borizzo, Sicily, and on Aug. 19, over Foggia, Italy, he downed two others.

His Navigator Hit.

But he was "lucky," too, last Nov. 18, when he and his squadron waded ashore at Casablanca from the first convoy to arrive after the allied landing in Africa. And again, the time his plane was hit by one tiny shell fragment. He thought oil was dripping on his glass window. But it wasn't. His navigator had been hit between the eyes.

Raymond used to write the names of his family or of the boys in the black press gang on the bomb fins. Often, too, he put on the name of Miss Margaret McDonough, editor of The Trib, CHICAGO TRIBUNE house organ. She wrote regularly to Raymond telling him office news. He thought that was pretty fine.

Now, Raymond is going home. A veteran at 29, he'll instruct other, younger flyers. But the first thing he intends to do is "telephone mama."

"She has had the real strain, waiting," he said. "Now I'll be able to take the pressure off her."

AMERICAN AVIATORS DRIVE OFF JAP PLANES OVER GUADALCANAL

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—Shooting down two enemy bombers, American fighter planes drove off a Japanese bombing raid on Guadalcanal, the navy announced today.

The raiding group, largest reported over the island in the central Solomons in many weeks, was composed of "12 or 16 enemy bombers."

Only light material damage and a few casualties resulted before the Japanese were driven off the morning of Sept. 21, Solomons time.

The navy also announced another raid by six Japanese planes which dropped bombs near the air strip on Guadalcanal.

Finds British Build Ships at Less Cost in Man Hours

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—Rear Adm. Howard L. Vickery of the United States maritime commission, broadcasting to American ship yard workers after a tour of British naval yards, said today that cargo vessels are being built in the United Kingdom at less cost in man hours than in the United States.

BRITON ASSERTS NAZIS HAVE 30,000 TROOPS ON CRETE

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—The Germans have 30,000 troops on the Mediterranean Island of Crete, Colonial Secretary Cranborne told the house of lords today.

Replying to questions why Rhodes and Crete had not been seized after Italy's capitulation, Cranborne said the allies were in touch with the Italians on Rhodes and had expected them to take over the island. It would have taken a large expeditionary force that could not be spared to capture Crete, he added.

Altho the Germans had 7,000 troops in Rhodes, Cranborne said the Italian garrison was more than four times as large. "These Italians had shown us their intention of dealing with the Germans, but when the time came the Italian threw in his hand and his troops surrendered."

WAVELL BACKS INDIAN POLICY AS PROUD ONE

WINCHESTER, England, Sept. 23 (AP).—Field Marshal Wavell, viceroy-designate of India, told a Winchester audience today that Great Britain has little to be ashamed of and much of which to be proud in her dealings with India. Speaking during a ceremony at which he received the freedom of the city, Wavell asserted: "We have made mistakes in India, mistakes of manners and mistakes of judgment once or twice, but very rarely blunders due to greed or fear."

"The good we have done," he added, "in giving India a peace as never before, in uniting India as never before, in encouraging a national spirit, in leading India a long way down the road toward her great destiny, has been one of the finest pieces of government and administration ever accomplished in this world of difficulties and dangers. . . .

"For the moment the outlook in India seems dark and the right road hard to find; if we can lead India a little further, thru a few more troubles, we shall have set the seal on a great task and can let her direct her own footsteps to the great and prosperous future for which we hope; and, we hope also, in coöperation and partnership with the other nations of our commonwealth."

Knox Received by King; Churchill Also Calls

HEAR SLOVENES FIGHT WAY INTO PORT OF TRIESTE

Citizens Aid in Battling German Garrison.

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—Slovene troops of the Jugo-Slav army were reported tonight to have penetrated the Italian Adriatic port of Trieste, fighting the German garrison there with the aid of inhabitants.

Jugo-Slavs having communication with partisan armies fighting in northwestern Jugo-Slavia said other Slovene formations occupied Idria, site of a big mercury mine, 30 miles northeast of Trieste and 50 miles north of Fiume, exerting pressure on both Italian ports.

Elsewhere troops were said to be fighting heavy engagements on a 50 mile front from Bistrica to Ljubljana.

[The Algiers (allied controled) radio said the Jugo-Slavs were shelling Fiume from Susak, just across the frontier, and reported street fighting in Trieste.]

Montenegrins Seize Towns.

The Budapest radio, quoting a Zagreb dispatch, claimed the Germans had captured Susak.

Madrid quoted reports from Italian and Balkan sources which said that Fiume and the whole German grip on the Istrian peninsula was threatened by swift moving, well armed guerrilla bands in communication with partisan forces holding Susak and part of the Adriatic coast.

An area 55 miles north of Durazzo was reported under siege by Montenegrins after they captured two coast towns. An Italian division, with its commanding general, was said to have gone over to Jugo-Slav partisan units now fighting the Germans.

Capture Italian Equipment.

In a wide area around Banja Luka, Croatian divisions were said to have destroyed German railway facilities in two towns. The German air force and artillery practically destroyed a town 20 miles northeast of Banja Luka, a Jugo-Slav authority here said.

There were some estimates that the war equipment of about four out of 20 Italian divisions in the northern part of Jugo-Slavia had now fallen into the hands of the Jugo-Slavs.

A number of Adriatic island craft were said to have been armed with guns left by Italians. At Novi a landing party of nearly 100 German sailors was reported wiped out and its launches seized.

GEN. ALEXANDER THANKS SPAATZ FOR AIR SUPPORT

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—Gen. Harold Alexander, deputy allied commander in chief in the Mediterranean area, has sent a message of thanks to Lt. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, commander of the Northwest African air force, expressing the United States 5th army's thanks and appreciation "for the magnificent air support given them" during the Salerno operations, it was announced here today.

"Not only have your tremendous air attacks strengthened the morale of the ground and naval forces but they have inflicted heavy losses in men and equipment on the enemy," Alexander wrote.

"They have seriously interfered with his movements, interrupted his communications and prevented his concentration of forces to launch large scale attacks."

NAZIS PUT TORCH TO NAPLES PORT AND INDUSTRIES

Wreck Rails; Scuttle 30 Ships in Harbor.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 23 (AP).—German torch and dynamite crews demolished the Naples waterfront, scuttled 30 ships to block the harbor, and wrecked industrial and rail centers in the great Italian metropolis in apparent preparation for evacuation as allied armies lunged tonight within sight and sound of the wholesale destruction.

Advances of from 10 to 15 miles in central and southern Italy put great chunks of land behind the straightening allied lines.

The whole German flank in the Salerno area, 20 to 40 miles south of Naples, was pried loose and turned inland. The American 5th and British 8th armies were advancing and forcing Marshal Albert Kesselring to draw back on the interior approaches to flaming Naples.

Troops Hear Naples Blasts.

Small gains were made north of Salerno in the last mountain barrier to the plains of Naples. There the Germans resisted stubbornly while they destroyed everything of value in the once beautiful city of 925,000 population. A smoke blanket hung over Naples and approaching allied troops could hear frequent explosions.

Aerial photographs showed the destruction of the Naples waterfront to be worse than were the German demolitions at Tripoli in North Africa.

"At least 30 Italian ships have been scuttled and sunk and practically every usable berth along the docks has been blocked" by Nazi demolitions, an official announcement said.

"Fires have been burning along the docks for several days, apparently the result of demolitions. Charges have been seen to explode among the docks."

Wreck Industrial Section.

The somber pictures also showed that the industrial area north of the docks had been wrecked. Railroad yards were demolished.

"The extent to which this is going on indicates the enemy is determined to make the big port—one of the largest and best of peace time harbors—completely useless to allied troops when they occupy it," the allied air forces stated.

Most of the allied land gains in Italy were north of Taranto and above the instep of the Italian boot as the reënforced British 8th army and British 5th corps pushed forward on the heels of Germans retreating northward toward the clusters of major airfields around Foggia.

Ginosa, Avigliano, and Acerno fell. Ginosa is 25 miles northwest of Taranto and 14 miles inland from its gulf. Avigliano is 50 miles east of Salerno and eight miles northwest of Potenza. Acerno is 18 miles east and slightly north of Salerno.

Gains in Three Sectors.

Thus the continuous allied line from Salerno to the Mediterranean to above Bari on the Adriatic had been pushed forward eight miles northwest of Potenza, 14 miles north of Sala Consiliana and 10 miles west of Mottala, which is north of Taranto.

[The British radio said Auletta and Contursi had been captured. Auletta is 36 miles southeast of Salerno on the road to Potenza. Contursi is 26 miles southwest of Salerno, between Acerno and Avigliano. The German war bulletin admitted "a dent made by the enemy in our positions near Contursi" but claimed the break was "cleaned up in counter-attacks. The enemy has brought up fresh forces in the eastern sector of the front without, however, so far commencing an attack."]

The systematic campaign of the northwest African air forces to wipe out enemy communications leading to the Naples area continued without pause. Bridges, road junctions, highways, and moving transport columns were battered at and around Torre Annunziata, Formia, Mignano, Benevento, Grottaminarda, San Martino, Cava, Nocera, and Avellino.

American Warhawks from the northwest African air force strafed enemy shipping in the Adriatic 60 miles northwest of Bari in the Gulf of Manfredonia. They hit a 2,000 ton ship twice.

U. S. AND FRENCH TROOPS CLOSE IN ON CORSICA CITY

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 23 (AP).—The battle for Corsica tonight was in its final stage. French troops and American Rangers closed in on Bastia, northeastern port of the Napoleonic island, and allied navies and air forces clamped on a tight blockade, a barrier to German escape.

A French high command war bulletin said the Germans lost heavily in men and material near the tiny Corsican seaport of Solenzara, 60 miles south of Bastia on the east coast.

The French, Corsican patriots, and a small number of Rangers fighting beside them, thus had advanced about one-third of the way northward along the eastern coast. The Germans continued their retreat toward the northeast.

[No mention was made of Bonifacio and Porto Vecchio in the southeastern corner of Corsica, but it was indicated the Germans had abandoned both.]

Bombard Road of Retreat.

Allied warships bombarded the strip of coast where the road of retreat runs close to the sea, and supported the troops which carried the attack near Solenzara.

"Allied navies and air forces are maintaining a very effective blockade of the eastern coast of the island, making it difficult for the enemy to evacuate material or personnel by sea or air," the French bulletin said.

Bastia was bombed again, and escape routes between Corsica and Leghorn, 77 miles away on the Italian mainland, and the German held island of Elba in between were constantly patroled by air. Allied planes battered German ships leaving Corsica. Mitchells [B-25s] left two vessels smoking and listing and a barge and escort vessel shattered by hits. British Wellingtons also attacked a small convoy between Elba and Leghorn. The Germans were giving no air cover to these fleeing troops.

GIRAUD VISITS ISLAND

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 23 (AP).—The first hand story of how Corsicans boldly planned and bravely executed their military revolt to rid their island home of Germans was brought back today by Gen. Henri Giraud, who flew to Corsica Tuesday night.

The French commander-in-chief predicted that in "from 10 to 15 days" all the Germans on the island would be ousted or killed.

[The Algiers radio quoted Gen. Charles de Gaulle, co-president with Gen. Giraud of the French committee of national liberation, as saying that French forces were ready to take part in the battle of Italy.]

Giraud's spokesman was Gen. Rene Chambe who said a young captain, Colonna D'Istria, from one of Corsica's oldest families, organized the revolt. He landed on Corsica last February from a French submarine and maintained constant radio contact with Giraud in Algiers. D'Istria is ill in a hospital at Ajaccio, where he was decorated by Giraud.

10,000 Corsicans Armed.

Since February 10,000 Corsicans had been armed with tommyguns dropped by parachute or brought by submarines.

Giraud found that when French troops first began to land [on Sept. 14], the Germans attacked with tanks in an attempt to get Ajaccio, but that the Corsican partisans had beaten off the attack at Cauro and the Nazis started a retreat which never stopped.

Chambe said a small unit of American rangers was employed near Bastia but he did not know how they fared.

The Corsican partisans ranged in age from 15 to 75 and wore arm bands with the initials "FT," meaning frant-tireur [guerrilla fighter], and knew that if the Germans caught them they would be shot.

Two Heroes Kill Six Germans.

In the village of Levie, Giraud praised a boy of 15 and an old man of 75, each of whom had killed three Germans. From this tiny village 400 partisans were recruited by a young French lieutenant who donned civilian clothes to lead them on a series of forays. The French population abandoned the village, went to the mountains to live, and in several weeks they killed 250 Germans for the loss of eight of their own killed and 16 wounded.

Giraud visited several battle areas. The Corsicans revived the old friendship sign of their island by throwing handfuls of rice and flowers at the general as he passed thru their villages.

Chambe said there are 80,000 Italians on the island who are taking orders from the French but that only a handful are fighting the Germans.

"We have put them to work rebuilding roads and bridges and bridges and they must leave Corsica as soon as transportation can be arranged," Chambe said.

Allied Planes Roam at Will.

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 23 (AP).—German air power over the entire Mediterranean today appeared to be in a state of collapse. Almost no Nazi aircraft were reported anywhere along the 1,500 mile Mediterranean front from Corsica to Rhodes, and huge allied ships moved at will.

Middle east Liberators [B-24s] smashed at airdromes at Maritza on the Island of Rhodes in the Dodecanese and Elevsis at Athens, in Greece, where runways and hangars were hit and six aircraft destroyed on the ground, a Cairo bulletin said. Nearly 200,000 pounds of high explosives were dropped. R. A. F. Wellingtons also attacked Maleme airdrome on Crete by night.

Two Enemy Convoys Destroyed.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Sept. 23 (AP).—Two enemy convoys operating in the Aegean sea were destroyed recently by light allied naval forces without loss to themselves, a British navy announcement said today. The escort of one of the convoys was sunk and vessels protecting the other were damaged, the announcement said. Allied naval forces have been operating in the Dodecanese Islands in close coöperation with the army and R. A. F.

CAPT. PROSSER'S SON MISSING IN EUROPE; FLEW ON MANY RAIDS

David G. Prosser.

Flight Officer David G. Prosser, 22 years old, is missing in action in the European area, according to word received by his father, Capt. Stuart A. Prosser of Chanute field, and his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Prosser of the Deerpath inn, Lake Forest.

Young Prosser, a navigator on a B-17, had nearly completed his first 25 bombing missions. When the war began, he was studying at a university in Spain. He reached Paris, then enlisted in the royal Canadian air force, and was graduated from the navigators' school at St. John's, Halifax. Last summer he transferred to the American air forces.

Capt. Prosser saw action in the first World war as a lieutenant pursuit pilot. Before returning to the army, he was manager of the Chicago office of Fahnestock & Co., brokers.

Yanks and British Bomb Japanese Bases in Burma

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 23 (AP).—Flying thru improving monsoon weather, American medium and heavy bombers and R. A. F. Beaufighters heavily attacked communications and military installations in Japanese-occupied Burma. A United States air announcement today announced "good results" in a medium bomber raid yesterday on freight yards at Sedaw, while B-24 heavy bombers demolished buildings and trackage in the Mandalay area. All of the American planes returned safely.

41 WARSHIPS OF ITALIAN NAVY SAIL TO U. S. BASE

Last Units of Navy to Make Getaway.

BY ALFRED WAGG.

WITH THE U. S. NAVY AT AN ADVANCED MEDITERRANEAN BASE, Sept. 18 [Delayed]—(AP).—The Italian admiral, Amedo Nomis di Pollone, has shepherded 41 Italian warships into this American naval base. They represent the final portion of Italy's fleet that was able to sail when ordered to allied ports. They include destroyers, corvettes and sub-chasers.

His ships have already struck back at the Germans and have sunk nine enemy craft.

[This report did not make clear whether these 41 ships were in addition to totals previously announced by the allies. Previous totals accounted for 5 battleships, 9 cruisers, 27 destroyers, and 25 submarines in allied hands as well as smaller vessels. Twenty-two Italian ships went to Turkish ports. No previous figures have been given on any ships which have arrived at any United States Mediterranean base.]

In an exclusive statement to the Associated Press Adm. Pollone told the story of how he had been in Rome on Sept. 7 and there received orders from his government to return to Spezia and take command of a large squadron of destroyers and other craft bound to the port of Maddalena, Sardinia.

Five Scuttled in Drydock.

Early on the morning of Sept. 9 five warships in drydock were scuttled. All those that were in commission had left Spezia harbor by 10 a. m. It was only a few minutes later that the Germans, who had blocked all roads leading to the Spezia naval base the previous night, breezed into the city and took over the port. Later in the day two small motor launches belonging to the admiral's unit escaped.

I went aboard one of these 36 foot launches which had come all the way from Spezia alone looking for their admiral. Commanded by Petty Officer Joseph Cacucci, the small craft slipped out of Spezia dodging machine gun fire from the breakwater. The navigator of one of these craft was wounded as bullets went clear thru flimsy wooden boats. With no maps, with little food—only enough for two days—they found their way from Spezia to this base.

Ordered to Change Course.

Adm. Pollone continued to tell of how, proceeding to Maddalena, he received orders to change course and proceed to Porto Ferraio, on the Isle of Elba, since Maddalena had been occupied by the German army. After a day and a half at Elba they received orders to proceed to this American base. He explained that since Rome was directing the Italian navy into allied ports, many ships were scattered and, while much of Italy's fleet sailed into Malta with the British, it was more difficult to make runs from Genoa, Spezia, Elba and Bastia, Corsica.

Was Not a Surrender.

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—Colonial Secretary Cranborne told the house of lords today that the Italian fleet did not surrender to the allies but "moved to designated points under the terms of the armistice."

His assertion caused surprise since previously the admiralty, in a message to Adm. Andrew Browne Cunningham, Mediterranean commander in chief, said "on the occasion of the surrender of the Italian battle fleet their lordships send . . . their warmest congratulations."

GERMANS' FIRE PENS UP YANKS FOR 27 HOURS

Heroic Foxhole Stand of 2 Detachments Told.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Sept. 21 [Delayed]. — American units are moving up today for a long pull into the hills beyond the Salerno-Battipaglia-Eboli line. As I watched them come on German big guns still were cracking in the area, but now it was mostly a counter-battery fire instead of the powerful offensive shelling by which the enemy tried to pin down our forces when he commanded the high ground and we were in the low lands.

The American infantry poured thru the sloping forests and the artillery toiled up the dusty, rutted trails. The bridges along the way had been blown up by the Germans, and there were other demolitions and extensive mine fields. We found a store of more than 2,000 mines which the foes hadn't had time to plant in the earth.

Hurl Shells at Lone Men.

In the battle of the plains below Battipaglia, the Germans used every tactic they could. In addition to concentrated 88 mm. fire, mortar pounding, and hours of rifle and machine gun fire, they attempted to overrun one of our infantry lines by sending 60,000 pound tanks across the foxholes and slit trenches. They hurled shells at even lone American soldiers, deciding to use up their ammunition rather than tote it on withdrawal.

A heroic foxhole stand came four miles south of Battipaglia. There two small infantry detachments deployed east and west of a railroad track, with the men eight yards away. During one period of 27 hours the enemy fire was so intensive they could not move. Another time, when they did get above ground, they were in a rifle battle for 16 consecutive hours.

Staff Sgt. Jack Bloomer, a mild looking youth from Ardmore, Okla., who wears glasses, leaped from a trench with a machine gun and straddled the tracks. He poured streams of bullets into the advancing Germans and his comrades, in foxholes, gave supporting fire. The Germans broke in an utter rout. When the melee was over 32 of them lay dead along the tracks.

Illinoisans Prove Heroes.

During the battle, a medical unit, led by 1st Lt. Leon Fill from Detroit, Mich., who was a resident physician at Belmont hospital in Chcago last year, had the assignment of recovering some of our wounded from the hill top.

Some of his men were Pvt. 1st Class Henry Hofbauer of 1606 North Spaulding avenue, Chicago; Pvt. 1st Class Clarence Grimm of Crete, Ill., and Pvt. 1st Class Morris Hanson of Hanska, Minn. They bore back two wounded under shell fire.

Maj. Theodore Klein of Jackson Heights, Long Island, N. Y., a one time Chicago radio executive, told me some Germans were coming in to surrender now.

"They say they regard Hitler as a mad man for continuing the war," the major recounted. "But we can't count on all the Germans feeling that way. We can't pull our punches. Some of these prisoners said they'd like to go back to Germany and hang Hitler. It's a good idea, but we can't furnish the transportation."

Germans Pushed Farther Back in Russian Offensive

U. S. FACES GRIM FIGHTING AHEAD: GEN. MARSHALL

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—Gen. George C. Marshall asserted tonight at a war bond rally that "we face grim months of fighting on all fronts all over the globe" and admonished the nation against being lulled by initial successes "into a false sense of easy victory."

The present war, Marshall said, surpasses any in history in the wastage of military equipment.

"No previous war," he said, "has approached such requirements as the present awful struggle. Tanks, jeeps, trucks, airplanes, and artillery are inevitably destroyed by the hundreds on the battle field, even when the going is good.

"So far we have been extraordinarily fortunate, but even so the losses present a serious problem. The weapons and equipment must be replaced immediately without delay, if the advance is to continue and if we are to give the soldiers who depend on these weapons a fair break on the battle field.

"There will be no end to these requirements for weapons until the last battle is victoriously completed."

ELMHURST PILOT HELPS RIP NAZIS IN SALERNO AREA

A UNITED STATES FIGHTER BASE IN ITALY, Sept. 21 [Delayed]—(AP).—The Yankee fighter-bombers, whose strafing is forcing the Germans to abandon day movement of road convoys, took the pressure off the American doughboys today by smashing a Nazi tank and infantry counter-attack forming northwest of Salerno.

Flying on this attack were Lieutenants Kenneth O. Chilstrom of Elmhurst, Ill., and William H. Libbert of Newburgh, Ind.

Lt. Eugene Santala of Hibbing, Minn., who led one unit of the A-36 Invaders on the assault, said: "We dropped down on the Germans and hit an olive grove in which they were lining up tanks and strafed everything, including a concentration of trucks and infantry moving along a road. We were able to lay a lot in that olive grove. It blew up with a lot of dust and noise and there was so much stuff flying thru the air you couldn't see the ground. After that attack the Germans had to pull back."

Allied Raids Halt French School Opening: Nazis

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—A Berlin propaganda broadcast said today that the beginning of a new school term in France has been postponed until the end of October by the French ministry of education "as a result of Anglo-American air attacks on the French civilian population."

ROME'S LEADERS BETRAYED HER TO NAZIS, REPORT

Generals Absent During Fighting for City.

ON THE SWISS-ITALIAN FRONTIER, Sept. 23 (AP).—Rome was betrayed into German hands almost without a fight by "generals unwilling to resist and traitorous high officials," a Milan dispatch to the newspaper Libera Stampa at Lugano said tonight.

The Milan account of the events said:

The problem of resisting the Nazis was not military but political. Rome had arms. Fifteen days before the armistice on Sept. 8 three army corps totaling about 180,000 men had been concentrated about Rome for defense in case of an allied landing in central Italy.

Generals Never Appeared.

A week before the armistice plans for defending the city had been drawn and included five defense zones each under a general. The generals never appeared at the scene of fighting and the plans remained on paper.

The day after the announcement of the armistice it was learned that Italian military headquarters in Rome had been dissolved and that Premier Pietro Badoglio had left the city. Fighting broke out immediately but it was isolated, altho 1,400 Italian grenadiers were killed.

Fascists Fire on Italians.

The Fascists also took a hand in the deliverance of Rome to the Nazis. Blackshirted Fascists sided with the Germans and fired on Italian troops.

The Milan dispatch said there were similar occurrences at Turin, Genoa, Milan, and Bologna. In each instance a relatively small German force was aided in defeating Italian troops by "commanders who sabotaged and high officials who betrayed."

SOCIAL DISEASE RISE DANGEROUS, BRITISH WARNED

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—The health of the average Briton is holding up remarkably well despite the rigors of four years of war, Minister of Health Ernest Brown said today, but he warned that increases last year in venereal diseases and tuberculosis-constituted "danger spots."

The total incidence of infectious disease was less by nearly 30 per cent last year, Brown said. Diphtheria figures were the lowest in 19 years, but scarlet fever showed a substantial increase.

Brown's report also showed that the illegitimacy rate in Britain rose from 42 a thousand in 1939 to 54 a thousand in 1942.

REPORTS SCOUTS WILL INCREASE WORK ON FARMS

The Boy Scouts of America have contributed more than 100 million man hours of agricultural labor, but they have just begun to work, Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, chief Scout executive, said here yesterday before starting back to New York after a regional Scout conference. Dr. Fretwell said the boys are entering the autumn picking season with undiminished vigor.

They have picked 1,250,000 barrels of potatoes, he said, or one barrel for every Scout in the nation, and have plucked millions of pounds of fruits and vegetables expressly for the army and navy under a nationwide program of "farm camps." In certain parts of the country funds have been set aside by the government for the Scouts working for the department of agriculture and the war food administration, he said.

In addition, the boys are serving as dispatch bearers for the office of war information.

FASCIST ITALIAN RULE WILL HAVE A GERMAN SEAT

Berlin Reveals Plan to Avoid War Hazards.

New York, Sept. 23 (AP).—The seat of the "new Republican Fascist government" set up under the premiership of Benito Mussolini is to be established temporarily in southern Germany because of war hazards in Italian territory, the Berlin radio said tonight.

"It would be unwise and contrary to the national interests," said the broadcast, recorded by the federal communications commission, "if the new government of Mussolini were to be established in Italian territory, namely in regions where the carrying on of war operations and enemy air raids would interfere with its normal functioning."

A new cabinet was announced earlier in Berlin transmissions. Mussolini is to be his own foreign minister, it was said. Marshal Rudolfo Graziana, one of the Italian army's highest ranking officers, was identified as minister of defense.

Mussolini Has Operation.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 23.—Benito Mussolini has undergone an operation at a Vienna clinic for a long standing complaint of tumor of the liver, according to information which reached Stockholm diplomatic circles today.

Reject Humbert's Bid.

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—The Berlin radio said today that Crown Prince Humbert of Italy had contacted the German government for support of his ascension to the throne "after King Victor Emmanuel's abdication" and added that the Nazi reply "was absolutely negative."

In a Rome dispatch the radio also said that Marshal Rodolfo Graziani had become minister of defense in "the new fascist government" headed by Benito Mussolini as premier and foreign minister.

Guido Buffarini, former undersecretary of the interior, has been named interior minister, and former undersecretary of finance Domenico Pellegrini was named finance minister, the broadcast added.

House Approves Increase in War Housing Loans

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—A bill increasing by $400,000,000 the federal housing authority's fund for insurance of loans for housing in war production areas was passed by the house today and sent to the senate. The measure extends the life of the insurance operations from July 1, 1944, to July 1, 1945, and increases the authorization of insurance for war housing loans from $1,200,000,000 to $1,600,000,000.

LATIN AMERICAN NATIONS FLOOD U. S. WITH LIQUOR

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—Liquor is flowing into this country at an unprecedented rate, a treasury report disclosed today, and importers said the current whisky shortage is proving a bonanza to Latin American countries.

During August such imports, reflected by sales of internal revenue stamps, reached a record high of 3,785,000 gallons, contrasted to 967,000 gallons in the corresponding month a year ago and a pre-war monthly average of less than 1,000,000 gallons.

The report said the stamp sales covered 1,453,000 gallons from Puerto Rico alone, compared with 151,000 gallons a year ago.

Importers declared the bulk of shipments in recent months consisted of Mexican and Cuban rum and gin, together with some tequila and a quantity of neutral spirits for use in blending dwindling stocks of American whisky.

Rail Cars in Europe.

Mr. Epstein's company in 1931 had from 3,500 to 4,000 railway cars in Germany, France, Belgium, Poland, Jugo-Slavia, Austria, and Rumania. The last company report said its French interests were charged off in 1940. It also said the company formerly held a controling interest in Societe Generale Europeene de Moyens de Transport, S.A. of Switzerland, which in turn had a stock interest in a German company.

By way of illustrating the ramifications of the internationalist setup, a director of the Epstein company, Lewis L. Strauss, is with Kuhn, Loeb and company, one of the largest of the international banking firms.

Co-chairman of the advisory committee of the morale department is Dr. James M. At that time he said he was a Socialist.

U. S. PLANS TO STEP UP FOOD PRODUCTION IN COUNTRIES ABROAD

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—The government is contemplating a sharply increased program of developing foreign food productive resources to help meet war and post-war rehabilitation needs.

As a move to expand the program, the office of war mobilization has prepared an executive order transfering agriculture department phases to the OEW. The order is now on President Roosevelt's desk, and officials at both agencies said today they expect it to be signed by this week-end.

Under the present administrative setup, the OEW has authority to recommend programs designed to encourage production of foods in foreign lands. But those programs cannot be put into operation without approval of the agriculture department, particularly the latter agency's Commodity Credit corporation.

Reports were circulated that the OEW would ask W. I. Myers of Cornell university to take over the program.

LT. COL. DAVIS HOME ON LEAVE FROM ENGLAND

Lt. Col. Loyal Davis, chief neurological consultant of the army medical corps, who has been stationed in England for the last year, was in Chicago yesterday on a brief leave. He left last evening for Washington, D. C., where he will report on his work in organizing the neuro-surgical service for troops in the British Isles. Dr. Davis, whose home is at 199 Lake Shore drive, was chairman of the division of surgery in the Northwestern university medical school until he entered the army. He served as a lieutenant in the medical corps during the first world war.

U. S. OFFERS 43 NATIONS GLOBAL RELIEF SCHEME

Plan Called Blueprint for a Superstate.

ministration then backed down and modified the plan to the satisfaction of Vandenberg by limiting national obligation to the appropriation of funds authorized by a majority vote of both houses.

According to Vandenberg's view, the procedure agreed on firmly establishes the precedent that the country can be taken into no form of international coöperation without the consent of congress thru a majority vote of both houses on appropriations and a two-thirds vote of the senate on treaty obligations.

Plan to Sign in November.

The governments to which the agreement was submitted today already have approved it informally. It is planned to hold the ceremony of signature in the White House early in November. Following this it must go to congress. Soon thereafter the first meeting of the organization attended by representatives of the 44 nations constituting its membership will be held "some place outside of Washington," Mr. Hull said.

The general scheme of organization of the league of nations, the serviceable parts of which Mr. Churchill thought might well be retained in any post-war organization to preserve peace, is adopted for the agency, entitled in the agreement the "united nations relief and rehabilitation administration." As in the case of the league there is to be a council, comprising all the member nations, and a central committee, the members of which will be the United States, Great Britain, Russia, and China.

Duties Are Outlined.

The relief administration is authorized to acquire, hold and convey property, make contracts, undertake obligations, manage undertakings, and "perform any legal act appropriate to its objects and purposes." Its purpose is described as the "relief of victims of war in any area under the control of any of the united nations thru the provision of food, fuel, clothing, shelter and other basic necessities, medical, and other essential services," the production and transportation of relief articles. Its operations in the territory of a member government are to be with the consent of that government.

The administration also is to formulate measures for individual or joint action of the member governments to coördinate purchasing, shipping, and procurement to achieve equitable distribution of supplies.

A vast field of activity in international government is opened to the agency in a further provision of the agreement that the administration is authorized to recommend individual or joint action "with respect to such related matters, arising out of its experience in planning and performing the work of relief and rehabilitation, as may be proposed by any of the member governments."

Lehman Slated as Boss.

Relief is to be administered by the central committee, subject to review by the council. There is to be a director general of the administration for which position Herbert Lehman, former governor of New York now heading United States relief activities, is said to be slated.

As suggested by Churchill for the post-war peace agency, there is to be a committee of the council for Europe, consisting of the European members and other governments directly concerned with European relief, which lets in the United States. Likewise, as also proposed by Churchill, there is to be a committee for the far east consisting of governments with territories in that region, of which the United States is to be a member. These committees are to recommend relief measures pertaining to their areas.

There are to be other standing committees on nutrition, health, agriculture, transport, repatriation, and finance.

CONGRESS HEARS DOUBTS ON NEED TO DRAFT DADS

675,000 U.S. Aids Held Eligible for War.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—The advisability of drafting fathers until the need for them is clearly shown was questioned today at public hearings of committees of both the house and the senate.

Bernard M. Baruch, advisor to Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, advised the senate military affairs committee at yesterday's session to "get rid of" Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey if Hershey cannot get draft dodgers out of bullet proof war jobs.

At the same time, demand was made before the house military affairs committee that the Roosevelt administration stop protecting single men and childless married men of draft age in government agencies while calling for the draft of fathers.

Wheeler Leads Fight.

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] led the fight on the fathers' draft at the senate committee's public hearing. He called upon the draft advocates to answer three questions before any father is drafted:

1—How many men are actually needed? 2—Have all available single men and married non-fathers been exhausted? and 3—Is the maximum service being obtained from men already in military service?

Sen. Wheeler read to the committee letters from labor unions complaining that sons and relatives of high corporation officials have been griven draft-proof foremen's jobs, that corporation officials use men deferred for war industry to work at the officials' homes, and that deferment is being granted men working as clerks and typists.

Marshall Again Upheld.

One of the letters Wheeler read charged that favored single men had been given new titles for their jobs shortly before the war man power commission declared their jobs deferrable. This letter was signed "Draft dodgers' investigating committee of Chevrolet local 659, United Automobile Workers" of Flint, Mich., and bore the names of William Calhoun as chairman, and the other members of the committee.

Baruch, in his testimony, repeated his advice of yesterday to give Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, all the men he wants. Gen. Marshall has said he needs the fathers.

Hershey was present when Baruch advised the committee to get rid of the draft director unless he can pry draft dodgers out of deferred positions. Hershey had been quoted as saying "social indignation" could be all that would move some of them.

Admits Overproduction.

Baruch agreed that there is overproduction of some of the implements of war when Sen. Wheeler said that better use of man power would lessen man power needs. Baruch said that tanks are being overproduced, as are small arms.

Rep. Forest A. Harness [R., Ind.] estimated at the house subcommittee public hearing that 675,000 draft age single men and childless married men are holding civilian jobs in government war agencies.

H. Ralph Burton, counsel for the military affairs committee, said that deferments of government workers have increased by 27,608 since May 15, in the face of demands that government agencies stop harboring draft dodgers as essential employes.

Picture of Draft Dodging.

The picture of draft dodgers in government service, shielded by agency chiefs who refuse to permit the army and navy to take their draft eligible men, was painted at a meeting of the subcommittee headed by Rep. John M. Costello [D., Cal.], which is investigating man power problems. The subcommittee was told that:

1. Paul V. McNutt, man power commissioner who ordered the fathers' draft, has 1,086 single men and 1,144 childless married men of draft age in the federal security agency, of which he is administrator.

2. Secretary Harold L. Ickes' department of the interior has shown little interest in conforming its program to the war program, despite questions as to the military necessity of such projects as the map making of its geological survey. The department is seeking deferment of 6,000 so-called key men.

OWI Chief Criticized.

3. Elmer Davis' office of war information has failed to give any clear reason why many of the men it wishes to defer are irreplaceable.

4. Local draft boards granted deferment last month to 2,013 men for whom no deferment had been asked by the government.

Most of the information was supplied by Robert H. Barnett and Col. E. A. Fitzpatrick. Barnett is chairman and Fitzpatrick a member of the war man power review committee, established last March to pass on government agencies' requests for deferment of key men.

Pay Rolls Studied.

Rep. Harness obtained his estimate of the draft eligible men on government pay rolls from a projection of statistics supplied for more than half the government agencies by the selective service officials.

Informed that a dozen government agencies are making maps, among them the department of justice, and that deferments are given map makers, Harness asked about the war department. It also makes maps, according to Barnett, who added:

"The war department told us that if we inducted any of its map makers it would take them right back in uniform."

"Wouldn't that be a good thing," demanded Harness.

GEORGE KOWACICH.

George Kowacich, 23 years old, a seaman 1st class stationed at Abbott hall on Northwestern university's Chicago campus, obtained a divorce yesterday when he told Judge Robert J. Dunne in Circuit court that his wife married him in order to get his monthly pay allotment.

"It happened in Napoleon, O., where she lived," he said. "Four companions and I dated five girls one night and when I woke up the next morning there was this girl and we had been married. She said she just wanted to get my allotment. Then she left and I've been paying ever since. That was in April, 1941."

Judge Dunne said the divorce would terminate the allotments. Kowacich, whose home is in Warren, O., said the girl was Jane Sincere and that her home was in Napoleon.

CURRAN, IN 1-A, DUE BACK TODAY AFTER SEA TRIP

New York, Sept. 23 [Special].—Joseph Curran, president of the communist ridden National Maritime union [CIO], who was recently reclassified by a selective service appeals board and put in 1-A, will arrive in New York tomorrow afternoon from Boston, his secretary, Margaret Heller, said today. He has been on a trip at sea, which he took without notifying his draft board.

Curran shipped as a boatswain four weeks ago, avowedly to inspect conditions of seamen in Britain, Africa and Russia. The merchant vessel on which he served as a seaman is now docked in Boston harbor.

Local board No. 18, of Manhattan, announced today that notice had been sent Curran on his new classification. The Rev. Dr. Francis K. Shepherd, chairman of the board, said the union had presented "no new evidence" since the 1-A classification, which makes him available for combat service.

Curran will be 38 years old on March 1, 1944.

'3 MUSKETEERS' OF AIR WARFARE IN PACIFIC HOME

One Will Wed with Pals in Attendance.

A modern version of Dumas' "Three Musketeers" was unfolded yesterday as three marine corps radio gunners who have fought side by side thru four major battles in the South Pacific, gathered in Chicago to relate their experiences. The three men were attached to a dive bomber squadron.

The occasion for the reunion is the marriage on Saturday of one of the men, Staff Sgt. Norman Breen, 20 years old, of 8032 Merrill avenue, who will wed Miss Mary Ann Sullivan, 20, of 7817 Cornell avenue. His two pals, Staff Sgt. Robert O'Connor, 23, of 7208 Van Buren street, Hammond, and Sgt. Orville Simmons, 19, of Glenwood, Ia., will be in the wedding party.

Meet at Training Base.

The three enlisted shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor and met during their training at a marine base. They were assigned to the same bombing group, which was sent overseas immediately after its formation and arrived in the Guadalcanal area in time to plunge into the thickest of the fighting for that island. The planes carrying Breen, O'Connor, and Simmons were among the first to land on Henderson field after its capture.

Following the capture of Guadalcanal the three stepped right into the hot fighting for Munda, Bougainville, and Savo, plus many missions over Jap land installations and naval convoys.

Each of the three credited the others with saving his life on innumerable occasions. O'Connor, in the leading plane on a bombing mission against Jap shipping, told how his plane scored a direct hit on a cruiser which exploded and sank in 15 seconds.

Flying Pals Save Them.

"There was such an explosion," he said, "that we were afraid that our plane would burn. We turned to run and flew smack into four zero fighters. I tried to shoot at them, but my guns were jammed. I signaled to Breen in the next plane and he dove in on them, shooting like mad, and drove the four away. They would have got us if he hadn't been around." Breen later was injured by anti-aircraft shrapnel.

Simmons, who holds the air medal for downing a Zero plus several probables spent seven days in the ocean after his plane was hit by a 20 mm. Jap shell and crashed. He finally landed on an uninhabited island just after the Japs had left.

Fortress Pilot Captive of Nazis, Parents Told

Lt. Ralph P. Miller, 26 years old, pilot on a Flying Fortress, the "Lady Liberty," who was reported missing in action over Germany several weeks ago, is a prisoner in a German camp, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Miller, 335 West Marquette road, were informed yesterday. Lt. Miller was stationed with a bombing group in England. He attended college at Oklahoma City university and went overseas last April.

KNIFE SLAYING SUSPECT ENTERS INNOCENT PLEA

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23 (AP).—Emyrs Richards, 51 year old war plant worker charged with the knife slaying of his stepson's 18 year old bride, Mary Gallian, pleaded innocent when arraigned in Recorder's court today. He was held without bond for examination Oct. 7.

Richards has confessed that he killed Mrs. Gallian in a family quarrel, Prosecutor William E. Dowling said.

Mrs. Gallian's body was found Monday in the basement at the home of Richards' estranged wife, with whom she had been living during the absence of her soldier husband, 2d Lt. James F. Gallian. Richards is charged with first degree murder.

ASKS NEW DEAL 'BLANK CHECK' LAWS BE VOIDED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Rep. Clare Hoffman [R., Mich.] today advocated the repeal of all New Deal legislation that has delegated congressional authority to the President and the burocrats "so that congress can wipe the slate clean and assume its responsibilities." Hoffman told the house:

"We should recapture all unexpended money, especially the 'blank check funds' that Harry Hopkins and others are throwing around. We should abolish the office of price administration and start with a new agency which will obey the policies laid down by congress."

Meanwhile, Rep. Lyle H. Boren [D., Okla.] introduced a bill to abolish the Commodity Credit corporation, which, he charged, is "ruining American farmers because of its ignorance of agriculture production problems and particularly the live stock industry."

SEEK WOMEN CHECK BOUNCERS.

Two young women who cashed two worthless checks totaling $62 in his store were sought yesterday on complaint of Bernard Urbanski, 4034 Milwaukee avenue.

SCHENLEY DISTILLERS CORP., NEW YORK

Plain Words!

Let's have words—you and I. Let them be plain simple words; let them be words that express our feelings and our understanding. I think it was Talleyrand who said, "A diplomat uses words to conceal his thoughts." Let ours be unconcealed. We're no diplomats—we're "Mr. Jones," and our kids are in the Army—NOW.

Oh, yes—we need diplomats. And we need statesmen and industrial leaders and financiers and analysts. And a few seers and sages don't do too much harm. But, again—let's have our own plain words, you and I. For instance: I'm thinking of the Third War Loan Drive that's going on—NOW! So let's talk about the word—"NOW" instead of the word "postwar."

We need that money—NOW—today. My kids and yours need it—to give them a fair chance for survival—against the most intensively trained and equipped professional armies the world has ever known. We don't deserve those kids and what they're fighting for if we let them down—NOW!

Let our estimable statesmen and industrial leaders go on planning for the postwar period—planning to take care of the boys after the war. Let's you and I help these lads win the war—NOW! Let's get them home first!

And here's another word—"defense." Who invented that word for our present status? There's a word that's just got to be changed! "Offense" is the word—NOW! Who ever won a war on the defensive? We have no defense plants. They're offense plants; and the dollars that you and I are lending, not giving, keep these plants going day and night making the weapons that our kids need to keep them from fighting with their bare hands!

Here, then, are some words: NOW—today—bring 'em back alive—offense—lick hell out of 'em. Good words and we mean them. But they're all just a lot of hooey unless we make them LIVE; unless we punctuate them with action—and here's the action—

WILLKIE JEERED IN HOUSE; NONE SPEAKS FOR HIM

Both Sides Hail Blast at 'Wall St. Boy.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Republicans and Democrats in the house greeted with applause today a speech by Rep. John E. Rankin [D., Miss.] ridiculing the 1944 Presidential aspirations of Wendell L. Willkie, whom Rankin termed the "barefoot boy from Wall street."

Rankin regaled both sides of the chamber by reading excerpts from full page newspaper advertisments seeking to portray Willkie as "another Lincoln" and ballyhooing him as the Republican Presidential nominee for 1944. When the Mississippi Democrat finished his 20 minute address denouncing Willkie members of both parties applauded and none rose to defend the defeated 1940 candidate.

Scene Without Precedent.

Congressmen said this tacit expression of no confidence by the Republicans was virtually without precedent for one who was "leader" of the Republican party only three years ago.

Rankin opened his address by exhibiting to the house one of the full page Willkie ads.

"I do not know whether the world is prepared for this second coming of Lincoln or not," Rankin remarked, "but I do not believe that even an old guard Republican is going to be deceived by the makeup, no matter how much makeup and paraphernalia Mr. Willkie puts on.

"Some people might have thought it was the second coming of Lincoln in 1940 until I. W. W.—I, Wendell Willkie—opened his mouth and people heard him pronounce 'America.'" You Republicans have been stung once, and while you might get stung again by the same hornet, I seriously doubt you will be deceived by his second appearance.

Who Is Paying? He Asks.

"This advertisement that he is having published widespread refers to an article by him in Look magazine. I do not know who is paying for these ads. I am being assured on every hand by distinguished gentlemen in the house that the Republicans are not paying for them, and I certainly want to assure you that the Democrats are not, altho we know nothing that would contribute more to our success than to have you renominate him again in 1944 as you did in 1940."

Referring to the article in Look, Rankin said he was "amused to find Willkie calling himself a 'liberal' after he helped plunder the power consumers of the country, as head of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation.

"Mr. Willkie says in his article that the Democrats are torn by conflicting forces," Rankin continued. "It seems to me that the Republican party has also been torn, and apparently Willkie got in thru the rent."

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 23 (AP).—Luigi Stabile today was sentenced to death for the murder 27 years ago of his brother-in-law, Carmeno Festa. Festa's skeleton and clothing were unearthed recently under a house where the missing man had worked for Stabile until the time of his disappearance.

Wieboldt Warehouse Fire Causes Damage of $20,000

Damage estimated at between $20,000 and $25,000 was caused by a fire at the warehouse of the Wieboldt store, 822 Davis street, Evanston, yesterday. The warehouse is back of the retail store.

Yankee Heroes of the Air

Chicagoan Saves Fort.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—Second Lt. James B. Stapleton of 116 Pine avenue, Chicago, was copilot of a Flying Fortress which made its bomb run over a target in Germany despite an attack by 150 enemy fighters, the war department announced today.

2d Lt. James B. Stapleton.

When Stapleton's Fort, along with the rest of its formation, was jumped by the swarm of German planes, Nazi cannon fire snapped the rudder control cables and smashed the landing gear and the oxygen and interphone systems.

3 of Crew Leap Out.

A shell burst inside the plane and the craft tipped on one side, started slipping, and lost altitude rapidly.

Three crew members in the midsection of the plane thought it was too badly damaged to stay aloft. They asked for instructions over the interphone system, but could get no answer because the communications apparatus was shot away. So they bailed out.

Bag 3 Nazis on Way Home.

As the Fort limped home, the remaining crew members shot down three enemy planes, altho their oxygen supply was low and the plane was running out of gas. Stapleton and the pilot made a belly landing at the first English base they sighted because the landing gear could not be lowered.

A gunner on the plane was Technical Sgt. Guy L. Tice of Red Granite, Wis.

Crash—with Bombs.

AT A U. S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, Sept. 23 (AP).—Six crewmen rode a Flying Fortress to a belly landing with two tons of bombs recently because one of them found, when ordered to jump from the flaming plane, that his parachute had been ruined by enemy shells.

Four men had left the ship—"Mister Five by Five"—on the order of the pilot, Capt. K. H. Harrison of Lombard, Ill., when Sgt. James H. Curtis of Redwood Falls, Minn., shouted that he could not go because his parachute was burned.

Nazi fighters had knocked the Fortress out of formation and set it afire. The first cannon attack had caused an explosion behind the pilot's seat, knocked out the oxygen system, and crippled the top turret guns.

Blinded by Smoke.

"Because of the lack of oxygen and because we were blinded by smoke, we had to get down in a hurry," said Lt. David H. Turner, the co-pilot, of De Ridder, La.

"While I stamped and beat out the flames," said Turner, "Harrison was getting 'downstairs' as quickly as he could. Those fighters were chipping us to pieces and it looked hopeless, so Harrison gave orders to jump."

Chicagoan on Plane.

Four men jumped before Curtis discovered his chute was useless.

"We sure couldn't leave Curtis in the ship, so Harrison decided to land her, bombs and all," said Turner. "And what a landing he made! Not one of us was hurt."

Those who rode the ship down included Sgt. Richard H. Lewis of 4136 North Tripp avenue, Chicago, a gunner.

Torpedoing of U. S. Ship in Indian Ocean Revealed

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—The navy announced today the torpedoing of a medium-sized United States merchant vessel by an enemy submarine in the Indian ocean in mid-June. Survivors have been landed at Key West, Fla.

AT A U. S. ARMY BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, Sept. 23 (AP).—Lt. Jesse Gonman, a former farmer of Verona, Ill., shot down a Nazi fighter—his first—during a daylight raid by 8th air force Thunderbolts over France yesterday.

2 CARDS REVIVE MOTHER'S HOPE THAT SON LIVES

When Edward T. Bryson, a seaman in the merchant marine, was reported missing in the Atlantic last June 10, his mother, Mrs. Loretta Bryson, 4664 Winthrop avenue, went to New York to ask the steamship line that employed him if there was any hope. "There is no hope," she was told. Later Mrs. Bryson received her son's life insurance, but she did not give up hope.

Edward T. Bryson.

Yesterday two postcards, dated Sept. 19, arrived from her son. They were postmarked Santa Cruz and presumably were mailed in one of the South American towns bearing that name.

One of the cards was received by Harry Hoffman, manager of the L. B. Harris company, a loop real estate firm where Bryson formerly was employed. Hoffman said he thought the cards indicated Bryson was in a hospital.

FORCED TO HELP TOUHY IN BREAK, GUARD TESTIFIES

Glenn T. Harris, a guard in the Stateville prison, told yesterday in Circuit court at Joliet of being overpowered by convicts in the prison last Oct. 9, two weeks after he became a guard, and of being forced to help Roger Touhy and six other inmates erect 40 foot ladders against the west wall for their escape.

Touhy, serving 99 years for the 1933 kidnaping of John Factor, and Matthew Nelson and William Stewart, each serving two 20 year terms for robbery, are on trial for assisting Edward Darlak in the escape. Conviction would make them liable to Darlak's term of 199 years for murder.

Harris, the first guard physically involved in the break to testify, said Touhy slugged William Dahler, machine shop foreman, with an automatic pistol and fired four shots, one of which grazed Herman Kross, tower guard, on the temple.

A similar story was told by G. R. Cotter, guard lieutenant, who identified Nelson and Stewart as among the participants in the break. Cotter also mentioned his puzzlement over Kross' failure to return Touhy's fire, an omission for which the guard lost his job.

AGILE ENGINEERS AND TINKER TOYS 'SAVE' TROOPERS

Span Cumberland River with Pontoon Bridge.

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

With the 2d Army in Tennessee, Sept. 23.—Forty-five thousand men in the "Red" army which is fighting an equal "Blue" force in maneuvers here, today withdrew across the Cumberland river, thanks to the agility with which pontoon bridge engineers handle what Maj. J. A. Hughes calls their overgrown set of million dollar tinker toys.

The river crossing, ending a withdrawal which began 40 miles south Monday, completed the second phase of the two month mock warfare. The third phase will begin Monday.

A battalion of engineers, of which Maj. John J. Petro, Newark, N. J., is commander and Maj. Hughes, former electrical engineer at Terre Haute, Ind., is executive officer, began throwing a 700 foot pontoon bridge across the Cumberland Tuesday night and completed the job in mid-morning yesterday.

Second Bridge a Secret.

Another battalion working 20 miles west erected a second bridge but since it is of new experimental design, the army says nothing of it.

Maj. Petro and Maj. Hughes began moving their battalion of about 300 men and 127 trucks from a bivouac area at dusk Tuesday.

Shortly before 9 o'clock, the first trucks arrived at the bridge site. Muscle men in the engineer corps unloaded two bulldozers to cut underbrush, clear trees, and cut bridge approaches. Meanwhile two heavy derricks, mounted on trucks, began unloading flatbottomed aluminum boats, about 25 feet long, 6 feet wide, and 4 feet deep, which serve as the pontoons.

As the pontoons were slid into the water men connected them two at a time with heavy timbers. Clamps in the pontoons fit into bands around the timbers, expediting assembly. Not a bolt or nail goes into the bridge. The pieces fit together like, as Maj. Hughes says, tinker toys, as powerful boats push the pontoons into place.

Fog Increases in Daylight.

Thru the night the men sweated, carrying the 150 tons of planking and timbers and metal used in the bridge. Near dawn, the men knocked off in groups to eat cantaloupe, cereal, and eggs.

As day came, fog became an aid.

"No enemy plane will interrupt us today," Maj. Hughes said. However, anti-aircraft crews manned their guns and scout patrols ringed the bridgeheads to prevent surprise attacks.

Shortly before 9 a. m. pontoons from the two banks met in midstream. Maj. Petro jumped the gap. "Run get a golden spike," one sergeant called to another. Less than an hour later a heavy tractor roared across the span. Pontoons sank a foot as it passed over.

Three Men Are "Injured."

"We're ready for them now," said Maj. Petro. He explained that seven or eight tanks cross at once so the whole bridge is depressed equally. If heavy vehicles cross the bridge widely separated, the bridge becomes wavey and sometimes timbers snapped.

An umpire grabbed three men and put tickets on them, indicating they were "injured." Maj. Petro, operating understrength, protested.

"Nobody got hurt, except for a few banged fingers," he said. "You can't take them." But the umpire said the army always considered 1 per cent of the men injured on bridge jobs, and since no one was hurt during the night, he put tags on three uninjured men, requiring them to go to the hospital. "The medics need practice, too," he said.

19 MILLION TON SHIP GOAL TO BE MET, SAYS LAND

New York, Sept. 23 (AP).—Adm. Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, expressed confidence today that the 1943 shipbuilding goal of 19 million deadweight tons—an increase of 140 per cent over last year—would be met despite a gain of only 50 per cent in labor.

"We are producing a little better than five ships a day," Adm. Land told the convention of the CIO Marine and Shipbuilding Workers union. "We must increase that production by at least 20 per cent, otherwise we will have no margin of safety to insure the maintenance of our schedule."

Declaring that the nation has put out "more than 1,300 ships so far this year," Land said "we confidently expect to produce more than the 19 million deadweight tons we have scheduled."

THE QUESTION.

What gesture have you appreciated most during your stay in the hospital?

WHERE ASKED.

Cook County hospital.

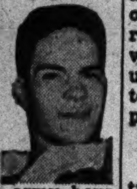
THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. Elmer Sattler, housewife, 4827 South Ridgeway avenue—One of my biggest worries when I first came to the hospital was about my elderly mother and my daughter at home. But friends and relatives have been caring for them and send me reports every day. It's a relief to know that all is well with them.

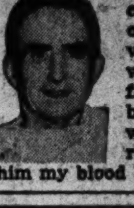
Mrs. A. M. Gargano, housewife, 2718 Flournoy street—My friends have been wonderful to me. The portable radio they brought up has been such a pleasant diversion. Another friend came every day to give me lessons in crocheting, a fascinating activity for me. For the first time I've had plenty of spare time.

Mrs. Rose Aleck, 2242 South Kedzie avenue—There's no thrill that equals the one I get when I see my soldier son marching down the hall toward my room. It makes me feel wonderful when he, in his fine uniform, wheels me in my chair to visit the other patients here in the hospital.

Marylyn Miller, student, 3602 South Halsted street—My sister started a nice little plan, as soon as she knew I'd have to be in the hospital for quite a while. She promised to mail me a card a day and now many of my friends from school are doing the same thing. I'm saving all of them.



Louis Nicholson, student, 6713 Eberhart avenue—Nothing pleases me as much as to have my friends come right up here and visit me. They're always in such fine spirits and I find it quite contagious. They tell me all the little things about the kids in our class and about all the army boys who come home.



Thomas J. Cary, war plant assembler, 1138 Felton court—Maybe I've been too sick to appreciate the general run of kindnesses. The favor that rates first with me was from the friend who gave me a blood transfusion. He was my uncle by marriage, but now I call him my blood brother.

CIO UNION HEAD IS ARRESTED IN TEXAS LAW TEST

Pelly, Tex., Sept. 23 (AP).—R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers and vice president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, tonight was arrested and charged with violating the Texas law which requires persons seeking members for a union to hold a license from the secretary of state.

Thomas posted a $400 bond before Justice of the Peace R. Zierlein.

Thomas was arrested by Harris County Deputy Sheriff W. B. Miller at the conclusion of an oil workers' rally sponsored by the Oil Workers' International union of the CIO.

NURSES REMIND LOOP CROWD OF DUTY TO YANKS

18,000 See Notables at Army Movie.

BY PAUL HEALY.

As a serious overtone to the three brisk and peppy army shows yesterday on State street, Lt. Mildred Baetz and Lt. Adele Bandy, two nurses who ministered to the casualties from Pearl Harbor and Midway, made this plea to the thousands packed around the stage:

"Those boys out there were the most grateful, most unselfish we ever cared for. They're all anxious to get back to their homes on the mainland. Buy bonds to help win the war and bring them back sooner."

The two appeared at the morning show at State and Madison streets to emphasize the need for enlistments in the women's army corps and the army nurses corps.

"Make State Street Jive."

"We're going to make State street jive a little," promised Lt. Charles G. Chan, an ex-announcer for the networks who acted as master of ceremonies. A cast of former professional entertainers now in uniform did just that.

At the conclusion of the show a mobile smoke generator, one of the hundreds of pieces of fighting equipment in State street's arsenal exhibit, spewed a harmless smoke screen over the platform as a final "curtain."

The afternoon show included the public induction of 100 aviation cadets at State and Adams streets.

Two Flyers Interviewed.

Lt. Chan interviewed Capt. Merle Else, veteran of 119 combat missions in a fighter plane in the Southwest Pacific, and Capt. Edward Hennessey, one of the first American pilots to bomb Germany.

The sale of E bonds in the third war loan drive is lagging so badly that a "clean up" canvass will start Monday, Irvin L. Porter, Cook county war finance chairman, said yesterday. One hundred thousand office of civilian defense workers are being instructed to follow up on families that could not be reached in the original canvass last week. Porter said the total sales up to Tuesday midnight amounted to $558,227,000 and that the daily pace is good.

82 Per Cent of Quota.

In Washington last night, the treasury announced that Illinois so far has subscribed 82 per cent of its quota. The treasury said sales yesterday brought the nation's total to $12,222,000,000. The goal is $15,000,000,000.

Ohio, with three of its principal cities — Cleveland, Columbus, and Cincinnati—already over their quotas, showed most promise of joining Maryland and Rhode Island in the 100 per cent plus column. Sales there were reported at 93 per cent. Maryland climbed to 116 per cent in the latest breakdown, with Rhode Island up to 106.

NOTABLES GOING TO ARMY MOVIE VIEWED BY 18,000

More than 18,000 persons gathered around the Chicago theater last night to see celebrities arriving for the local premiere of the motion picture, "This Is the Army." They saw generals and admirals, including Maj. H. S. Aurand of the 6th service command, and Rear Adm. John Downes of the 9th naval district. They also saw dozens of civilian dignitaries, including Mayor Kelly.

The bulk of the audience, however, was composed of employes of Chicago area war plants, business houses, and banks, and their price of admission was, individually, a contribution to the army emergency relief.

Every one of the theater's 4,850 seats was filled. The proceeds totaled $53,000. This was virtually twice the amount New York gave—$27,000—to see the premiere of the picture there. Detroit gave $42,000.

STEAL CANDY WORTH $160.

Nineteen cartons of candy, valued at $160, were stolen from the Williamson Candy company, 4701 Armitage avenue, it was reported to police yesterday.

STEVENS HOTEL WILL HOUSE 80 STUDENT NURSES

First guests of the reopened Stevens hotel will be 80 student nurses from Wesley hospital. Hotel officials announced yesterday rehabilitation of the 25th floor would be rushed to take care of the students on Sept. 27, some 40 days ahead of the 60 day reopening schedule.

Under arrangements completed yesterday with Wesley Memorial hospital, the students, who range from 18 to 20 years old and come from thruout the country, will have exclusive use of the floor under the supervision of two house mothers. They will live under the same curfew and "liberty" regulations which apply at the hospital and nurses' home.

John Burke, Stevens manager, said other rehabilitation work was progressing satisfactorily with every indication the general public opening of the hotel will take place on the scheduled Nov. 5 date.

BOY, 15, RECRUITS YOUTHS HIS AGE FOR WAR DRILL

Vernon Kaminski, 15 years old, 1043 North Winchester avenue, is looking forward to a long war. Altho he still has three years before entering service, he has begun training and is recruiting other boys for pre-army training.

Vernon and about 30 of his friends drill every Tuesday and Friday night in Pulaski park. All prospective recruits have been requested to report there at 7 o'clock on either of these evenings.

Vernon, who has given himself the rank of lieutenant, also has designed a uniform of royal blue with overseas cap and other military features, but that comes later, after the recruits have learned the rudiments of drill. He hopes eventually to make the organization city-wide.

NEW LEADERSHIP IS NEEDED.

The membership of the Republican party everywhere in the country is stronger in faith and determination than are the party's leading spokesmen in Washington. That is because the people know their own minds on national and international questions and have no hesitancy about expressing themselves. They want a sovereign United States and the preservation of the Republic. The official leaders of the party in congress are hesitant and timid. They may be of the same mind as the rank and file but, if so, they lack the courage to take a forthright stand.

The explanation may be found in recent history. In the years of Republican eclipse, in the decade of the '30s, Republican leadership in congress passed to men of the type of Sen. McNary and Rep. Martin. These men were selected because of their adroitness in politics. McNary's strength, if it can be called strength, lay in his ability to keep in the good graces of the New Dealers without actually joining them. He is an agreeable man, who could yield not only on details, as all politicians must, but on principle. His pliability may have been of service to his party at a time when an unyielding opposition might have been pulverized. At any rate, it served his own purpose because in exchange he got pasteboard opposition when he ran for reelection, an occasional crumb of patronage, and a good many millions of pork barrel appropriations besides.

Martin, the Republican leader in the house, is a stronger character, but perhaps because of his seaboard associations he is out of touch with the trend of thought among Republicans in the middle west, where Republicanism is strongest. It is a curious fact that tho the revival of the party began in the middle west and has reached its fullest development here the leadership of the party in congress has fallen to a man from Oregon and a man from Massachusetts.

Today the huge Democratic majorities in the congresses of a few years ago have been whittled down to the vanishing point. Now that the party is strong and growing stronger, now that the fight for the preservation of the Republic is approaching its crisis, there is no place for temporizers in the leadership. The need is for forthright and courageous men who will act in the knowledge that the country is with them.

The resignations of the present leaders would be welcome. Their places could then be filled with strong, aggressive men of high principle. If that happened, Republicans would no longer feel, as many of them must today, that they have no adequate representation in Washington. The Republicans can win in 1944 if they are stalwart in defense of the independence of the United States and the liberties of its citizens. The only way the Republicans can lose is by pussyfooting in the hope of offending nobody.

THE PLANTS ARE AT HAND.

Col. Bryan Houston of the army ordnance district, speaking before a group of manufacturers here, said that "upward of 8,000 prime contracts running into several billion dollars" have already been canceled by the army.

The army ordnance department has done a magnificent job in working with industry to produce war materials and to keep ahead of the enemy in the quality and quantity of weapons. The department has also been prompt to realize its obligations to American citizens by releasing war plants from army contracts when need for the things they produced was filled.

The question that concerns every American is what has happened to these 8,000 prime contractors, their plants, and the horde of subcontractors that necessarily were a part of their production scheme since the army released them.

The army must, of course, have let some new contracts, keeping abreast of the ever changing need for war materials that continued fighting develops. It is hardly conceivable, however, that all 8,000 of these contract holders could have employed their plants to full capacity in new types of war work. You can't make gyro-compasses in a tank factory or parachutes in a wire mill.

While the ordnance department's termination program has been in progress America's production of necessary civilian goods has ground to a jarring halt under New Deal edicts. The army is releasing thousands of plants from war obligations that have the capacity to fill these civilian needs, yet this nation is suffering more and more each day for the want of "hard goods" that people must have to work and to live.

These abandoned war plants give us the facilities for civilian production, but until the New Dealers allow them the men and the materials to start on that production the nation, its economy, its citizens, and their contribution to the winning of the war will continue to suffer.

THE JAP ARTILLERY.

Robert Cromie has given readers of THE TRIBUNE an account of what he saw in Salamaua shortly after the Japs were driven out. One of the surprises, he says, was the discovery that the Japs had a good deal more artillery than they had been credited with possessing. With the number of guns they had, they should have done a good deal more damage than they did.

The same observation was made about the Japanese artillery on Guadalcanal. Capt. John F. Casey Jr., writing on the Guadalcanal campaign in the Field Artillery Journal for August, commented that "the Jap artillery fired seven or eight rounds in a direct line some time every afternoon or evening. This was the only firing they did. We therefore had the idea that they only had two guns which they moved around from day to day. These were quickly dubbed 'Pistol Pete' and 'Kokumbona Kid.' As we pushed up the coast we found the Japs had as many artillery pieces as our forces and in most cases one unit of fire. Why didn't they use it? That is one of the mysteries of the campaign and a good omen."

The question remains, why the Japanese artillery has been notably ineffective in both these operations. Perhaps the explanation lies in a shortage of ammunition or the limited means of transport. If either of these hypotheses is correct, it only raises the question of why the Japanese command bothered to send the guns if they weren't going to be used. At any rate, here is one of the minor puzzles of the war to which some day we may expect the answer.

THE FOX AND THE HOUNDS.

The enemy propaganda radio announcement that the Japanese are planning to evacuate Tokio raises some interesting speculation. The Russians conducted a fairly successful evacuation of their major western cities and industries under the threat of German invasion. Stalin could do this because he had a lot of room in which to operate. He could ship his munition plants to the Urals, out of range of German bombardment.

The Japanese could save some lives by evacuating the residents of Tokio and other big cities, but the heavy industries are another matter. If Tokio is to be within range of American bombardment, so are all of Japan and all of Japan's adjacent possessions. They can talk about moving their industries, but to what new and safer site? A glance at the map will show that even Manchukuo or Corea can't offer the industrial refuge that Russia had in the Urals.

The announcement indicates that the Japanese, along with the Germans and the fallen Italians, feel the hot breath of war down their necks. Dreams of a peace signed in Washington and of a conquest of our west coast which the Jap war lords held up before their people at the start of the war have vanished.

The battlefield is not in the United States. It is, or it soon will be, in Japan, and the Japs know it. The advantage is ours for what we choose to make of it. Gen. MacArthur, a great and gallant leader, has won the major part of that advantage for us thru his skill and determination and with the minimum of aid. Failure now to press it home would be tantamount to treason.

MODERN WINDJAMMERS.

Carrier based planes are given credit for the strong raids the navy made recently on the Gilbert Islands. In contrast, carriers do not appear to have played a significant part in our northward advance thru the Solomons.

Lt. Comdr. William C. Chambliss, writing in a recent issue of the United States Naval Institute Proceedings, gives a possible explanation for the navy's failure to use aircraft carriers in the Solomons. He observes that modern carriers are as dependent upon the vagaries of the wind as were warships in the days before the invention of the steamboat. Then the admiral wanted to have the wind with him; now he wants to buck it.

Airplane pilots, Lt. Comdr. Chambliss says, need a 30 mile wind blowing down a carrier's deck when they land or take off. They must have somewhere near that force of wind to make either operation safe. An aircraft carrier is at a disadvantage when it enters enemy waters with the wind behind it. On such a mission the carrier must keep planes in the air all day long unless it is protected by land based planes. Its airplanes must be refueled frequently. Hence, the carrier heading downwind toward the enemy must turn about every hour and a half or so to launch more planes and to take aboard the planes that require refueling. The fleet accompanying such a carrier is held back with it and escorts and carrier may advance as little as 36 miles in a 12 hour day, while burning oil sufficient to cover many times that distance.

Lt. Comdr. Chambliss points out that the prevailing wind in the Coral sea and thruout the Solomons blows from the southeast. American carriers, sailing up that sea past Guadalcanal toward Jap held strong points on New Britain would have the wind at their stern, approaching the enemy.

Unless we had sufficient land based planes so that the carriers could proceed up the Coral sea safely without launching their own planes, their progress would be dangerously slow, the commander says. The enemy would have ample opportunity to locate the carriers and attending fleet, the element of surprise would be lost, and the carriers, slowed down by constant maneuvers, would be ideal targets for enemy planes and submarines.

The way to catch a duck in Persia, says the army, is to flash a light, bang a dishpan and scoop her up in a butterfly net as she scoots toward you. That may be "duck hunting" in the army, but it's still snipe hunting in the boys' camps out in these parts. —Des Moines Register.

6. Pan-American Airways System officials have worked out a formula for determining how far a person can see from any given height. Take the square root of your altitude in feet and multiply by the fixed constant 1.225, which will give you the miles of visual range. Thus, if you are 100 feet high, extract the square root of 100, which is 10, and multiply by 1.225 which will show your visual range to be 12.25 miles. You deserve one point for each correct answer below, using whole numbers as answers.
   [a] From 1,000 feet a person can see ...... miles.

VENDETTA LAND.

History has paid no attention to Corsica since Napoleon Bonaparte was tucked away in permanent exile, but global war, which is no neglecter of islands, has reopened the account. This shaggy birthplace of Hitler's forerunner is again a first page affair, so let's glance at its story.

• • •

Corsica owes a large part of its fame to Napoleon, but its sinister glamor is also based upon its cult of the vendetta. For centuries its wilder inhabitants have been taking pot shots at one another from behind bushes to avenge the family honor, and melodramatic literature has delighted in this bloodthirsty custom. To the playwrights and novelists of many countries is due the widely spread belief that if a Corsican ever gets on your trail, your goose is cooked.

• • •

A drama called "The Corsican Brothers" had a vogue on the English and American stage from 1850 until 1890 or later, and many a lean and slippered pantaloon now taking his grandchildren to the movies has been thrilled by it. Almost every actor of the period who starred as a tragic scenery eater had his fling at "The Corsican Brothers" because it offered him two roles—the twin brothers dei Franchi, one a noble feudist and the other a born killer. The tradition began with Charles Fechter in 1850 and rose to its peak with Henry Irving in 1891.

• • •

The best treatment of Corsica in print is "Colomba," by Prosper Mérimée, a masterpiece of local color. Are they still reading it in college French classes, we wonder? There is sharpshooting in the Corsican maquis [dense underbrush] today just as there was when Mérimée's hero, waylaid and wounded, scored bull's-eyes with both barrels of his English hunting rifle.

• • •

Corsica has not sent many representatives to the United States; perhaps after the island became French its inhabitants adopted the Gallic custom of refraining from unnecessary travel. But this column can point to one admirable specimen: Irene Bordoni, the singing actress, generally regarded as a Parisienne. She was born in Ajaccio, and she once told us that almost every other male child in the town is named Napoleon.

LINES TO A HUSBAND.

Dear one,
If you should ever
Have to leave me,
In these uncertain days that lie ahead,
I'll try hard not to Let the parting
Grieve me.
I'll try to live on memories instead.
For our short years, so filled
With love and living,
Have been a lifetime's
Whole
For you and me. . . .
Three years complete with gayety and giving,
Each asking
But devotion as his fee.
Since you have filled my life
With love and Laughter,
And you have spared me all there is of fear,
What matter if we reach
No heaven after,
When we have had
All of our heaven
Here? B. J. K.

Telling It to the Freshmen.

Sahib: Your mention of the "greater glory" of the right hand which wrote "Don Quixote" [Sept. 22] stirs a memory dreg of days [almost 40 years ago] when I was cutting the lecture courses for which I was registered and was trespassing on a literature course given by Barrett Wendell. He came into the classroom with a half-smoked and still smoking cigar which he carefully placed on the edge of the desk. One lecture was on "Don Quixote," which he did not pronounce Kee Hoty but QUICKS-ut. He then glared at the roomful of snickering freshmen until they straightened out their faces, after which he said:

"I am aware, gentlemen, that the name has another pronunciation in Spanish, a language I do not happen to have learned. My pronunciation is correct in English." If I learned any other lesson while visiting Harvard, I have forgotten. The Commodore.

CHEMICAL NEEDS OF THE BODY.

A LARGE number of mineral elements enter into the operation of the body. Most of us know something about the important rôles of iron, sulfur, lime, and phosphorus. But copper, cobalt, manganese, zinc, mercury, nickel, chromium, and many others must be available to the tissues if they are to function at par.

Take iron. Rather accurate calculation leads us to believe that every one of the thousand billion cells which make up the average 150 pound man or woman contains 75 million atoms of iron. The percentage in the blood is higher. Even radium is present, also in the smallest amount, in living matter.

Interest in these ingredients, which exist in minute proportions, has been stimulated by studies on animals. In 1895, the Australian government became alarmed because of "bush" sickness, which attacked sheep. They finally segregated healthful from unhealthful areas, altho vegetation grew as luxuriantly in one as in the other.

The disease in question was anemia and the suggestion was offered that there was a deficiency of iron. Large quantities added to the fodder did not relieve the situation. Iron ores were obtained from different parts of the world and mixed with the soil, whereupon some batches of the fertilizer proved curative. But how did one lot differ from another?

It was then determined that cobalt was the missing link. Ores which did not supply it were useless. Soil analysis proved conclusively that grazing sheep on vegetation grown on cobalt-containing earth produced vigorous stock. The ailment was held in abeyance when the soil yielded as little as two parts per million. How tiny does this deficit appear! Nevertheless, tens of thousands of sheep were lost. Without it, the animals wasted away and marked changes occurred in the muscles, liver, and spleen.

But this requirement applies with equal force to zinc, manganese, and aluminum. Without these factors, certain organic substances cannot be formed.

How do these materials act? They apparently do not enter to any great extent into the chemistry of the body. But, like the helper engine which pushes a train of cars up grade until the top of the hill has been reached, they will accelerate and make more perfect such processes as digestion and absorption. The "pusher" then uncouples, returns to its stall, and stands by until another task comes along.

We call these bodies "catalysts" as they bring together and unite groups of elements which otherwise would remain uncombined. In this fashion, useful products are manufactured. In butadiene [the basis of artificial rubber], for example, reactions could not be brought about other than very slowly, were it not for certain of these assistants.

Most of us receive all of the minerals required with an average, well balanced diet. Trouble will come only when insufficient iron, cobalt, manganese, and others are present. While we can test for many of these materials, the wisest plan is to follow a standard food regime which furnishes them all.

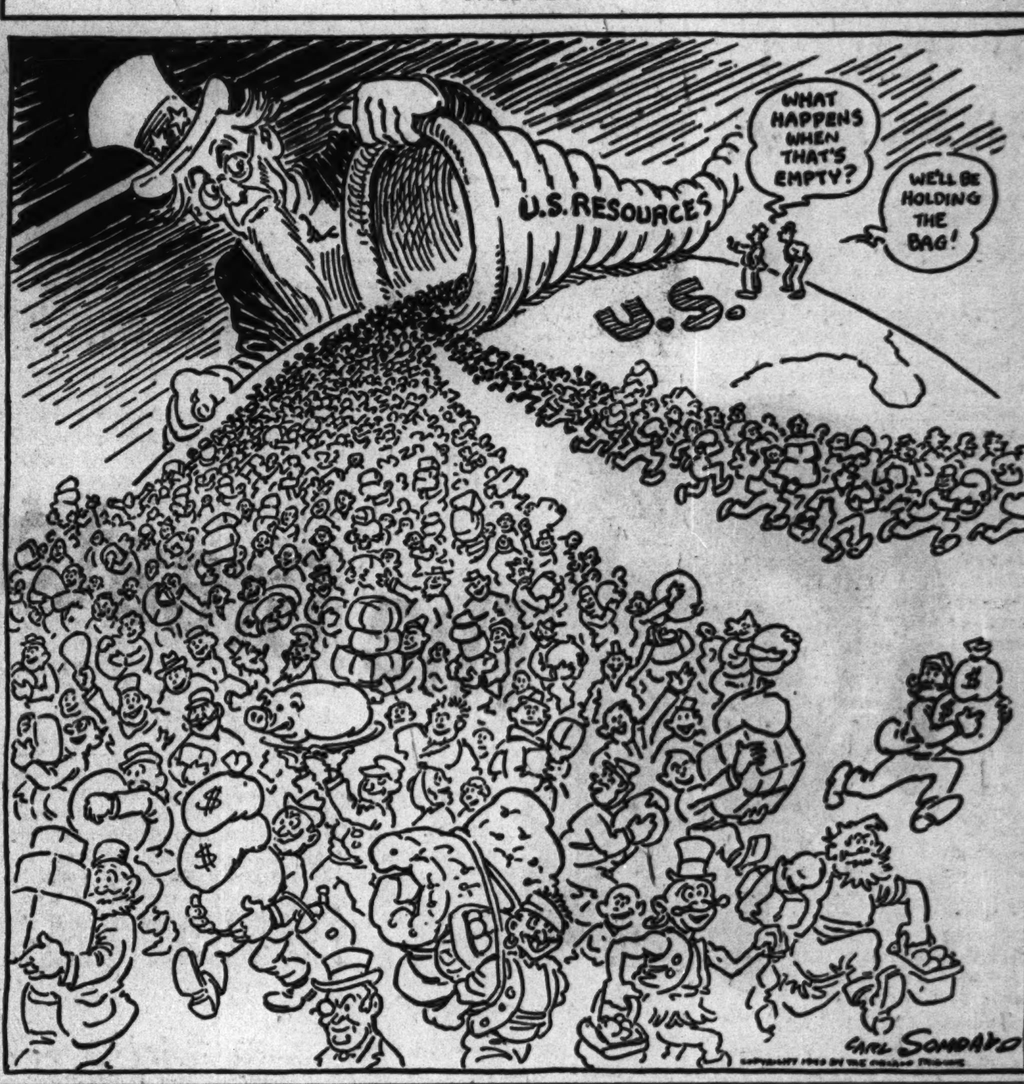
AN INTERNATIONAL WPA WOULD MAKE US A "HAVE NOT" NATION



Front Views & Profiles

By MARCIA WINN

The Eagle Moves His Wings.

Every morning at 7 o'clock for the last two weeks an empty freight car has been pushed onto a siding at the rear of a battered old warehouse at 329 West Ontario street. Every evening at 5 o'clock it has been drawn away, loaded. Within it are 10,000 cartons. On each carton are the words, American Red Cross, a mystic symbol V-2 that no one seems able to explain, and an American eagle. The eagle is not static, or resting his claws on a globe as he once did; he is in full flight.

The 10,000 cartons are Red Cross food packages for civilians and prisoners of war interned in Japanese camps. By 4 o'clock today women volunteers working on an assembly line at high, war time speed will have packed 100,000 in 10 days. They, together with 100,000 being packed in St. Louis, will make up the first shipment to cross the Pacific under a guarantee of safe conduct from the Japanese. They will go from the west coast to Vladivostok, where they will be reshipped to every Japanese prison camp in the far east, and will be the first, via this route, of a monthly contingent, for Russia at last has allocated 1,500 tons of shipping a month for this purpose.

Consequently it is small wonder that the women volunteers in this old warehouse work with such smiling good humor, such radiant joy. Many of them have sons, nephews, brothers, husbands in Japanese prisons. Many have received those cryptic postcards with the ominous final clause, "I am in good health, but I weigh what I did in 1927." It is small wonder, but it leaves the able-bodied observer flushed with shame to see girls working there who have put in eight hours on the graveyard shift in a war plant and then come here to work for another four hours; or the frail little laundress who irons shirts in a laundry five days a week and works here the sixth day; or the smiling woman who says, brightly, "I'm 64, and I work here five days a week."

Want to see how it works? It is 9:30 in the morning, and 72 women are lined up around a W-shaped ball bearing roller assembly.

A bell rings, and the vast room spins into action. Down at the beginning of each of the two lines four women are bending pressed cardboard into shape. The speed of the assembly line depends on the speed with which they make cartons, so they work feverishly. Three women grab the boxes as made and place them on the roller. Now the women begin to fill them. One places a 16 ounce tin of powdered whole milk in a corner. She does this in a fast, penumbralike movement. By noon she will have placed 2,500 in boxes. That is around 3,000 pounds of weight lifting.

The next woman fits in a pound of raisins. Sometimes this is prunes or apricots. The next puts in eight ounces of lump sugar, the next nine ounces of cheese, processed so it will not melt. The next four women each put in a small tin of butter. Now, at a dizzy pace, come a 12 ounce tin of corned beef, a four ounce tin of soluble coffee, a six ounce tin of liver paste, a 12 ounce tin of spiced luncheon meat, a small tin of jam [which formerly was concentrated orange juice], an eight ounce tin of salmon ["goldfish" the workers and the army call it], two bars of soap, six packages of chocolate, two bars of ration D chocolate, a vial of concentrated vitamin C, a tiny can opener, and several packages of chewing gum.

By this time the box is full, women are pressing down two flaps of the lid, and it is going down the center line where an iron hook grabs it and throttles it into a glueing machine. The hook averages 37 boxes a minute. If it misses a box the women know some one in the line is slackening her pace. Maybe she stopped to talk, altho few do. Maybe she fainted; this is not unusual. Once the hook went thru five times without a box, and every one was heartbroken. But that only happened once, for the eagle's flight is long, and the freight car can't move away to make room for another unless it is laden with 10,000 cartons. It always is.

HOLDING BACK ON GEN. MacARTHUR.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—It was with a mixed feeling of provocation and humiliation that I read the article on page 1 of THE TRIBUNE which advised that Lae had been captured by Gen. MacArthur's forces.

This story says that the Jap New Guinea army was once estimated to total 20,000 and it stands to reason that the Jap army had been reduced to one-half or less of its original strength. However, Gen. MacArthur is quoted in this article as follows: "The Lae victory is accomplished in the face of superior forces available to the enemy." This certainly should make all of us patriotic Americans feel ashamed.

Why can't we have a force available at any given place in the Southwest Pacific which is superior in numbers to the enemy? Any student of warfare knows that the attacking force should have a preponderance of both men and material. Since the Japs are required to defend such a widespread, sprawling territory, I can't conceive of why the Roosevelt administration has not seen fit to give this small, but gallant army of Gen. MacArthur the men and material that it needs.

"THE MORTIFICATION OF HISTORY."

East Dubuque, Ill., Sept. 20.—I am writing to congratulate you on the publication in your Sunday issue yesterday of Garet Garrett's article. If this article could be read by every American, our current and recurring problems of foreign policy would be settled immediately and forever. We would be thru with hearing American statesmen pronounce a succession of apologies; we would be thru with having other nations manipulate us into alliances which they need and which we do not need; we might even allow Europe to fight its own wars with its own resources and its own warriors.

This article by Mr. Garrett should be read and digested in every school room in America, so that the rising generation may intelligently shape America's future in the way that the founding fathers wisely provided. If other nations make it a part of their national policy to educate our own people in methods of subordinating America's interests to those of other nations, we can do no less than to make it our national policy that Americans shall know and appreciate the truths Mr. Garrett has so clearly restated. CURFEW.

THE CAR DEALER'S TROUBLES.

Farmer City, Ill., Sept. 20.—"Dumb Landlord" says a car that normally sold for $800 is now selling for $1,200. For many reasons this is not true. In 1941 cost of materials, living, and wages went up, resulting in the rising of low priced cars $75 to $100 dollars or more. At the changeover from '41 to '42 models, the constantly rising cost necessitated another boost in prices. This boost brought the average low priced car to $950 to $1,200, depending on the style of body and accessories included. As retail prices increased correspondingly the dealers' cost price increased, thus, it is mere folly to believe the dealer is making the profit suggested.

Regarding the additional 1 per cent a month, it is allowed dealers who carried over '42 models. The 1 per cent a month goes toward helping the dealer take care of additional finance charges, insurance, and maintenance on each car. OPA regulations make it necessary for the dealer to hold cars until eligible buyers call for them. "Dumb Landlord" must be well aware of overhead.

Since the halt in new car production the dealers have had difficult circumstances. With the main source of income, which is sales, virtually at a standstill, plus gas conservation, plus shortage of help, it doesn't paint the most rosy picture. So if a dealer should make an extra dollar on the few remaining new cars he has to sell I don't believe he should be denied that, do you? CHARLES H. BURK.

REP. SUMNER'S CHALLENGE.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—I wonder if Rep. Sumner's words, "Where is there a voice speaking for America?" held the significance for every American woman that it did for me?

What a deplorable condition—when one lone woman Congressman in a congressional delegation has to beg for one single voice in our administration to speak for America.

Is it one last squeek from the poor old American eagle, who has had his tail feathers plucked one at a time and given as souvenirs to our brothers across the sea—or is it a call to all American women everywhere in America to wake up and do something about getting America back for the Americans? MARSHALL MOVE 4TH TERM PLOT, SHAFER CLAIMS

Global WPA Thru War Department Visioned.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Rep. Paul W. Shafer [R., Mich.], member of the house military affairs committee, today charged the New Deal high command is plotting to remove Gen. George C. Marshall as chief of staff of the army in order to create a global WPA program thru the war department for the purpose of capturing a fourth term.

Shafer named the plotters as Felix Frankfurter, Supreme court justice; Harry Hopkins, White House intimate; David K. Niles, administrative assistant to the President, and Samuel I. Rosenman, personal adviser to the President. The activities of these men was described by Shafer as "nothing less than treasonous."

The congressman told the house he has in his possession a blueprint of a plan which purportedly streamlines the war department but in reality turns the department into a political organization. The plan was procured for him by highly responsible persons, he said.

Somervell Chief of Staff?

The blueprint has Lt. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, chief of the army supply services and protege of the White House palace guard, replacing Marshall as chief of staff. Somervell was formerly WPA director for New York City and director of the proposed Florida ship canal, one of Roosevelt's pet projects.

Shafer spread his charges in the congressional record after Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson parried efforts to determine the status of Gen. Marshall, who is about to be made supreme commander of the British and American forces thruout the world.

"Mr. Speaker, I am deeply disturbed with the lives of 1 million of our boys at stake in this global war; there are those in government today who play politics with the war department," Shafer said.

War Department WPA.

"I have in my possession a blueprint of a plan which would presumably streamline the war department, but in reality its intent is to convert that great department into a New Deal political organization. In my opinion the activities of the men behind this plan are nothing less than treasonous.

"I know nothing about what authority Gen. George C. Marshall will have as global chief of staff. All I know is that he has built up a general staff for the United States army that has functioned well, and on his record, with one or two exceptions, remain intact. I feel that Gen. Marshall is a great leader, and I do not believe that he is the type of man who will permit himself to be jockeyed into a phony position.

Congress Cannot Interfere.

"Congress cannot and should not attempt to interfere with the proposal to make Gen. Marshall the global chief of staff. Such a move should not be criticized until it is shown, at least, that he is not to have full authority in that position. I prefer to think his promotion is a fine recognition of ability.

"Congress, however, is in a position to prevent the conversion of the war department into a New Deal political WPA. It is in a position to prevent the appointment of a political general to succeed Gen. Marshall as chief of staff, and thus thwart the carefully laid plans of the administration's fourth term strategists.

"Congress should see to it that those generals who have so ably served under Gen. Marshall are retained and that the new chief of staff shall be one of those best qualified to serve in that important post.

"I make this statement merely to serve notice that, as a member of congress, and of the house committee on military affairs, I do not intend to sit idly by and permit the Hopkins-Niles-Frankfurter-Rosenman regime to turn the war department into a global political organization."

WOMAN LEAPS OFF TRAIN; MAY BE CHICAGOAN

Chicago and Michigan state police were striving last night to clear the mystery concerning the reported disappearance of Mrs. Patricia Livingston, 6233 North Sayre avenue, 35 years old, wife of a war plant employe.

At 7:40 p. m. a woman was seen to leap from a moving train, bound from Chicago for Detroit, four miles west of Kalamazoo, Mich. Police and railroad men searched the right of way for miles, but found no body. But in the vestibule of a coach, a trainman found an unclaimed purse bearing the name, Patricia Livingston, 6633 North Thayer avenue, Chicago. There is no such address.

About 8:30 p. m. a woman telephoned Jefferson Park police to report as missing her sister, Mrs. Livingston of the Sayre avenue address. She was last seen boarding a Grand avenue street car at noon. No further details were obtained by police because missing persons reports must be made in person—not by telephone. Up to a late hour no one was home at the Sayre avenue address.

SHOOTS ALLEGED BURGLAR.

Raymond Spinks, 17 years old, Negro, of 5440 Prairie avenue, was shot twice last night and seriously wounded when surprised, with two other men, allegedly looting the flat of Julius Hamner, also a Negro, of 220 East Garfield boulevard. Hamner fired into the trio. The two other men escaped.

W. H. ATHERTON IS ELECTED NEW LEGION LEADER

Californian Pledged to Americanism.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 23.—In a cut and dried procedure devised by American Legion powers nearly a year ago, Warren H. Atherton, Stockton, Cal., lawyer, was elected national commander of the Legion at its convention here today.

Chosen as vice commanders were Roy McMillan, Raleigh, N. C.; E. A. Littlefield, Salt Lake City, Utah; Hector G. Stales, Rockland, Me.; Martin W. Coffey, Middletown, O., and Edward Mulrooney, Wilmington, Del.

In accepting his position as national commander, Atherton, 51 years old, a former commander of the California department of the Legion, voiced a demand for strong Americanism and preservation of the Constitution.

Must Preserve Government.

"You have consecrated our great organization to win the war, to win the peace, and to preserve the American form of government," the new commander, who entered World War I. as a private and came out as a captain, said.

"Fighting as one team at home, in the factory, and at the front, we will win the war. We must then win the peace. We can only win enduring peace by keeping America strong. Collaboration with the nations of the world in the preservation of peace will depend upon our ability to enforce peace and deter aggression.

"Post-war plans must embrace complete devotion to a free, just, and equal social order under the American Constitution. Post-war plans must keep open to the men who win the victory the opportunity deferred by war. These men must have their chance for education, for training, for jobs, for independence, for homes, and for useful contribution to the nation.

Coöperation Held Need.

"The men fighting this war are the heirs to our United States after the war. Ours is the duty to see that they inherit a nation worthy of the ideals and sacrifices of our forefathers. No one man could hope to win these objectives alone. A million and a quarter veterans fighting shoulder to shoulder can accomplish this.

"I know that every one of you wants a united, fighting, unconquerable America now; a world of peace and harmony after the war, and the preservation of justice, freedom, and democracy thru constitutional government. Together, we will keep faith with those who fight."

Mrs. Lawrence H. Smith, Racine, Wis., wife of the Republican representative of the 1st Wisconsin district in congress, was elected president of the Legion auxiliary.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 23 (AP).—Come peace or continued war, the Grand Army of the Republic will meet again. Rejecting a proposal to discontinue their annual encampments for the duration of this war, the veterans of the Civil war today chose Des Moines, Ia., for their 78th meeting next year.

Selected to lead them at that convention was George H. Jones, 94 years old, of Oxford, Me., unanimously named commander in chief by his fellow veterans today.

William H. Osborn of Joplin, Mo., 100 years old, also was nominated as commander but declined in favor of Jones, who will succeed John S. Dumser, 94, of Oakland, Cal. Thirty-five veterans, ranging in age from 92 to 106, attended the 77th annual encampment which closed today.

LEGION LEADERS ADMIT MUDDLE IN FISH ATTACK

None Knows How or Why It Happened.

Fish Sees 'Smear'

New York, Sept. 23 [Special].—Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] reiterated today denials that he had permitted his congressional franking privilege to be used to spread un-American propaganda. Answering the resolution passed on Tuesday by the American Legion convention, condemning him on those grounds, Fish declared that the Legion had "inadvertently been used to carry on a political and partisan smear campaign."

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 22 [Special].—A confused group of 1,500 delegates to the national American Legion convention went home tonight, bound by resolution to condemn one of their founding members, Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.], for misuse of his franking privilege, and apparently no one knew exactly why or how this situation came about.

Fish was held guilty by the convention of allowing his frank to be used by Sylvester Viereck and others for dissemination of propaganda inimical to the United States. The action was taken by a half empty convention hall—some question that a quorum was present—with the New York delegation, from Fish's home state, absent from the hall in caucus.

Regret for the action was expressed by Legion leaders, most of whom refused to be quoted, but a move to reconsider in the New York group died today for lack of a leader to take the floor. Fear of jeopardizing political and Legion careers with overzealous patriots was given as a reason for less definite action in behalf of the New Yorker who wrote the preamble to the Legion constitution and won the distinguished service cross for heroism in the first World war.

Originator Unidentified.

Apparently the resolution originated with a hot headed zealot from California—no one could be found tonight who knew his name—and was tossed into the hopper of the Americanism committee with the rest of the business. Legion leaders had been forewarned of all other resolutions but neither retiring Commander Roane Waring nor others knew the Fish resolution had been sent to committee.

Elliodor Libonati, Illinois member of the Americanism committee, who opposed the resolution on the floor, laid the measure to convention carelessness.

"It came up at the end of the committee meeting when every one was tired," said Libonati, "and I didn't hear Fish's name mentioned until the resolution reached the floor. All that was mentioned was a move against misuse of the franking privilege. There was no one from California present to push the resolution and I am sure it was no plot to put something over on the delegates. Francis Phelan and I did our best to stop it after we knew what it was because no one could question the Americanism of Hamilton Fish."

Regret Is Expressed.

James O'Neil, Manchester, N. H., chairman of the Americanism committee, expressed regret that the action had been taken. He said he was out of the room when the committee voted.

Arthur J. Bouton, Scarsdale, N. Y., one of the leaders of the New York delegation, said the New York delegation was off the convention floor when the vote was taken.

"We were caught offguard," said Bouton. "The action was ill-advised but it's down now."

He shrugged off questions as to why New York did not speak out in behalf of Fish.

SUES WLB TO BAR F.D.R. DICTATING LABOR PACTS

Gypsum Company Fights Contract Terms.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Declaring that "it is not a function of the President to compel employers to require their employes to remain members of a union," the United States Gypsum company today filed a suit for declaratory judgment in federal District court here naming members of the national war labor board, the director of economic stabilization and high New Deal functionaries as defendants.

It asked the court to declare that neither the President nor the war labor board has power to impose union maintenance of membership and the check-off on the company. It further asked the court to enjoin the director of economic stabilization from imposing sanctions on the company to compel compliance with a WLB order.

Keady Questions Authority.

The WLB had directed the company to include the maintenance of union membership and the check-off provisions in its collective bargaining agreement with employes in its Warren, O., plant. The order was issued May 31. The company has refused to comply.

William L. Keady, president of the company, asserted today in discussing the suit that if the President has the power to compel employers to require their employes to remain members of a union as provided by the maintenance of membership order of WLB, "then another President could compel employers to require their employes to remain out of unions altogether."

"The company asks that the court declare that neither the President, either as President or as commander in chief of the army and navy, nor the war labor board has any power to impose compulsory arbitration upon the company or to impose any penalty or other sanction for noncompliance with a decision or order of the board," Keady said.

Cabinet Members Named.

"The court is requested to enjoin the national war labor board and each of its members, and the director of economic stabilization and each of the members of the economic stabilization board from imposing any penalty or sanctions of any kind upon the company for noncompliance with the directive order of the board of May 31, 1943, and from taking any action of any kind whatsoever to compel the company to comply with said order."

Besides the war labor board members and Director of Economic Stabilization Fred M. Vinson, the company named among the defendants cabinet members Henry Morgenthau, Claude R. Wickard, Jesse H. Jones, and Frances Perkins, who are members of the economic stabilization board.

Also named were Federal Reserve Chairman Marriner S. Eccles, Director of the Budget Harold D. Smith, Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown, labor leaders William Green and Philip Murray, farm leaders Edward A. O'Neal and James G. Patton, and industrial leaders Eric A. Johnston and Ralph E. Flanders, also members of the economic stabilization board.

John E. Macleish of the Chicago law firm of Scott, Macleish & Falk, counsel for the plaintiff, filed the suit.

HOUSE UNIT SAYS IT CAN'T REMOVE COX IN FCC QUIZ

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—The house judiciary committee has notified Clifford J. Durr, member of the federal communications commission, it has no jurisdiction to act on his petition for disqualification of Rep. E. E. Cox [D., Ga.] as a member of a special committee investigating the commission.

"The opinion seems to be general among the members of the [judiciary] committee, and is one in which I concur, that the committee has no jurisdiction," Chairman Hatton W. Sumners [D., Tex.] wrote Durr.

In his petition, Durr alleged acceptance by Cox of a fee for services to radio station WALB at Albany, Ga., in connection with its application for a license.

FRED ALLEN'S MOVIE WORK TO POSTPONE RETURN TO AIRWAYS

After a favorable report from his physician on the high blood pressure condition with which he has been suffering, Fred Allen has gone to Hollywood to make a movie. As a result he is not expected to resume broadcasting while the film is under way, probably delaying his return to Sunday nights on CBS until January. The song series by James Melton and Joan Roberts, which replaced Fred for the summer, will be continued for a while.

The intensive fall salvage drive under general supervision of the Illinois war council will be opened by Gov. Dwight Green with a radio address on WLS Dinnerbell Time at noon today.

Ed Gardner, Archie of Duffy's, will be the guest on Soldiers with Wings over W-G-N and Mutual at 9:30 p. m. today. . . . Curt Massey's song series heard at 5:30 p. m. Saturdays, will be expanded to a 75 station NBC network beginning tomorrow. . . . Grantland Rice tonight begins his 11th season speaking on football on Lucille Manners' concert over WMAQ-NBC.

RADIO ATTEMPTS TO MOLD PUBLIC OPINION ARE HIT

New York, Sept. 23 (AP).—Paul W. White, director of news broadcasts of the Columbia Broadcasting system, said today "it would be a very tragic distortion of radio's function," if network managements "should attempt to control democratic public opinion either on a local, regional, or national basis."

Defending Columbia's "long established policies of letting the radio listener make up his own mind, rather than allowing news broadcasters to make it up for him," he said in an address at a luncheon of radio news analysts that "it is for the same reason that we have repeatedly refused to sell time for the presentation of one-sided viewpoints."

"Were we to do this, we would be selling—and selling out—the great power of broadcasting to the particular groups able to or willing to spend the most money."

White referred to the CBS policy as a recent "subject of controversy." Cecil Brown, Columbia commentator, announced his resignation yesterday, declaring he opposed the policy.

IFL CLAIMS JOB FREEZE PLOT TO BELITTLE UNIONS

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 23.—The Illinois Federation of Labor today denounced the job freeze law as ridiculous and unconstitutional and branded a new interpretation of its provisions by the war man power commission as "bait dangled before your eyes" to destroy faith in union leadership.

A resolution embodying the federation's executive committee's report, condemning the New Deal for "deliberately" setting aside the constitution to suit its own purposes and the remarks of Victor A. Olander, federation secretary and treasurer, who asserted the "only cure" was repeal of the law, was adopted by delegates at the 61st annual convention in the Elks club here.

Slavery, Olander Says.

"Older delegates think slavery is a thing of the past," Olander asserted, "but this law is a form of slavery in modern times, and is involuntary servitude. Forced labor is slavery and is a live issue thruout the country today. There is a mistaken idea that man can be driven better than led."

Olander said the record of the last year was filled with proof that the job freeze law had done more to hamper than to increase war production and warned that a new order issued by the WMC giving workers the right to provoke their own discharge would produce chaotic conditions thruout trade and industry.

Forsees Labor Draft.

He said that the new order, of which regional and area directors of the WMC disclaimed any knowledge, altho he said he had received a copy of it from Washington, D. C., also provides that a release be given workers who refuse to pay dues in closed shops and those operating under the union maintenance clause.

"This practice will lead to the WMC accusing labor of being unable to hold employes on the job," Olander charged. "The outcome would be a labor draft law."

The executive committee's report charged several instances of wasted WMC effort in the settlement of inconsequential cases involving the transfer of employes form one job to another.

Support Drivers' Protest.

The convention supported a protest made by Chicago local No. 753 of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union against an order of the office of defense transportation, effective Oct. 11, providing for every other day deliveries to Chicago housewives as a means of conserving man power and tires. The local sent a telegram to Chairman Joseph B. Eastman of the ODT asking a hearing before the effective date.

Constipation?

TRY THIS HEALTH DRINK FIRST

Juice of 1 lemon — in glass of water — first thing on arising

Has a natural laxative effect for most people, and it aids digestion, supplies needed vitamins, builds resistance, too!

Here's a surprisingly simple way to avoid the usual harsh laxatives.

Most people find that the juice of one lemon in a glass of water, taken first thing on arising, is all they need to insure prompt, normal elimination—gently. And lemon and water is good for you.

Lemons Build Health! Lemons are among the richest sources of vitamin C, which restores energy, helps you resist colds and infection. They're the only known source of vitamin P (citrin) and supply valuable amounts of B_1. They alkalinize—aid digestion. Millions not troubled with constipation take lemon and water daily just as a health builder.

Why not keep regular with this refreshing morning drink that builds health too? Try it ten days, first thing on arising—see if you don't benefit!

P.S.—LEMON & SODA - Some prefer juice of 1 lemon in half glass water with ¼ to ½ teaspoon baking soda (bicarbonate) added. Drink as foaming quickly.

Norge salutes the women war workers

Wherever women are working at mechanical jobs in the nation's war plants, they are doing their work well . . . helping to shoulder America's burden in this global conflict.

We at Norge, completely in war work, know the value and sincerity of these and other willing workers. We salute them all: those who volunteer in Red Cross, A.W.V.S. and O.C.D. activities; those who enlist in our armed forces; and those who, in their own homes, contribute mightily to the war effort by doing their own work, raising and preserving their own foodstuffs, practicing economy and conservation in every way possible.

Norge Rollator refrigerators and other home appliances are doing their part, too, by lightening household duties, conserving food, adding to the efficiency of women war workers. Soon after the victory, Norge will salute these women with a brilliant new line of household appliances that will emphasize America's new-era standards of living.

SURVEY LEARNS BEEF BECOMING SEASONAL CROP

Cattlemen Blame OPA for Increasing Shortage.

BY GAIL COMPTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 23.—The nation's supply of beef seems destined to become a seasonal crop unless the government removes its restrictions and permits the meat industry to operate normally and unhampered.

A 5,000 mile survey of the cattle producing and fattening areas of the nation and numerous talks with ranchers and farmers leaves no doubt that the country faces a serious shortage of beef and that bungling by the office of price administration is the cause of the beef famine which will become acute next spring and summer.

Despite large numbers of meat animals on the ranges, few are finding their way to the finishing lots of the midwest. Most of them are going either direct to the market from the range or are being sold half fat from grass lands and wheat pastures in the middle west.

Few Corn Fed Animals.

As a result the nation will get a heavy run of grass fed cattle each fall, but few corn fed animals to stretch the beef supply thruout the year. This means an alternate glut and famine of beef with thousands of tons of meat lost annually because restrictions by the OPA have made cattle fattening unprofitable.

The fault begins with the cattle producer. In response to the government's call for more beef the ranchers have stocked their ranges heavily. Shortages of help, lack of equipment and the scarcity and high price of protein feeds have led them to ask unreasonably high prices for their calves.

The inflationary prices asked by the producers have helped to make it impossible for the midwest farmer to realize any profit from fattening beef.

Ceiling prices on feed and on retail meat have made it more profitable for the midwest farmer to feed his corn to hogs instead of beef cattle and this is what he is doing.

Feedlot Shipments Drop.

As a result the shipment of feeder cattle to the corn belt feedlots has dropped alarmingly.

The fattening of cattle is a process taking from three to 12 months. The farmer must have some assurance of future prices before he can undertake the job. The senseless and changeable policies of the administration toward the farmer have left him without his needed feeling of security.

Every cattleman and farmer interviewed during the survey asked only one thing.

"Tell the government to leave us alone, restore the balance of supply and demand, and we will see that every one has plenty of beef to eat. Otherwise there will be a critical and unnecessary shortage of meat."

ILLINOIS MINES SIGN CONTRACT FOR PAY BOOST

Expect 20-23 Cents Ton Increase on Coal.

The Illinois Coal Operators' association and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers have signed a new wage agreement which, if approved by the war labor board and the office of price administration, will increase the miners' pay an average of $1.75 a day for a five day week.

The new contract, which was signed in Washington between officials of the miners and the association, will be acceptable to the WLB, it is believed. A contract signed last July by both the miners and the operators gave the Illinois miners a portal to portal pay of $1.25 a day, but was rejected by the WLB.

Coal Increase Involved.

The new contract is dependent not only upon the WLB's approval, but also upon the OPA granting an increase in the ceiling prices of coal. George F. Campbell, president of the operators' association, and his group will go before the OPA to ask for an increase in coal prices.

Fred S. Wilkey, secretary of the association, said that there is no doubt that the miners' pay raise will increase the retail price of coal, but he was unprepared to say how much the increase would be. Other sources close to the industry said Illinois coal would have to go up 20 to 23 cents a ton.

While the new contract avoids the use of the phrase, "portal to portal pay," it provides that the miners' work day shall begin from the time that they reach the mine and not from the time that they actually start operations. The old contracts provided that the miners be paid from the time that they actually started work in the mines.

Affects 25,000 Miners.

The question of portal to portal pay had been the cause of controversies between the miners and the operators and of the strikes last summer. Approximately 25,000 miners in Illinois will be affected by the contract, which was drawn with a view to its extension to the entire bituminous industry.

The new contract provides that the miners be paid on the basis of an eight and one-half hour day, instead of the present seyen hour day.

$57 for 6 Day Week.

The wage rate will be straight time for the first 40 hours of the week and time and one-half for every hour after that. On the basis of a five day week the miners' pay will be increased $8.75 a week to $43.75 and for the six day week they will draw $57.

The contract provides a compromise settlement of $40 as retroactive pay from March 31, when the old contract expired, to June 20 when the miners went back to work after the government had taken over the mines. The contract also includes concessions awarded by the WLB several months ago, such as higher vacation pay and some free equipment.

The work day of outside workers at the mines, who comprise 10 to 15 per cent of the mine pay rolls, is increased from seven to eight hours a day with time and half pay for the eighth hour.

STRIKE HALTED, GARY TIN MILL GETS CIO CASE

A grievance petition was presented yesterday to James Darbaker, general superintendent of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation's tin mill in Gary, Ind., where a strike of 2,000 workers ended Wednesday night. The petition, presented by a committee of the United Steel Workers union [CIO], demanded that all men demoted in a recent reorganization of the mill be reinstated and compensated for lost pay. The next scheduled step in negotiating a settlement will be a conference between George Wardley, assistant vice president of Carnegie-Illinois, and Joseph Goin, district director of the union.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Ben Markland

Sept. 23, 1943.

THE farm residents are wondering what new attraction is drawing the herons from the farm ponds into the cornfields. In the years that we've been watching the activities of the green herons and black-crowned night herons we've never seen them any place except around the farm ponds and marshes and in nearby trees.

Most of these long-legged birds spend the daylight hours poking their bills into the mud or shallow water to spear frogs, fish, and small reptiles. When frightened they take wing and move to another pond or perch high in a tree to watch the intruders' actions.

Hoppers May Be Lure.

The other day, however, one of the farm residents saw a black-crowned night heron in a cornfield. Everybody on the place has been wondering why the critter would leave its natural haunts to visit an area so foreign to its nature. Seeing a heron in a cornfield is like finding a duck on Michigan avenue. Yet there it was, and the only assumption to be made is that it found some new food item between the rows.

Our only guess is that it might have been consuming some of the grasshoppers which are so numerous this season. Herons are alert birds when it comes to feeding, being experts in the art of snatching twisting, darting fish under water and frogs and other hoppers on the shore. So the pistonlike action of their long necks could account for grasshoppers if they decided on a change of diet.

White Egrets Missing.

The unusual action of the night heron brings to mind the fact that there have been no reports of white egrets in northern Illinois this year. There seems to be no way of accounting for the former presence of these beautiful members of the heron family. Several years ago they could be seen feeding in hundreds of shallow ponds all over the Chicago area.

At that time the reason advanced for their appearance here was drouth in the southern part of the state. They are mud feeders, and since the ponds in the lower areas had dried up the egrets came into northern Illinois where the drouth had not been so severe as to eliminate their feeding grounds.

Ducks Migrating Early.

Similar conditions exist this year, with drouth in most of southwestern Illinois and adjacent areas. Still we have heard no report of any of these pure white herons coming in for a visit.

The shortage of egrets this fall is being somewhat offset by the early migration of ducks. Gordon Pearsall and John Jedlicka of the Cook county forest preserve district are trapping and banding migrant ducks every day in McGinnes slough of Palos Park. They report that since late August they have been trapping, banding, and releasing 50 to 125 ducks every day. The species now coming thru northern Illinois include mallards, black ducks, pintails, and both green winged and blue winged teal.

The GARDEN

POTATOES not needed for current use can be left in the ground until a killing frost is forecast. When such a frost is indicated, the potatoes can be dug [preferably in the morning], and left on the ground to be dried by the sun and wind. In the evening they can be picked up, placed in boxes or bushel baskets, and delivered to their storage place.

They should not be washed before being stored, but the excess soil can be rubbed off with the hands. Any potatoes which are cut or otherwise injured when dug should be set aside and used, because they will rot if stored.

Potatoes are best stored in a ventilated bin, since air circulation is important in their preservation. A bin made of loosely fitted slats above floor level is ideal. The room in which they are stored should be kept between 33 and 50 degrees, there should be a window or other method of providing circulation, and the room should be kept dark.

PLANS 24 HOUR CHICAGO-BRAZIL AIR LINE ROUTES

Rickenbacker Proposes E. A. L. Extensions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—A plan to put Chicago and New York 24 hours by air from the capitals of South American nations was proposed to the civil aeronautics board today by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, World war ace and president of Eastern Air Lines in an application to spread his company's network from Montreal to Buenos Aires.

"There will be no World War III. if we plan now to bring the cultures of all nations to within a few hours of each other," Rickenbacker declared in announcing his company's plan. Other domestic air lines have applied for global extensions of their services, but Rickenbacker's application was the first for new routes to South America.

Would Cross Jungles.

Rickenbacker proposes to reach Sao Paulo, Brazil, and Buenos Aires, Argentina, by bold overland jumps above the equatorial jungles of Brazil. One route would be from Balboa, Canal Zone, thru Manaos, Brazil, on the upper Amazon, and Asuncion, Paraguay, to Buenos Aires. The other would reach the South American continent at La Guayra, Venezuela, and proceed to Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, by way of Manaos.

Northern terminal points for the South American routes would be Chicago, Detroit, Mich.; St. Louis, Mo.; Kansas City, Mo.; Boston, Mass.; Montreal, Que., and New York. The planes would leave the United States at New Orleans, La.; Tampa and Miami, Fla., and Richmond and Norfolk, Va.

Several overwater flights are included in Rickenbacker's plans. One would be from New Orleans to Havana, Cuba, and then to Balboa. Another would be from Richmond, Va., to Nassau, B. I., and then to Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican republic. A flight is also proposed from Norfolk, Va., to Ciudad Trujillo. The latter two lines would converge and follow the same route to La Guayra.

Plans Mexican Route.

Eastern Air lines also proposed in the application to extend its service to Mexico City, with flights from Houston and Corpus Christi, Tex., and an overwater jump from New Orleans.

Domestic extensions of Eastern's service include a direct route from Chicago to Norfolk, Va., via Fort Wayne, Ind., and Columbus, O., and a route from Washington, D. C., to Montreal, avoiding New York by flying by way of Scranton, Pa., and Syracuse, N. Y.

EDWARD P. BELL DIES; LONG WAS PEACE WORKER

Edward Price Bell, 74 years old, who was London correspondent of the Chicago Daily News from 1900 to 1923 and a nominee for the Nobel peace prize in 1930, died yesterday at his estate, Merrywood, Gulfport, Miss., where he had lived since he retired 10 years ago. Friends said Bell's death was caused by beri beri which he contracted five years ago in China while he was trying to improve international relations in the far east. Burial will be in Gulfport. Mr. Bell was born in Parke daughter, Alice Price Bell of 1554 Dearborn parkway, Chicago, and two sons, Lt. Edward Jr. of the army, and John, of New York, survive.

ELINOR GLYN.

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—Elinor Glyn, who put sex appeal into parlor conversation under the name of "it," died today, but the legend of her life, which was as exciting as the plots of her novels, is still alive after half a century. Mrs. Glyn would have been 79 years old on Oct. 17. She had been in a nursing home three weeks. For the last two days she had been unconscious.

"She wrote frankly of love when the world was squeamish," said the Evening News. She produced 31 books and nine movies. No matter what "it" meant to the public, Mrs. Glyn always said, "When I wrote about 'it,' the word meant personal magnetism; charm."

However, the Evening News said that, altho she is supposed to have invented "it," a character in Kipling's "Mistress Barthhurst" already had said, "It isn't beauty, so to speak, nor good talk necessarily. It's just it."

'MOMENT' NEAR, KELLY TELLS 100 IN SCRAP DRIVE

The administration in Washington would be foolish politically to permit the draft of fathers and ask for huge sums of money unless there is "some great moment" in front of us, Mayor Kelly said yesterday in spurring interest in a new scrap metal drive to open Oct. 1.

Mayor Kelly, William L. McFetridge, metropolitan area salvage director, and Thomas McHugh, secretary of the salvage division of the war production board, addressed 100 key workers in the coming drive in the city council chamber. McHugh told the workers that old rubber is no longer wanted. Chicago's scrap metal quota is 67,300 tons.

Kelly said he has been assured the scrap drive is absolutely necessary. "The war is not won yet, and I wouldn't be surprised if we were bombed in this city yet," he said.

Soldier, 37, Dies in Hotel; Overdose of Drug Blamed

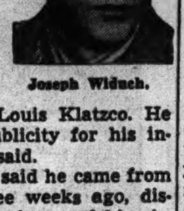
Pvt. John M. KIDNAPING HOAX TO AID INVENTION IS TOLD BY YOUTH

The fantastic story of kidnaping and torture told Fillmore police yesterday morning by Joseph Widuch, 17 years old, a self-styled inventor who said he was beaten by three men in an attempt to get the plans of an airplane device he had invented, is a complete hoax, the youth said in a confession obtained by Capt. Louis Klatzco. He hoped to gain publicity for his invention, Widuch said.



Joseph Widuch.

The youth, who said he came from Racine, Wis., three weeks ago, disappeared from the home of his sister, Mrs. Helen Young, 3411 Jackson boulevard, on Tuesday evening. He appeared yesterday with his face scratched and his body bruised, and gave a lurid account of a kidnaping by three well dressed men.

He was forced into a car, Widuch said, and then taken to an apartment where he was beaten. His invention, he said, involved the elimination of two of the motors of a three motored airplane. Air vents would be placed in the wings instead of the motors, with propellers at the rear of the vents which the airblast would revolve, helping lift the plane.

GIRL SUSPECTED OF AIDING FIVE IN JAIL BREAK

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 23 (AP).—Escape of five prisoners Tuesday night from the Hillsboro jail apparently was made possible by a 19 year old girl who is believed to have accompanied the men in their flight, the state highway patrol said today.

There has been no trace of the fugitives, and police in Illinois, Iowa and Arkansas have been asked to watch for them.

The girl, who served a 30 day term for petty larceny at Hillsboro in July, frequently visited one of the prisoners, and the patrol said she undoubtedly smuggled in the hacksaws used by the men in cutting thru the bars of their cells.

Joan Peabody Wedding to Be Family Affair

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE marriage of Miss Joan Peabody and Lt. Phil Porter Jr. tomorrow and the few parties for the bride-to-be are strictly family affairs, as the ceremony was arranged with only a week's notice. The bridegroom and his parents, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Porter of Dayton, O., are arriving today. There will be a small bridal dinner tonight in the Lake Forest home of Miss Peabody's parents, Lt. and Mrs. Howard B. Peabody, and a luncheon tomorrow at the Onwentsia club, given by Mrs. Peabody's cousin, Mrs. Albert Williams.

Mrs. Peabody's father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Learned of Natchez, Miss., are coming for the wedding. The bride's great-aunt, Mrs. Richard Metcalfe, is here with Mrs. Williams and will be in the small family circle that will hear Dr. Porter read the ceremony at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the Peabody home. A larger reception will follow at 8:30. Lt. Peabody, who is stationed in Philadelphia with the navy, will not arrive until tomorrow in time to give his daughter in marriage. Her sister, Miss Betty Peabody, will be her only attendant. Howard Peabody Jr. was unable to leave his classes at the merchant marine academy, but Andrew Peabody will be here from Exeter. Jack Tootle of St. Joseph, Mich., will be Lt. Porter's best man.

Lt. Porter, who is in the army air forces, and his bride will be at home in Indianapolis temporarily.

Other Wedding News.

All honors in the hurry up wedding derby go to Miss Beatrice Bamford and Charles K. Harris, who were married on a few hours' notice at 11:15 a. m. yesterday in St. Chrysostom's church. At 9:30 yesterday morning Miss Bamford, daughter of the Arthur J. Bamfords, was getting the family car from the garage and going about her usual morning tasks, but before two hours had passed she had changed into a gray-blue street dress and a charming little black velvet Dutch cap, and, with white gardenias as a wedding bouquet, she met her bridegroom at the altar of the church. Only the immediate families heard the Rev. Dudley Stark read the service. Instead of pausing for a wedding breakfast, Mr. Harris and his bride departed immediately by automobile for Fort Riley, Kas., where he serves as a minister with the army. He arrived from Fort Riley on Wednesday, when plans for the ceremony were made.

Miss Sibyl Rhoades, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Rhoades of Elgin, formerly of Blue Island, and Koder M. Collison of Philadelphia, Pa., will be married today in the chapel of Mercersburg academy, Mercersburg, Pa. The bride will be attended by her aunt, Mrs. Frederick F. Massey of Philadelphia, with whom she has been residing for the last year. After Oct. 2 Mr. Collison and his bride will be at home in Radnor, Pa.

Engagement News.

At a family dinner at home in Highland Park last night Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Roach announced the engagement of their daughter, Beverly Cleary, to Lt. [j. g.] Frederick Kent Blatchford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Blatchford of Long Beach, Ind., formerly of Winnetka. Lt. Blatchford is at home on leave from his duties in the Pacific as a dive bomber in the naval air corps. The wedding will not take place until his next leave.

Miss Roach, who was introduced to society on New Year's day, 1941, attended the Roycemore school, Northwestern university, and Marymount college. Lt. Blatchford is a graduate of the North Shore Country Day school and of Dartmouth. His older brother, Nathaniel Blatchford III., and his wife, the former Kitty Lawrence, just have moved to Glencoe. Miss Roach's older sister, Mrs. Richard Hosford Jr., and Mr. Hosford, telephoned their congratulations from their Montana ranch. Lt. Blatchford, who always is called "Key," has a younger brother, Nicholas, who is in the army, and Miss Roach has a subdebutante sister, Patsy. The Hosfords and their 2 year old daughter, Debbie, probably will be here for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley C. Smith of Winnetka announce the engagement of their daughter, Lois, to Aviation Cadet John C. Rasmussen of the army air forces, son of Mrs. C. P. Rasmussen of Milwaukee. Miss Smith attended Mills college

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

Model Lives.

"The things few persons know about our models," commented a woman standing in the wings as the girls filed past in new fall outfits at a recent business girl showing, "is that none of them do just this and nothing more. One of these girls is a secretary and models evenings; one of them is studying voice; one of them keeps house and models in her spare time; all of them work at something besides this or they hold two or three different modeling jobs. They work, and really work, which accounts for their being so alert."

It was time for the models to stroll out again in smart tailored costumes—"the clothes we like to wear because we feel so comfortable and at home in them," they said. It was easy to imagine them stepping into an office with a cheerful "Good morning."

"Do you like to model evening clothes?" I queried. "It's fun," they agreed, "but we feel more at ease, actually, in business clothes."

"Are they typed?" I asked. "Do the models wear only one or two types of costume?" The director of the fashion show said no. "To be a good model," she explained, "a girl must be able to put on any attractive outfit that fits her and make it her own; she must give the impression it was made just for her. That is the secret of being well dressed."

"Did any of them plan to be models?" I wondered, imagining them dressed up in their mothers' clothes when they were children. Not especially, they said. "It just sort of came about." They don't look upon modeling as a glamor job, these surprisingly busy young women who live by their looks. "We like to do it because it gives us time to do other things," they said as they dashed off.

Feminine Firsts.

There is only one full-fledged girl draftsman at the Douglas Aircraft company, Margaret Sue Mabe, a West Virginian with southern charm. . . . The first woman news broadcaster on CBS was Elizabeth Bemis. . . . An information operator, Mary Marovich, topped the service star list of the Illinois Bell Telephone company. She has been wearing two three star pins for her six brothers in service and recently joined the WAVES. . . . A Winnetka woman, Beatrice Wade, is heading the new department of occupational therapy at the University of Illinois college of medicine. . . . It is 17 months since the first woman workers were hired at the Kaiser-operated Oregon Shipbuilding corporation. Now they are saying one-third of all shipyards jobs can be filled by women.

Black Velvet Is Back Again —in Trim Suits

BY REA SEEGER.

The indispensable little black velvet suit for a fall and winter wardrobe is here again. This year it's redolent with Victorian charm, for virtually every two piece costume of jacket and skirt flaunts the very effective trim of old fashioned braid. Fanciful braid edgings with dangling ball fringe, braid that combines a fringe of tassels with a band of the braid, curlicues, double circles, frog patterned ideas, even bowknots and some motifs that are frankly copied from Chinese alphabetical characters add the needed silky elegance to these otherwise unadorned velvet suits.

You will find long sleeved jackets that hug the rib lines and are the shortest lengths imaginable, but they are unquestionably the smartest duets of slim skirt and jacket ever designed. The rich thick pile of the velvet and its undeniable dress parade elegance combine to make the ideal winter suit for all festive occasions.

Black velvet suits rate first position in the popularity lists, colored suits are next. Crimson velvet with white ermine ascots are flattering and the white fur can be alternated with fetching little dabs of feathered hats or the more intricately twisted turbans of plaid checked or striped taffeta.

Another revival is the black velvet suit also worn with white accents—white fur, lace, embroidery, and beadwork — or the black velvet models flashing with twinkling jet beads or sequins. Many of these black beauties are available as simple twosomes of skirt and jacket, ready for your own individual efforts with blouses, waistcoats, vestees, and ascots. Many have the third part, a blouse, available for an extra sum of money—due to the rulings covering separate pricings. No matter how you buy them, piece by piece, simply tailored affairs or the elaborately braided models, black velvet or a gay velvet suit, they are just what you need for your pet padded silk clothes hanger.

Steps Remain to Change Name of Field Museum

The Field Museum of Natural History is still the Field museum—temporarily—altho, as announced by its president, Stanley Field, at the 50th anniversary celebration last week, the name will be changed to the Chicago Museum of Natural History. The museum's trustees have approved the change, but several legal steps must be taken before it becomes official. It is not likely the change can be made before Dec. 1, Orr Goodson, acting director of the museum, said yesterday.

Use GORJUS HAIR DRESSING Rich in Lanolin

Thru the Looking Glass

For hands not as youthful looking as they once were we rather like a somewhat unusual hand lotion that seems to us both a skin soother and something of a skin dressing.

There is a little peanut oil in this—and that is an oil that's becoming increasingly important in the cosmetic field. The lotion is pale pink, with a pleasant fragrance and it's as thin as milk. You'll be tempted to slosh it on. That's not the trick. Use only a few drops, working them in quite well, and we suggest that you use it at night, or in the day time when you have the time to give the hands a pretty good massage. Once the milky lotion is thoroly absorbed you'll notice that the skin feels much softer to the touch. Your fingers will be a little slippery for a few minutes—and that's why you'll probably prefer to use it at night when your hands are not going to be busy.

This is a preparation for hands that are extremely dry, with the skin ageing much too rapidly for your peace of mind, and it seems to us more a treatment preparation than one of those quick drying lotions you would use whenever the spirit moved you. Keep it on your bedside table. It helps to soften the skin and to whiten it a little, and to protect it against oil depleting experiences, among which we can list harsh soaps, harsh weather, and just the harsh experience of growing older!

When you use this, you'd be wise to work in a bit extra to the knuckles and the finger tips, the two areas that seem to line and crack first.

Lt. Gov. Cross Urges All Women in Illinois to Save Waste Fats

Lt. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, chairman of the conservation committee of the Illinois war council, yesterday appealed to women thruout the state to save all waste fats.

Twice as much salvaged grease as is being collected at present must be saved if the state is to meet its 1,267,000 pound monthly quota, the lieutenant governor said, adding that the country now is running 8,000,000 pounds a month behind its national minimum requirements.

"The fact that Illinois has been falling short of its quota proves that many households do not save even a teaspoonful of fats per day, when only that one teaspoonful from each household would make the quota," he asserted.

Drive Planned to Create Huge Pool of Nurses

A nation-wide voluntary registration of nurses from which 36,000 recruits will be sought by June 30, 1944, for service with military forces was announced yesterday by officials here of the procurement and assignment service of the war man power commission. The date of the registration, patterned on the operation of the selective service methods, is expected to be about Jan. 1, according to officers of the Illinois committee which will direct the registration thruout the state.

The directing board of the procurement and assignment service, which is the governing authority in obtaining doctors, dentists, and veterinarians for the military, will direct the new drive to assemble a pool of nurses. Dr. Frank H. Lahey is chairman of the national directing board. In Illinois, Dr. Ralph A. Kordenat, 30 North Michigan avenue, heads a committee which heretofore has dealt solely with medical and dental quotas.

The registration is expected to find thousands of nurses for military and civilian needs, Miss Madeleine McConnell, chairman for Illinois, said in announcing her committee.

In outlining the registration plans at a meeting of state chairmen here early this month, Miss L. Louise Baker, assistant executive officer of the nursing division of the war man power commission, is said to have estimated the registry in the nation would total approximately 1,000,000 registered nurses. There are 29,156 nurses registered in Illinois.

Latest official figures list 36,000 nurses now in army service. This is one-fifth the number listed as active in the country. At the offices of the Illinois State Nurses association, 8 South Michigan avenue, Miss June A. Ramsey, executive secretary, said the new call as now outlined would ask all retired nurses to register in the 11 nursing districts of the state.

Miss McConnell, director of the school of nursing at St. Luke's hospital, was named to the post of chairman by Commissioner Paul V. McNutt. She serves without pay. The committee to conduct the registration and later the placement of the nurses who volunteer is:

Miss Sarah Daily, president Illinois State Nurses association, Springfield; Miss Anna L. Tittman, director of nurse placement service, midwest section, American Nurses association; Mrs. Armina S. Farrar, director of nursing, Palmer Sanitarium, Springfield; Miss Maude Carson, director of nursing division, Illinois department of public health; Miss Marie Brophy, director of veterans facility, Hines hospital; Miss Mary Bogardus, Billings hospital; Miss Minnie A. Carlson, director of nurses registry, Rockford; Mrs. Alta M. Leonard, director, school of nurses, Silver Cross hospital, Joliet; Miss Helen E. Cline, Bloomington; Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, secretary, Red Cross recruitment committee; Mrs. Ada R. Crocker, Miss Marion Ferguson, and Miss Ramsey.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

Miss Amy Herbert, September winner of THE TRIBUNE's monthly woman war worker award, a $25 war bond and engraved certificate of merit, is a school teacher at the Illinois division plant of Bendix Aviation corporation, 505 North Sacramento boulevard.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Amy Herbert, September winner of The Tribune woman war worker award.

Her classroom, equipped with high desks provided with precision instruments, mechanical devices for carburetor, and textbooks, is the training ground for a crew of young women who are thoroly instructed in accuracy on the inspection line. This instruction assures stronger and more perfect carburetors for America's fighting planes.

The wide appeal last year for women workers in war industries prompted Miss Herbert to leave her nonessential civilian job as a millinery teacher and designer and don the uniform of a defense worker. She enrolled in a war training class in precision inspection and found her talents in handling needles and shears stood her in good stead in wielding micrometers, calipers, and gauges.

Miss Herbert enrolled at Bendix on Jan. 3, 1943, shortly after the vast plant was completed. It was when the plant expanded and production increased that plant executives chose this highly skilled inspector to teach the thousands of young women being hired to be precise and accurate inspectors. Amy became the first Bendix school teacher.

In the nine months she's been employed Miss Herbert never has been absent or tardy. She was recommended for the award by Eremeldo Cairelli, plant educational director, not only for her nonabsenteeism record but because of her untiring efforts in being sure that her pupils learn their jobs thoroly.

This month's woman war worker award winner, who works on a six day schedule, eight hours a day, finds time to spend two evenings a week teaching millinery at the Chicago Public Evening school. She also invests 10 per cent of each pay check in war bonds, participates in Red Cross activities, and likes to swim, read, bowl, and attend baseball games—when she has the time for such recreation.

Foremen on all three shifts at Bendix were asked to nominate candidates from their departments for the Tribune award. In addition to Miss Herbert, 17 other women employes were recommended, and their qualifications were so high that a final selection was difficult. Bendix officials will honor all 18 women in the finals this week with a luncheon, followed by presentation of special certificates of merit.

The committee which selected Miss Herbert was composed of R. W. Keeley, general manager; Max Winter, works manager; J. H. Flemming, chief inspector; J. J. Halliday, plant superintendent, and Clara C. Higgins, women's counsellor.

The Bendix corporation was one of the first to introduce specialized training courses for employes, with pay while learning. The Illinois division, being new in personnel, machining and tooling, was a perfect proving ground for this industrial venture. Every employe, no matter how small a cog, is a specially trained person.

Amy Herbert helped carry out this training plan, which makes those who successfully complete the courses highly skilled aviation technicians, with a future in the post-war world. She also is a member of the Bendix women's advisory council, and is intensely interested in all philanthropic projects of the corporation.

Ceremonies of the presentation of the award will be broadcast tomorrow from 9:15 to 9:30 a. m. over station W-G-N.

The October winner of the Tribune woman war worker award will be chosen from among the employes of the Buick motor division's aviation engine plant in Melrose Park.

High Holidays of Jews Open on Wednesday

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Special preparations are going forward thruout the Jewish community for the observance of high holidays opening Wednesday at sundown. The first of the cycle of great days will be Rosh Hashana, which for ages has been New Year's day and has held deep significance thruout all Judaism. The second is Yom Kippur, or day of atonement, which this year begins on the eve of Oct. 9.

The high holidays, covering a period of 10 days of penitence with many aspects of the Christian periods of advent and lent, are yamim noraim or days of awe to the Jew, and differ from other festivals in that they are neither historical nor agricultural in origin. They concern the individual rather than members of a group.

During the period, the Jew generally abstains from ordinary daily occupations and participates in communal worship. Greeting cards expressing good wishes are distributed among relatives and friends, and home customs reflect concern over the fate for the new year. The kiddush, or sanctification prayer, is said and the festive lights are kindled with appropriate ceremony. The blowing of the ram's horn, or shofar, is most characteristic of high holiday services as well as during the month Elul preparation for the festival period.

The American Episcopal church will be faced with its next three years of activities and problems as the 54th general convention of the church opens tomorrow in Cleveland, O. It will be a war time streamlined convention, with a notable reduction of special events and social features which in peace time attracted as many as 10,000 persons from all parts of the country.

Chief debate is expected to center on a proposed basic plan of unity with the Presbyterian church. The Chicago delegation, led by Bishops Wallace E. Conkling and Edwin J. Randall, is committed against the proposal. Revision of the canon law on marriage, election of a presiding bishop, the problem of a proposed see for the elected primate, and plans for post-war activity are among matters to be considered.

Four hundred Protestant ministers of Chicago yesterday heard plans outlined at a luncheon for the Chicago Bible crusade to be held during the first two weeks of December under auspices of the Chicago Bible society, 35 East Wacker drive. The luncheon was held at the La Salle hotel, with Dr. George Dillworth of Philadelphia, secretary of the Pennsylvania Bible society; Dr. V. G. Hodges of Cleveland, O., and Rome A. Betts of New York, executive secretary of the American Bible society, as principal speakers.

Youth's contribution to the war thruout allied nations will be dramatically presented Sunday night in a "Children for Victory Festival" at the Jewish Peoples' institute, 3500 Douglas boulevard. Sponsoring the event, described as an unusual program of children's entertainment for adults, are the west side war relief committee and the west side division of the American Jewish congress.

3 Million Dollar Expansion Plan at Illinois Tech

BY AL CHASE.

Illinois Institute of Technology, which was outbid in its efforts to buy the Stevens hotel for a downtown technological center, is going ahead on a large scale to develop its 20 acre south side campus centering at Dearborn and 33d streets. President Henry T. Heald yesterday announced that the first step in a program involving more than 3 million dollars was taken this week when ground was broken for a ceramics research building, planned eventually to cover an entire city block.

Heald said that altho failure to get the Stevens was a disappointment now, eventually the institute probably would find its south side campus better adapted than the big hotel to developing what is hoped may become the country's greatest technical center.

The institute's development program will go ahead as fast as priorities and building materials are available," Heald said. "Funds already are on hand for half of the program. The balance will be secured this fall.

"The institute needs an adequate physical plant, and it is urgently working on the problem of getting such a plant. Starting work on the ceramics research building this week is evidence."

The metals and minerals research building, dedicated last January, designed by Ludwig Mies Van der Rohe, has set a style of functional architecture which is to be followed in the new ceramics building and other units to be built later, Heald said.

Eventually, the president explained, Lewis institute activities will be transferred to the south side, as will work now being done in 22 locations thruout the city.

There are now 7,024 persons studying at Illinois Tech, including 691 navy V-12 men and 501 in the army specialized training program.

Illinois Tech was high bidder for the Stevens hotel on Sept. 4, offering $5,500,000. It provided only $1,500,000 cash, however, which failed to comply with the army ruling that bids must be all cash. A. S. Kirkeby, of the Drake and Blackstone hotels, bid $5,251,000, all cash, and obtained the hotel.

According to Culbertson

In the early days of contract, many players were so green that psychic bids could easily confuse them and throw them completely off stride. In this enlightened age, however, there is no excuse for such "innocence" as West displayed in the following deal.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade [!]	Pass	2 spades	Pass
3 no trump	Double	4 spades	Pass
4 no trump	Double	Pass	Pass
Redouble	Pass	Pass	Pass

As may be seen, South was so anxious to befuddle the opponents that he passed up a perfectly sound two diamond bid in order to start with a psychic spade. Let it not be thought that I approve of this practice—there is great danger that partner will persist with the first-bid suit. But I cannot deny that, against certain gullible opponents, and especially at match-point scoring, this type of psychic often is successful.

That the North-South bidding was entirely ethical was manifested by North's innocent four spade rescue after three no trump was doubled. When South took this rescue back to four no trump it was, of course, apparent to North that "something funny" was going on. But West, who had even more grounds for suspicion, probably had tasted blood and now was straining for the kill. At any rate, he walked into the parlor with another double, and South, the spider, promptly swatted him with a redouble.

It was a thoroly uncomfortable hand for East and West. West, torn between a heart and a club lead, finally decided on the heart jack. Dummy's queen was played, and held. All seven diamond tricks then were rattled off. Coming down to five cards, West held grimly to the spade A-Q, the heart king, and the K-9 of clubs. Declarer cashed the heart ace, then exited with the spade king. West collected the ace and queen, but then had to lead a club to declarer's tenace, thus presenting him with an overtrick on the redoubled contract.

INSTALMENT V.
ANOTHER MURDER.

A scratchy pen poised over a hotel register. The visitor raised heavy eyes and asked, "What's today?"

"Monday," the manageress told her. "May 12th."

Londoner, the manageress decided, glancing briefly at the oyster white coat, the manicured hands. She led the way down a stuffy passage, the guest tagging behind.

"You did say you'd like the ground floor? Then here you are."

The new arrival wasn't looking at the room. After pausing a full minute in the middle of the flowered drugget she had moved over to the window. "What's that wall?"

"That? That's Gridley's. It's a loading shed for poultry, you know, London trade. If you're wondering about noise," the manageress continued, "they don't deliver only twice weekly. Between times it's quiet as the grave."

The woman said nothing, just prolonged her stare.

"And if it's bombs you're worrying about," the manageress comforted, "Bexminster's had none yet—touching wood!"

"What," the visitor said druggedly, "about food?"

On a straw mattress a tired vandriver stirred, yawned sluggishly, and with a powerful jerk sat up against the grimed joist of a wall.

"Mike," he called in a dry whisper. Then again, "Mike!"

Silence lengthened. A suspicious scowl narrowed the awakened youth's eyes as his rough trousered legs slid to the ladder rungs hard by and bore him quickly to the yard below. It was proper dark now, quiet, too, though some sound must have just finished, else why had he roused? Not much of a noise. It was doubtful his noticing it at all, but for meaning to be up round about now.

His second brisk stride had sent him sprawling in some pool of slippery muck. A form was prostrate in it. It was Mike Riley—and Mike Riley was dead.

In the depths of Dorset a farmer's wife woke with a start.

"That dratted key! Don't tell me I left it in the door?"

She groped for the peg behind the bed. The Foxgloves' key wasn't there. Half a mind to rouse her slumbering husband, she decided against it. Not likely mischief would come of her lapse; and yet . . . well, Foxgloves wasn't empty any longer, it had got furniture in it . . . grand city stuff, since this afternoon. Should have come down on the Monday, owner with it, 'stead of which the van hadn't turned up till a day later and the owner not at all.

Mrs. Swayne worked her feet into a pair of scuffed shoes, caught up a battered old raincoat and slipped out.

The darkness was dense, the stars dimmed and mist lay cupped in the hollows, but the farmer's wife needed no guide. Confidently she turned a bend, hurried into a stony carttrack and pushed open a gate. Here, tho, she stopped, obscurely cognizant of something wrong. Sounds!

At the foot of an invisible slope nestled Foxgloves Cottage—a sheen of slate roof, nothing more. Nothing moving inside those thick gray stone walls.

There it was again! Furtive stirring of bushes, the faint ring of a pebble dislodged.

Mrs. Swayne passed the gate and pressed onward . . . Christmas! What was that?

Some wild, furred creature brushed past her, capsizing her into scratchy gorse. Whatever it might be, it had nipped into the hedge. Crossly Mrs. Swayne stumbled ahead, attained a cinder path and backed, hand over heart. She heard, distinct in the stillness, the creak of a floorboard; then, after a pause, a footfall moving steadily in one of the furniture-blocked rooms. The back door was a dozen paces away. Tight closed; but the key? She turned on her heels and ran.

"Will! Will!" she urged. "Wake up! There be goings on. I'm afeared——"

Farmer Swayne blinked stupidly in the candlelight. His wife poured out her tale. With wordless scorn he dug a huge iron key from the pocket of the cord breeches beside the bed.

"Front door that be," Mrs. Swayne objected. "Back un's my bother. I must 'a' forgot it, Will. And key or no key——"

"Wo's this?"

She gazed confounded at the second, less bulky key her husband had taken from the window ledge. Then, as he resettled for sleep, she shook him with new energy and in the end got him, grudging and skeptical, into his clothes. Together they approached the cottage.

"Now you listen," the woman whispered. For two full minutes they stood still in their tracks, but all was serene.

Swayne was shaking the door. "Back's locked," he announced. "Front too, I seed to myself."

The front door also held firm. Swayne unlocked it, stepped gingerly inside.

"Don't Will!"

A match flared. By its flame the farmer was peering into one after another of the four cluttered rooms. All seemed precisely as he and the van driver had left it, and certainly there was no one here but themselves.

"A-dreaming you were," he declared.

In the wide doorway of Foxgloves Cottage Wren drank in the view. Like New England, she reflected, only the hills were more handsmoothed, more freshly green.

Glancing up at the planeless sky Wren thought, "I don't have to do that any more. Why can't I shout with joy?"

It must be because since Saturday she'd been too numbed to care about views, safety or anything else. She'd slept—and how!—practically ever since the raid. She still wanted to sleep—and here it was Thursday, if she hadn't lost count.

Turning back into the stone cottage was like walking into a cave. The woman at the kitchen sink had gentian blue eyes, a brown face and a slow, winning smile.

"Mite awkward," she sympathized, "you being told to leave things in a muddle like. Awkward, too, making do without your 'lectric and gas."

"We worked straight thru the raid, packing up, you know, till one wing of the apartment house got struck. That, of course, stopped us. The owner of all this broke her leg."

MEATS, CHEESE, FATS, OILS: Red stamps X, Y, Z, good thru Oct. 2; brown stamps A [book No. 3] valid Sept. 12 and brown stamps B valid Sept. 19, both good thru Oct. 2.

Cold weather meals call for hot soups, and the thought of ration point expenditures for canned goods isn't a comforting one. So solve your prospective worries by putting the soup kettle on the range now and can your own vegetable purees.

Seasoned tomato puree will be a time-saving aid to the busy homemaker, too, when meat loaves, spaghetti, macaroni, and a number of casserole dishes require a tasty sauce as one of the ingredients.

Concentrated soups made with nonacid vegetables should be canned in the pressure cooker for perfect safety, but if the hot water bath is used for processing, the soup must be boiled for at least 10 minutes before tasting.

Canned Vegetable Purees.

Select fresh vegetables and prepare as for cooking. Steam until tender or cook in the smallest possible amount of water. Press thru a fine sieve or thru food mill. Add boiling water, if necessary, to make the puree about the consistency of thick cream. Add 1 teaspoon salt to each quart if desired. Reheat to boiling and pour into sterilized jars. Process quart jars 60 minutes at 10 pounds pressure or 3 hours in hot water bath. Process half pint jars for 50 minutes at 10 pounds pressure or 3 hours in hot water bath.

Canned Tomato Puree.
[With seasonings.]

4 quarts chopped tomatoes
6 onions
3 carrots
2 cups chopped celery
3 sweet peppers
Salt and pepper to taste.

Wash, chop, and measure firm, ripe tomatoes. Steam or simmer until soft. Press thru fine sieve. Cook until thick. Chop other vegetables. Add seasoning. Cover with boiling water and cook until soft, then press thru sieve. Add to the tomato pulp. Reheat to boiling and pour into sterilized jars. Process for 45 minutes in hot water bath.

Canned Tomato Soup.

1 teaspoon mixed spices
6 quarts chopped tomatoes
1 cup chopped celery
4 onions
2 sprigs parsley
1½ cups water
½ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup flour
1 tablespoon sugar
Salt and pepper to taste

Add spices to vegetables and water. Simmer until vegetables are soft. Drain vegetables, saving the liquid. Press vegetables thru a fine sieve. Melt butter, add flour, stirring until blended, then add the liquid. Stir until thick and smooth. Add vegetables, sugar, salt and pepper. Cook until thickened. Pour into sterilized jars. Process 35 minutes at 10 pounds pressure or 2 hours in hot water bath. [This soup should be quite thick. Thin with milk or water or soup stock for serving.]

Canned Vegetable Soup.

Use any combination of vegetables desired for soup. Mix the vegetables and boil for 5 minutes with water to cover or with tomatoes which have been skinned and chopped. Season with salt and pepper. Pour boiling hot into sterilized jars. Process for the time given for the vegetables in the soup which requires the longest processing.

[Processing time for vegetables is included in Mary Meade's booklet, "Homemaker's Guide to Canning," which is available for 7 cents in stamps. Write to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune, for a copy.]

Corn Is Tasty on Cob? Well, Try It in Cakes

It's unnecessary to dwell on the goodness of fresh, buttered, corn-on-the-cob, but corn-off-the-cob has its good points, too. The golden kernels of leftover corn, for instance, are responsible for this fluffy, custardlike pudding and these delightful griddle cakes. Try either dish to fill out an otherwise sketchy meal.

Corn Pudding.
[Serves six.]

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ green pepper, chopped fine
1 small onion, minced
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk, scalded
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash of cayenne
1 teaspoon sugar
2½ cups cooked corn, grated
1 canned pimiento, minced
2 eggs, well beaten
¼ cup buttered crumbs

Melt butter over low heat. Add green pepper and onion, cover and cook gently for 5 minutes, but do not brown vegetables. Add flour, mix well, and cook, stirring constantly, for 2 minutes. Add milk, seasonings, and sugar; cook until mixture is smooth and thickened. Add corn and pimiento and mix well. Blend in eggs and pour into greased casserole. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in moderately slow oven [325 degrees] for 40 minutes or until mixture is firm. Serve immediately.

Corn Cakes.
[Serves six.]

2 eggs, well beaten
2 cups grated fresh corn, cooked
¾ cup sifted flour
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon salt

Mix ingredients together thoroly. Drop by tablespoonsful onto well greased griddle. Cook on both sides until lightly browned. Serve with maple sirup or brown sugar.

Wild Grape Jelly Adds Something to Venison

Wild grape jelly is delicious with venison. To make the jelly, wash and stem 2 quarts of wild grapes, add 1 cup vinegar, 1 tablespoon whole cloves, and a small piece of stick cinnamon. Heat slowly and cook until grapes are soft. Strain. Place over heat and cook rapidly until amount is reduced by half. Add 3 cups brown sugar and cook until mixture reaches the jelly test. Pour into clean, dry glasses and seal.

Save Those Leftover Navy Beans to Make This Alluring Souffle

Yesterday's cooked navy beans needn't go to waste, for they can become the basis of another meal. And you won't recognize the fact that leftovers are hidden in the contents of this puffy souffle.

Navy Bean Souffle.
[Serves six.]

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 teaspoon minced onion
⅔ cup evaporated milk
2 eggs, separated
⅔ cup cooked, sieved navy beans

Melt butter. Blend in flour and, when smooth and bubbling, add salt, pepper, onion, and milk. Cook over boiling water until thick, stirring constantly. Add beaten egg yolks and continue cooking for 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Cool slightly. Add bean pulp and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into greased custard cups. Set in a shallow pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees] until set and lightly browned, about 30 minutes. Serve at once.

Here's Variation if You Get Tired of Green Beans

If frequent servings of green beans are becoming monotonous, try this variation: Saute 1 cup chopped onion in a little fat until tender, then add to a quart of cooked green beans. Add 1 cup of top milk, ½ teaspoon nutmeg and 1 teaspoon salt. Simmer the mixture for 5 minutes or place in the oven to finish cooking.

Turn Cottage Cheese into Fluffy Souffle

Many and various are the dishes you can put together with creamy cottage cheese as the chief ingredient. Mounds of cottage cheese and crisp crackers make delightful snacks when the cheese is mixed with jam or jelly, minced chives, pimiento, chopped olives, or nuts. Or simply sprinkle the cheese with a little sugar and cinnamon for extra flavor. Balls of cottage cheese are an excellent addition to fruit and vegetable salads, and old fashioned cheese cake always is popular.

But perhaps you haven't tasted cottage cheese in a fluffy, golden brown souffle. These nutritious, ration-wise recipes solve either the main course or the dessert problem.

Spanish Souffle.
[Serves six.]

2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
4 eggs, separated
1½ cups sieved cooked or canned tomatoes
2 cups cottage cheese
1 tablespoon onion juice
½ teaspoon salt

Melt butter, add flour, and, when well blended, add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Let cook for one minute. Remove from heat and beat in one egg yolk at a time. Add tomato pulp, cottage cheese, onion juice, and salt. Mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into cheese mixture. Pour into well greased baking dish and bake in a moderately slow oven [300-325 degrees] until firm, about 1 hour. Serve at once.

Cottage Cheese Dessert Souffle.
[Serves eight.]

1 cup milk
¾ cup flour
¾ cup sugar
4 eggs, separated
2 cups cottage cheese
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon vanilla

Heat milk to boiling; sift in ¼ cup of the flour with ½ cup of the sugar, and cook with constant stirring until thickened. Pour over beaten egg yolks, stirring vigorously; add cottage cheese, lemon rind and juice, and vanilla. Mix in remaining flour. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and gradually beat in remaining sugar; lightly fold into mixture. Pour into greased baking dish and bake in moderately slow oven [300-325 degrees] for one hour.

Normal Child Is Not Always Well Behaved

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Babies and children just aren't going to fit into the neat little pattern of behavior that many grownups cut out for them.

Of course it would be most convenient if they were always quiet, clean, sweet tempered, and 100 per cent obedient. But they wouldn't be human; they wouldn't be normal if they were. For growing, learning young creatures are sure to be noisy and disobedient, to get dirty, and to show primitive emotions such as anger at times. So you're doomed to disappointment if you expect your child to grow up and fit into a neat little idealistic behavior pattern at each step of the way.

My advice is: Don't be so horrified when your baby or little child screams or howls when he's angry, yells when he's frustrated, cries when he's unhappy. Don't be disturbed by loud voices, shouts of laughter, roughness, and noise in your family.

"Hush! Hush!" I've heard again and again from a mother to a noisy child just because he was noisy. Well, why shouldn't he be noisy? There are times when we must say hush, but just noise of itself is not always to be checked.

Every child should have some place where he can shout if he feels like it, stamp, and run freely without being scolded. To have to say "hush!" constantly because of the people downstairs is just too bad. I know a family which lives in a city apartment. At some inconvenience to the grownups they always choose a place to live in where no one below will complain. They realize that children must give vent to their feelings and emotions.

As a matter of fact, you have your own attitude as well as the neighbors' to handle. You, yourself, can get so you like the clatter, laughter, nonsense, and noise of children, free and full of vitality. Or you can become so that you cringe for yourself and other grownups at the vigor of young things, and coddle your nerves so that they are affronted by the sounds made by wholesome red blooded children.

To be sure, the expression of a child's emotions must eventually be handled. And there are times when we want quiet for our own sake, and other times when we want quiet for the children's sake. For they don't always know when they've had enough activity and excitement and we must decide it. But we are much surer of obtaining these if the lid isn't on all the time.

The main point, however, is to learn to understand and like the signs of wholesome vitality and freedom in your children.

FASHIONS

By Angela

The intriguing shapes and sizes of this season's purses are a never ending source of amazement. The materials, just as exciting, speak volumes for the designers' ingenuity.

Enormous is the word for the cleverly cut drawstring pouch bag of green felt, upper left. The long navy blue drawstring may be so arranged as to be worn over the shoulder or carried over arm. Matching strips of felt trim the sides.

You can carry as much as a postman in the huge red felt mail bag, lower left. It has an adjustable handle and an adjustable drawstring under the flap, which allows for expansion should greater storage space be required. It is available in green, brown, and black, and priced under $3.

A more conservative yet equally voluminous bag is the felt and faille pouch, sketched upper right. The ribbon drawstrings, which are run thru felt, are decorated with tiny gold balls. Faille binding along the sides adds to its dressy qualities. This bag is also available in red, brown, and black.

A most unique creation is the faille show-off bag, lower right, which can double for a muff if need be. It is devoid of any trimming and is beautifully lined in matching silk. It is available in kelly, brown, jungle green, black, red, and roman stripes.

Another version of the drawstring bag combines black felt or leather, with faille, sketched center. Not so large as the others it still affords ample room for feminine essentials. Faille slots are spaced around the neck and silk cording is run thru. This bag also is available in suede and in red, kelly, and turf tan.

Good Morning!

History repeats itself in this great, gorgeous [it's in technicolor] screen version of the Irving Berlin stage show.

By history repeating itself I mean that storied action which takes place during the first World war occurs all over again years later—in a different tempo—with many of the identical characters who'd been featured in 1918 taking bows in the limelight of today.

The piece is really a colossal vaudeville revue hinged on the simple yarn of a soldier and the girl he loves but refuses to marry till the war is over. . . . The lady, however, feels differently and pursues him. With a chaplain by her side and the ring in her pocket, she finally corners and conquers him. . . . That's all the story there really is.

George Murphy as Jerry Jones, a popular dancer, is called by Uncle Sam in the first World war. . . . With his buddies he puts on a show called "Yip, Yip Yaphank."

World War I. is over. . . . Jerry Jones and his friends retire to private life. Jerry has a game leg in which had nested a Hun bullet. . . . He lives happily with his wife and his son [Ronald Reagan]. He's the boy and Joan Leslie's the girl of the aforementioned story.

Comes World War II. Jerry, now a theatrical producer; his son, and many of the other old timers and their sons, get together, and "This Is The Army," a new soldier show, is under way—a show that tours—and wows!—the country in the interests of army relief.

All the 350 soldiers who appeared in the Broadway musical and in its cross country tour are to be seen in the film in their original roles. As a matter of fact the whole stage production may be said to have been "lifted" from stage to screen—with additional scenes from Irving Berlin's "Yip, Yip Yaphank."

The picture is long but for the life of me I don't see what you would have left out of it. Certainly not one of the 18 Berlin songs, certainly not the "Mandy" minstrel number which takes quite a while, certainly not the start, and most certainly not the grand finale—"This Time Is the Last Time," in which all 350 soldiers appear as well as 150 men from the 174th Infantry. . . . Certainly not anything—I guess—should or could have been omitted. Because, as is, "This Is The Army" is one grand spectacle—the best thing Warner Brothers ever turned out. Such acting! Such singing! SUCH direction. Such FUN!

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood . . . . By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 23.—One of Hollywood's greatest evils has now become a national menace. I'm speaking of that weakness of human nature that raises its standard of living with every increase in the pay check. . . . Many Hollywood stars of ten years ago, whose weekly checks were in four figures, are broke today. People are always saying, "How can that possibly be?" Well, it's because they didn't have character enough to maintain their normal standard of living when their paycheck went sky high. . . . Now many of our nation's wage earners are getting more money than they ever dreamed of—with fewer luxuries to buy. . . . Have you ever sat in a crowded restaurant and heard someone say, "Don't look now, but I think that is so-and-so at that table back there"—and you get a spasm in your neck until you can turn and take a look? Well, I'm saying, "Don't look now"—but thousands of people after this war is over will be regretting they spent all that money for things they didn't need instead of buying war bonds. . . . I picked up an 18 year old boy in my car yesterday. He had just been offered a job at $82.50 a week, but didn't think he'd take it because his pal was making $110—and why should he. Well, I say our nation's sense of values is all cockeyed. . . . Raising one's standard of living beyond necessities has become a national menace. Let's not buy anything we don't need. Invest the rest in war bonds.

Keep Coming.

The Manuel Quezons have taken a year's lease on Marion Davies' house, recently vacated by the Cover Girls. They're a delightful addition to our community—incidently two Cover Girls are shopping for basinettes. . . . Twentieth Century is to be congratulated that the treasury department borrowed Ted Lloyd, who heads Twentieth's eastern radio department. Ted was sent to the coast for the bond rally and is doing a swell job. . . . The wife of one of our top airplane producers here is working as a welder in his competitor's plant under an assumed name.

Think Again.

Understand Mae West won't do Michael Todd's "Men in My Life." She begins another picture here in four weeks. Too bad she wasn't cast for "Belle of the Yukon." She'd be terrific. . . . Henry Morgan, doing William Saroyan's one act play, "Hello Out There," at the Playtime theater, is definitely star material. When that was put on a couple of years ago at Santa Barbara, the girl opposite him was Jennifer Jones.

Mae West.

Important Business.

Grace Moore wires from Colorado Springs she won't be able to dance the light fantastic with Rex St. Cyr and friends at the court of Romanoff end of this month. She's returning east for bond rally concerts and to finish her autobiography. . . . Jane Wyman having pals in for cocktails for Grad Sears. Don't understand why Warners don't get behind little Janie. To me she's got everything. And our town goes on crying for leading women. . . . Elsa Maxwell and Mrs. Evelyn McLean winding up their hectic visit with a dance Sunday night. Mrs. McLean took Darryl Zanuck's three children on a shopping spree. They came home with gold knick-knacks which included a pair of earrings which Mrs. Zanuck borrows for state occasions.

Dry Those Tears.

When Red Skelton finished "Ubangis Will Win the War," he thought he'd better get a man who knows his split infinitives and hanging participles, so persuaded a college professor to do an editorial job on it. He re-did three chapters, sent it back with the comment, "It just wasn't worth anything." Now Red's bemoaning the fact he'll have to re-do them because all his good gags were put into good English and nobody will understand them.

He's Found a Horseshoe.

Good luck sure came to Bill Eythe. First came the lead in "The Eve of St. Mark." Then Tommy Dorsey took an option on his song "Love Is Kind." Now a check for $500 from Bennett Cerf as advance on a mystery novel Bill wrote called "Slightly on the Homicide." . . . Mary Young, former Broadway leading lady, also in "Watch on the Rhine," has struck oil and how! Years ago somebody persuaded her to invest in oil in Tyler, Tex. She's not only floating in the stuff but can now back her own pctures. . . . George Givot leaves for New York to play in "Mexican Hayride" with Bobby Clark and June Havoc. . . . George O'Brien, silent actor, was physical instructor down in San Diego, but asked for combat duty. He's with an amphibian group in Alaska. . . . Congratulated Lewis Stone on his new life's deal at Metro. He said, "Hedda, I don't know anything about it. I have another two years to run on my present contract. I haven't heard of another one." Met Lew at a bond rally, also Georgie Jessel, who tells me his next, which is fiction, will be "Hope Comes in the Morning." For my money, hope's not bad at night either.

and was graduated in May from the University of Wisconsin. Cadet Rasmussen also attended the university, and was engaged in business in Milwaukee before entering the air forces. He is stationed in Monroe, Ia.

On Today's Calendar.

Two items of interest that will be included in a sale of antiques at 8 o'clock tonight at the Second Presbyterian church are anything but antique or inanimate. They are a pair of angora kittens, one pure white, the other brown mottled, and the committee estimates that they will attract plenty of attention. The sale is being held for the benefit of the church's Anne H. Giles Memorial fund, and many families that have been associated with the church have donated heirlooms to the cause. Cyrus G. Hill, a nephew of Miss Giles, who headed the church's women's societies for many years, has given a Minton china bowl. Alumnae of the old Dearborn seminary will be interested in seeing or buying the huge Chinese cup and saucer which the late founder of the school, Prof. Zuinglius Grover, used every morning. A talk by 90 year old Francis Marion Smith, who knew President Lincoln; music, and other entertainment are on the program for the evening. The church is at Michigan avenue and 20th street.

Mrs. Andrew MacLeish, whose husband made possible the professorship at the University of Chicago held by Bernadotte E. Schmitt, will be among those at the speaker's table today at the Palmer House when Prof. Schmitt speaks on "What Shall We Do with Germany?" The occasion will be a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations. Mr. Schmitt, whose title is the Andrew MacLeish distinguished service professor of modern history, has been internationally acclaimed for his treatment of the origins of the first World war in a two volume book, "The Coming of the War, 1914."

Frederic C. Woodward, president of the council, will preside at the luncheon, which will mark the opening of the fall season. Mrs. Woodward, the Barrett Wendells, the Alfred E. Hamills, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Ames, Mrs. Laird Bell, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. G. Corson Ellis, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Puttkammer also will be at the speaker's table. The Osbornes just have moved to La Grange. His business formerly took him to Mainz, Germany, and Sweden.

Let Your Face Express Alert, Expectant Air

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Has anybody told you lately that "something wonderful must have happened to you; you look so gay and blooming"? Has somebody suggested that "you must have just come back from a glorious vacation, you look so well"?

If no one has come thru with such applause, maybe it's because you have adopted the downcast look as a habit. Maybe you have overlooked the value of looking as if something were worthwhile and pleasant in your life. A number of us do go around as if we were permanent victims of a cruel fate, with no evidence to support the dour expression. We simply get the habit of looking that way and feeling that way. The women with the real sorrows in their hearts show less of it in their faces than the natural born droopers.

One Rebecca who has just delivered herself of a smart little book entitled, "How to Be the Smart Woman in War Time" [House of Dietz] speaks of the mental, morale, and physical value of cultivating expectancy; to be always on the edge of something. Power lies that way, we're told. She offers a little formula which you write out and tuck under your pillow so you'll feel and read it first thing in the morning. It's to fill you with expectation that will each day bring you nearer your desires:

"I am standing on the edge of something—something good that will come to me. When I step out of bed I step into 16 fresh hours of expectancy. I shall keep my desire before me. In my 16 hours I shall take a step toward my goal. All day I shall feel that I am standing on the edge of something."

It may just, as Rebecca promises, "make your expression come alive, alert as if you were listening. The eagerness of youth may reappear in your eyes as it does when one is looking expectantly toward something nice."

Household Forum

By Louise Bargelt

Mrs. Frank H., Chicago—Our bedroom windows are narrow and not very high. Recently I tried the "curtain rod dodge" on advice of a friend. My tiebacks all hang now from a rod I attached to wall, four inches higher and wider than windows. Now the windows all look "higher and wider."

Irene Hecker, 206 West Lincoln street, Mount Morris, Ill.—Our drinking water is decidedly on the "hard" side, so when I do hot water canning the jars emerge from the processing looking limed and cloudy. I have found that wiping them off with a cloth dampened in vinegar removes practically all the lime and makes the canned goods shelf look very much brighter.

Mrs. Ed S., Lima, O.—Why not a chemical process—on the principle of waterproofing—to make worsteds and similar materials shed lint?

Now Please—YOUR IDEA!

Stage Notes

Because of the 1943 absence of Chicago opera, the scarcity of Chicago theaters, and the box office success scored last season by "This Is the Army" and "Lady in the Dark," the Civic Opera house is being pursued as a prize plum by many producers. Billy Rose is still trying to maneuver "Carmen Jones" into available dates, but the chances are that the first musical to follow the Ballet Russe booking [Oct. 14 thru Oct. 24] will be "The Waltz King," opening Nov. 1. This is Boris Morros' elaborate version of the life and tunes of Johann Strauss, now being played on the west coast by Richard Bonelli and Irra Petina, with Tatiana Riabouchinska heading the ballet. Ballet Theater is due at the big house Christmas night, with Olsen and Johnson following in "Sons O'Fun" on Jan. 3. Their successor probably will be the "Ziegfeld Follies," starring Milton Berle.

"Winged Victory" is the name just chosen for Moss Hart's army air force spectacle, destined to make its New York bow Nov. 18.

PTA Heads Discuss Post-War Shift of Civilian Population

Post-war problems relating to the inevitable shift of civilian population when the need for congested industrial centers subsides were considered yesterday during a presidents' conference of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers at the Sherman hotel. Home communities must prepare to receive their normal populations and must have essential facilities such as schools, churches, and proper housing avialable for those returning, the group agreed. Mrs. F. R. Kenison of Madrid, Ia., was in charge.

Today and tomorrow state officers will convene with the national board of mangers, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Theodore Gleichman of Moline. At a dinner at 6:30 p. m., Inspector Ralph T. Harbo of the federal bureau of investigation will make the keynote address of the four day session with this title, "Child Delinquency, Its Causes and Remedies."

Benefit Play Scheduled.

A play, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," will be presented for the benefit of the children's clinic of the Chicago Osteopathic hospital at Imperial hall, 1710 Cornelia avenue, at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday.

NOTE TO MANUFACTURERS

Auto-Lite offers Industry a War Bond sales plan that really works . . .

We call it the "Auto-Lite Citation Plan." For when employees pledge to buy war bonds they receive an acknowledgment of good citizenship and loyalty to the Nation. This plan has been exceptionally productive for two sound reasons: First. It shows the employee what weapons his investment in bonds can buy for the boys in service. Second. It gives our men and women the double satisfaction of knowing some of the money they earn at war work, helps deliver fighting equipment where it, too, can best serve. You may find this plan fits your needs. Copies of these citations as we are using them at Auto-Lite and full details of the plan's operation will be mailed upon request.

N.U. COACH MAY HAVE TO SEE A CRYSTAL GAZER

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

There were problems aplenty remaining yesterday while Northwestern's 1943 vintage of Wildcats stepped thru their last extensive dress rehearsal prior to opening their football campaign against Indiana university in Dyche stadium tomorrow night.

Coach Lynn Waldorf, plagued by an apparent letdown in offensive rhythm after everything had appeared to be satisfactorily arranged for the grand opening, worked up a giant-sized doubt as to who will be whom when the lamps are lighted for the eight o'clock kickoff.

Four, perhaps five, starting jobs are not definitely assigned and may remain that way until the boss man phones his favorite fortune teller tomorrow noon.

A Hatful of Problems.

What Waldorf would like to know without waiting for the 60 minute test tomorrow is whether Harold Golan is a better center than Hal Hudson; whether Freshman Vic Schwall can do a better job of full backing than the transplanted Don Buffmire; whether Herman Frickey, Gopher alumnus, has anything on Dud Kean as a right half and whether it should be Dick Eggers or Bill Ivy at one of the tackle posts. Even the quarter back job is in dispute, but Lynne McNutt is out in front.

When it comes to quantity Waldorf hasn't much to worry about. He has stacks of material for all except the full back and possibly, guard posts, but the shortages have been offset by such shifts as Buffmire from half to full, Sophomore Ray Justek from tackle to guard and Frank [Red] Clawson from quarter to a place beside the center.

Wildcats Rich in Experience.

No matter what advice Waldorf gets from the fortune teller, one thing is definite about tomorrow evening's 22 man debate. The Wildcats will have a large bulge in experience which should make for quality. There may be one freshman—Vic Schwall—among Northwestern's starters. The Hoosiers have only two letter men and one reserve guard surviving from 1942. The back field is completely freshman, one of them a lad with the modest name of Robert Hoernschemeyer, but known as Bob. He threw 20 passes, carried the ball 25 times and engineered nine punts against Miami university last week-end.

Coach Bo McMillin will escort the Hoosier youths into town today and will trot them out to Dyche stadium tonight to acquaint them with the lights. The Wildcats will have to forego a similar preliminary. Most of them are too busy after dark with navy and marine studies.

LIGHT DRILL FOR HOOSIERS.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 23 [Special].—Coach Bo McMillin sent the Indiana football team thru only a light practice today in finishing preparations for the game with Northwestern in Evanston Saturday night. The Hoosiers will leave for Northwestern tomorrow morning.

The Hoosiers concentrated mainly on timing of the offense, defensive spacing, punting, place kicking and returning of place kicks and punts. The squad also checked on its passing patterns and plays.

Ten Years Ago Today—With three minutes to play, the Chicago Bears scored twice to defeat Green Bay, 14 to 7. . . . Mike Donlin, former New York Giant baseball star, died of a heart attack in Hollywood, Cal.

CHARLEY GRIMM SURE OF STEADY JOB UNTIL HE'S 69

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 23 (AP).—For the next 25 years, genial Charley Grimm can continue to be the boss around the Milwaukee Brewer baseball park, where they give away greased pigs, swaybacked horses, entertain with a swing band—and win American Association pennants.

To set at rest persistent rumors which crop up in Chicago that Grimm is to return there as manager of the Cubs, President Bill Veeck, who thinks up the innovations to spring at his park, came up today with an official looking document attesting to the fact Grimm had a 25 year contract as manager of the Brewers.

"If the Giants can sign Mel Ott for three years when his team finishes last," said Veeck, "I don't see why I can't sign Charley to a 25 year contract when he wins a pennant for me."

"Besides he owns a chunk of the club."

Grimm was 44 last Aug. 28 and thus will be 69 years old when his contract expires.

Transfers Will Not Be Eligible at Notre Dame

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 23 [Special].—Football players in the group of navy V-7 trainees transferred from Boston college and Southern Methodist university to Notre Dame Wednesday are assigned to the midshipman school and consequently will not be eligible for varsity football, it was announced today.

GROVE PITCHES, MOSES STEALS, SOX WIN, 5 TO 2

South Siders Beat A's; Take 4th Place.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 23 [Special].—The White Sox stepped into undisputed possession of fourth place in the American league as they came from behind to defeat the Athletics, 5 to 2, in the third game of the series today.

Trailing, 2 to 1, as they went to bat in the sixth inning, they drove Rookie Louis Ciola from the mound with two runs, took a 3 to 2 lead, and then clinched the verdict with two more runs off Relief Hurler Russell Christopher in the eighth.

Wally Moses, former star of the A's, was the big gun in the Sox victory. The Texan stole his 53d base, personally carried the first Chicago run over the plate in the sixth and drove in the winning run in the eighth. It was quite an afternoon for a young man whose leg was incased in gauze and tape.

A's Take Early Lead.

For the first five innings it looked as if the Sox might finish behind the eight ball as Ciola held them to three hits and the A's took a 2 to 0 lead on Orval Grove.

In the sixth, however, the tide turned. Moses reached first when Dick Siebert fumbled his roller. The fleet Texan then stole second. When Thurman Tucker hit to Ciola, Moses waited until Ciola tossed the ball to first and then, by a daring bit of speed, went to third. A moment later he scored on Guy Curtright's short fly to right. This made the score 2 to 1.

Joe Kuhel opened the Sox seventh with a double off the right field wall and when Jimmy Webb bunted to Ciola the latter's toss to Eddie Mayo was too late to get Kuhel. Russell Christopher then replaced Ciola. Mike Tresh sent Kuhel over with the tying run on a single to left and after Grove had fanned Moses singled over the winning run.

12th Victory for Grove.

The Sox added two more in the eighth off Christopher to clinch the contest. It was Grove's 12th victory of the season against nine defeats. Roger Wolff, who started for the A's, retired because of a sore back after pitching to one batter.

The A's scored their first run in the second when Jimmy Webb dropped William Burgo's fly, Siebert singled, and Luke Appling tossed out Hall. Eddie Mayo singled and George Staller tripled in the fifth to send in the other tally.

Jesse Flores will oppose Bill Dietrich in the fourth game tomorrow.

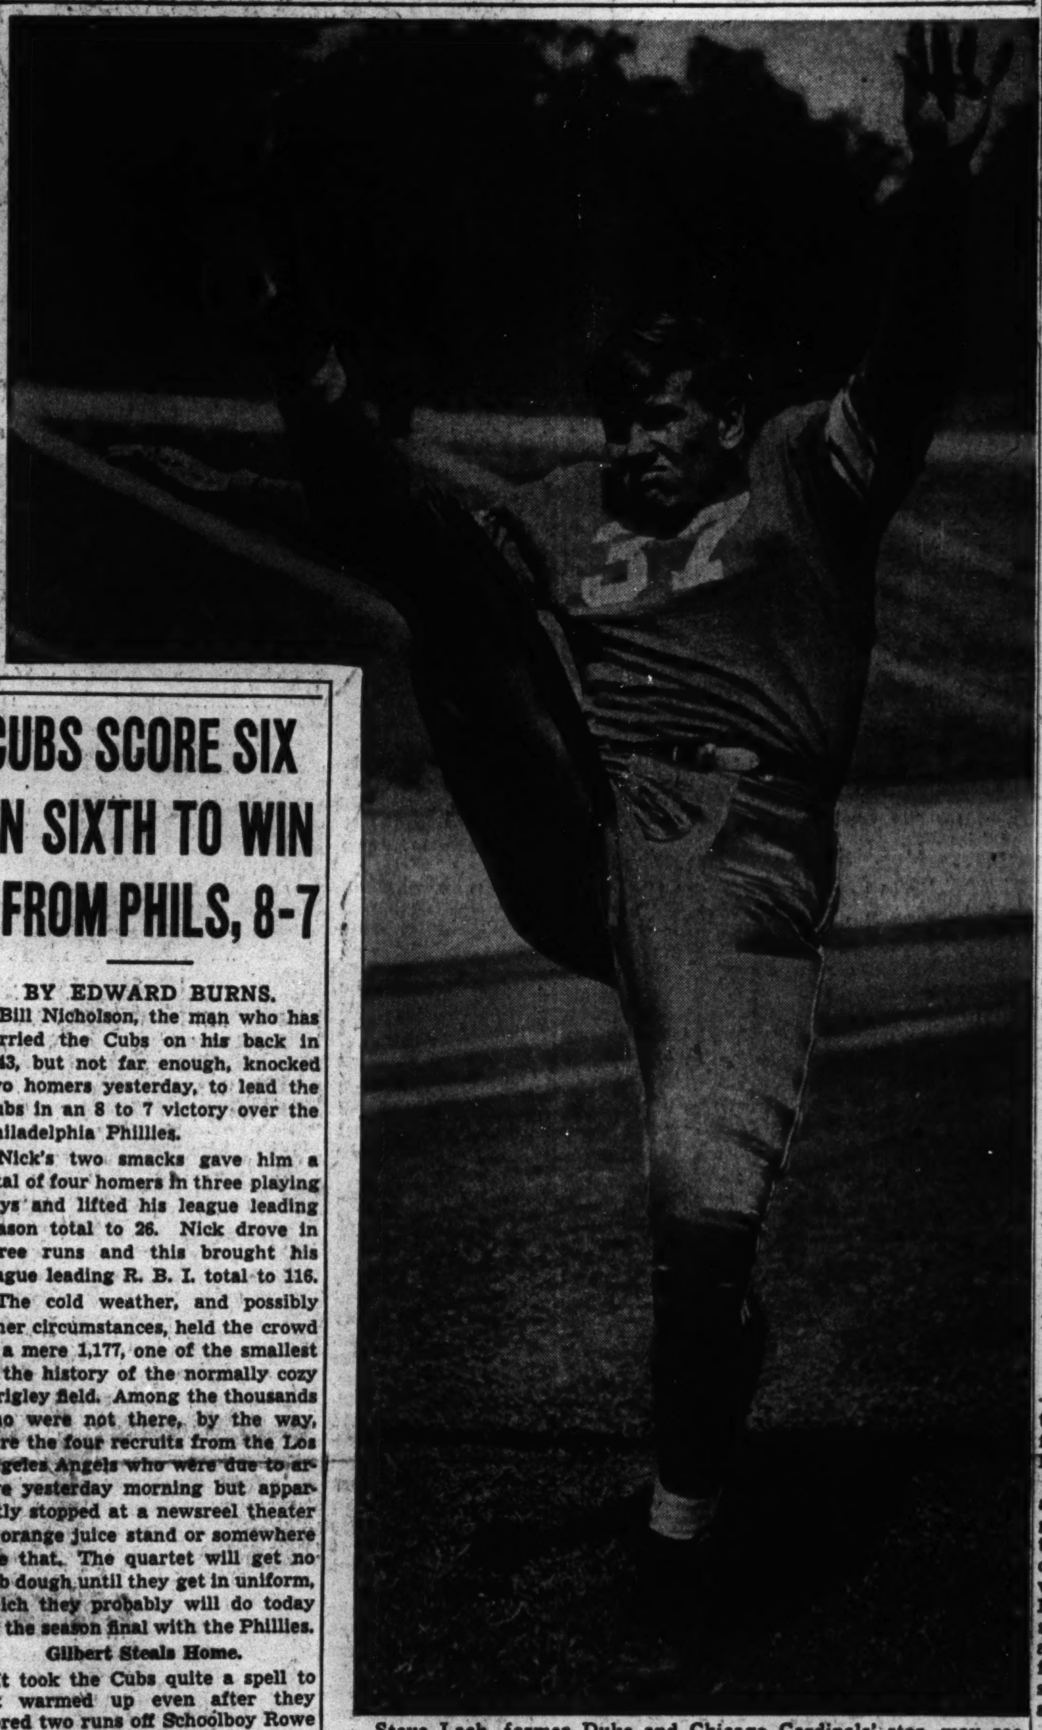
NEW GUN IN SAILORS' OFFENSIVE



Steve Lach, former Duke and Chicago Cardinals' star, may see action in the Great Lakes back field against Iowa when the teams clash tomorrow at the naval training station. Lach is battling for the left half back post, a position which is wide open.

CUBS SCORE SIX IN SIXTH TO WIN FROM PHILS, 8-7

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Bill Nicholson, the man who has carried the Cubs on his back in 1943, but not far enough, knocked two homers yesterday, to lead the Cubs in an 8 to 7 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Nick's two smacks gave him a total of four homers in three playing days and lifted his league leading season total to 26. Nick drove in three runs and this brought his league leading R. B. I. total to 116.

The cold weather, and possibly other circumstances, held the crowd to a mere 1,177, one of the smallest in the history of the normally cozy Wrigley field. Among the thousands who were not there, by the way, were the four recruits from the Los Angeles Angels who were due to arrive yesterday morning but apparently stopped at a newsreel theater or orange juice stand or somewhere like that. The quartet will get no Cub dough until they get in uniform, which they probably will do today for the season final with the Phillies.

Gilbert Steals Home.

It took the Cubs quite a spell to get warmed up even after they scored two runs off Schoolboy Rowe in the first inning on Charley Gilbert's theft of home and Nicholson's first homer. Eddie Hanyzewski, who recently has shown ambitions to grow up to be temperamental like Paul Derringer, had a tantrum over a bonehead play perpetrated by Clyde McCullough in the second inning. While Eddie was in his frenzy the Phillies tied the score in the second inning and added three more in the third and fourth inning, after which he was withdrawn for Walter Signer.

Signer, fresh from Nashville, yielded a run in the fifth and another in the sixth and as a result Rowe and the Phillies were leading, 7 to 2, going into the home sixth.

Another for Nicholson.

Harry Lowrey beat out a bunt at the start of the Chicago sixth and scored on Nicholson's second homer. This set off a splurge which frightened the Phillies into two bad infield errors and inspired the Cubs to add four more runs, the last two of which were scored on a two base hit by Eddie Stanky. This shot knocked out Rowe and Newell Kimball held the Cubs away from the plate the rest of the way.

Uncle John Burrows, Cubs' left handed relief pitcher, reserved the victory for Signer as he retired the last nine Phillies to face him.

CUBS BUY YOUNG CATCHER FROM NASHVILLE CLUB

The Cubs yesterday purchased the contract of Albert [Mickey] Kreitner, 20 year old regular catcher with the Nashville ball club of the Southern association.

Kreitner is 6 feet 3 inches tall, weighs 181 pounds and has an honorable discharge from the army—a medical discharge. He got beaned in a game last year.

Kreitner got his start with Nashville after being clubhouse boy for Larry Gilbert, Nashville owner.

3 PACIFIC COAST TEAMS GIVE UP 1943 FOOTBALL

Moscow, Idaho, Sept. 23 (AP).—Three Pacific Coast conference schools—Idaho, Washington State, and Oregon State—jointly reported tonight a decision to withdraw from participation in conference football for 1943.

J. A. [Babe] Brown, Idaho athletic director, issued this statement:

"As a result of conditions that have developed surrounding football at the University of Idaho, Washington State college, and Oregon State college, these three institutions mutually have agreed to withdraw from participation in the Pacific Coast conference for 1943."

Lach Battles for Bluejacket Half Back Post

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Steve Lach, former star half back at Duke university who also has had a year's professional experience with the Chicago Cardinals, now is stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training station. He may play tomorrow afternoon against the University of Iowa. Lach has practiced several days this week with the Bluejackets and it is likely that some time during the game with the Hawkeyes he will be seen at the left half back position.

This post is considered wide open in the current varsity alignment. In the Bluejackets' games with Fort Riley and Purdue—Great Lakes won the first and was defeated last Saturday by the Boilermakers, 23 to 13—Buist Warren of Tennessee and Ray Jones of Texas were first choices. Lach is battling them and other candidates such as Ray Polczynski of Marquette and Art Murkowski of East Chicago, Ind.

Member of 1942 All-Stars.

Lach was a member of the 1942 College All-Star squad which was beaten by the Chicago Bears. He shared the right half back assignment with Steve Juzwik of Notre Dame. Lach's shift to the other half back position means he may be paired with Juzwik at some stage in the Iowa contest.

Dewey Proctor, 190 pound Furman university full back, is expected to start at this position. Ken Koskie of South Carolina and John Rogers of Dubuque have been used principally in the earlier games. Mike Saban of Indiana will be the starting center. The most important change from the starting lineup against Purdue last week is at right tackle, where Graham Martin probably will be the choice.

Hawkeyes Are Inexperienced.

The Bluejackets are favorites over Iowa, since the Hawkeyes must depend on a squad which, with few exceptions, is composed of inexperienced players. Only four of the first and second Iowa teams have had competition. They are Bill Barbour, end, and Bob Liddy, guard, the co-captains of the team, and Stan Mor-

PART OF SQUAD OFF FOR SCENE OF FIRST GAME

Studies Keep 3 from Making Trip.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 23 [Special].—As the advance guard of Notre Dame's football invasion of Pittsburgh left the campus tonight for the scene of the opening contest Saturday for the Irish, Coach Frank Leahy named the starting back field against the Panthers.

The Irish lost three players today for the Pittsburgh battle when university authorities decided Bob Kelly, right half; Gerry Ford, left end, and Jim Tharp, a right tackle, should not make the trip for academic reasons.

Assistant Coaches Ed McKeever and Jake Cline left tonight with seven freshmen and sophomores in their charge. The remainder of the squad, including some 25 navy and marine trainees, will leave tomorrow night with Head Coach Leahy.

PITT LINEUP NOT SET.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 23 (AP).—Coach Clark Shaughnessy today declined to name a possible starting eleven for Saturday's game with Notre Dame here.

"I just don't know myself," he said.

Most of the work has been on offense with Joe Mocha and Cy Plazak tossing passes.

BADGER SQUAD WEAKENED.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 23 [Special].—The Wisconsin football squad went thru a last hard drill this afternoon for the battle against Camp Grant in Rockford Saturday.

The Badgers are in poor shape for as hard a game as the Warriors will give them. The loss of six players, three of them starters against Marquette, has left holes in the line and weakened the back field. Coach Harry Stuhldreher will be forced to start more freshmen than he did against Marquette. Clarence Self from Morton High of Cicero, Ill., is sure to start at left half; Fred Doar at tackle, and John Davey at guard.

The Badger squad has been swelled by the addition of nine more navy trainees. Among them is Tom Twomey, son of Pat Twomey, veteran coach at Englewood High school in Chicago. Bill Hoeft, a tackle on the freshman squad last year, is also listed among the newcomers.

WARRIORS PICK STARTERS.

BILL McKECHNIE SIGNS TO LEAD REDS NEXT YEAR

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 23 (AP).—William Boyd [Bill] McKechnie signed for his seventh year as manager of Cincinnati's Reds today, becoming the first man in the club's 59 year history to enjoy that long a tenure.

Terms of the one year paper were not announced, but McKechnie is thought to have taken a slight cut in view of drastically reduced war time attendance.

CHICAGO TO SEE THIRD CONTEST OF NEGRO SERIES

Third game of the world series of Negro baseball between the Birmingham Black Barons, American league champions, and the Washington Homestead Grays, for the seventh straight year National league winners, will be played in Comiskey park Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Last night the teams played to 5 to 5 tie in 12 innings in Baltimore in the second game of the series. The Barons won the opener, 4 to 2.

Mount Carmel High Resumes Football Drill

Mount Carmel High school, a member of the Catholic league, resumed football practice yesterday at 61st street and the Outer drive in preparation for its game Sunday with St. Ignatius. The school had suspended practice and last week's game with Bowen was called off because of infantile paralysis after four members of the squad had become ill with that disease. The four boys are well on the way to recovery, the Rev. Terrence Fitzgerald, athletic director at the school, said in announcing that the team had resumed practice and would play next Sunday's contest.

Form Group to Back Sport for City's Youth

From an idea expressed nearly a year ago by Mayor Edward J. Kelly has grown one of the most comprehensive sports ventures ever attempted in the city.

The formation of the Chicago Sports association, which has as its primary purpose the promotion of athletic participation by the youth of the city, was announced last night at a meeting in the Illinois Athletic club.

President of the new organization, which will cover all organized sports, is Charles W. Bidwill, president of the Chicago Cardinal football club. Pete Miller, president of the Amateur Skating Union of the United States, is vice president; Thomas J. Bowler, commissioner of the Midwest Baseball league, is treasurer, and Harry Berz, amateur sports official, secretary. Arch Ward, sports editor of THE TRIBUNE and a member of the national physical fitness committee is on the advisory board.

Will Take Them Off Street Corners.

The idea, according to Bidwill, is to give youngsters, boys and girls, from 12 to 16, or younger, a chance to participate in sports; to take them off the street corners by getting them interested in an activity and thereby cut down delinquency.

The first step will be a series of football schools in six parks, Douglas, Columbus, Rockola stadium, Hilburn stadium, Rheingold stadium and Washington park, the latter for Negro youths. The classes will open at 4 p. m. Wednesday at all six parks. Sessions will follow on Fridays and Wednesdays thru Oct. 15 after which it is hoped to organize teams and possibly form a league among the youngsters.

Funds for the organization of the association were furnished by the office of civilian defense. In the future funds will depend on donations, according to Bidwill. The biggest expense, he said, will be in connection with the football program. He already has received pledges totaling $2,000 and anticipates no trouble obtaining the additional $3,000 needed.

Bears, Cards to Teach.

All help is voluntary. Among the teachers at the football schools will be members of the Chicago Bears and Cardinals as well as coaches from the high schools.

A year around program of sports is contemplated with the use of the city's many athletic fields and gymnastic plants already promised. A plan also is being studied to hold a "Chicago Oympics" next summer. Offices of the organization are in room 610, 134 North La Salle street.

Captain Eddie Wins Again at Hawthorne

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Captain Eddie, a colt which has come up to top form within the last week after a long succession of failures, scored his second consecutive victory yesterday in such a businesslike manner that he may get a starting assignment in tomorrow's $5,000 Juvenile handicap at Hawthorne.

He engaged the favorite, Record Crop, in a speedy, prolonged duel thru the earlier stages until there seemed considerable likelihood that both would burn themselves out.

Plenty Energy Left.

After conquering his rival, however, Captain Eddie had plenty of energy left to keep right on running thruout the six and a half furlongs, finishing two lengths in advance of Hasty Message. What a Play was third in this allowance event, which drew a field of ten juveniles. The winner ran the six and a half furlongs in 1:19 2-5. His payoff was $14.20, $7,80, and $4.20 across the board.

Despite his good work yesterday, Captain Eddie is not considered in quite the class with Durazna, Sirius, and the other speedy youngsters which will contend for the championship of the Hawthorne 2 year olds tomorrow. Previous to his victory in a six furlong event last Saturday, Captain Eddie had made 18 starts without winning.

Lady Liberty Wins.

Lady Liberty showed her customary early speed and unaccustomed staying power to win the Deerwood purse, a six furlong dash which drew a field of six seasoned sprinters. After Lady Liberty had held full command down the back stretch and around the turn, she continued resolutely under pressure when challenged stoutly in the stretch.

Coe College Abandons Football Plans for '43

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 23 (AP).—Coe college has abandoned tentative plans to have a football team this season. President Charles A. Anderson said enrollments showed too small a number of athletes to make up a squad. Harris and Willis Lamb, twin brothers who are co-directors of athletics, said a full program of intramural athletics would be conducted and they expressed hopes of having an intercollegiate basketball schedule.

Half Back Cycenas Not in Starting Lineup.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 23.—Thirty-six players, including the injured Ed Cycenas, veteran right half back, were named tonight by Coach Elmer Burnham to comprise Purdue's traveling squad for the flood-light game with Marquette in Milwaukee Saturday night.

Altho Cycenas is slated to make the trip, Burnham indicated that he would stand pat on the two combinations that bore the burden in the victory over the Bluejackets last Saturday. The Boilermaker veteran has been unable to scrimmage since before the opener and Burnham declared that there was no chance of Cycenas appearing in the starting lineup, and considerable doubt as to whether he would see any action at all.

The Boilermakers will leave late tomorrow afternoon after a light drill and spend tomorrow night in Chicago. The complete traveling squad named by Burnham follows:

ENDS—Joe Buscemi, Frank Bauman, Herbert Hoffman, William Lodge, Charles Haag, William O'Keefe, Joe Collings.
TACKLES—Mike Kasap, John Genis, John Staak, Thomas Hughes, Wells Ellis, Robert Plevo.
GUARDS—Dick Barwegen, Alex Agase, Jack Butt, Donald Lehmkuhl, Joseph Hersch, Gilbert Mordoh.
CENTERS—Lou De Filippo, Joseph Morrow, Walter Poremba, William Newell.
QUARTER BACKS—James Darr, Sam Vacanti, Blaine Hibler.
HALF BACKS—Stanley Dubicki, Lewis Rose, William Stuart, Keith Parker, Leonard Milauskas, Boris Dimancheff, Ed Cycenas.
FULL BACKS—Tony Butkovich, Bernard Tetek, George Mihal.

MARQUETTE TESTS NIGHT PLAY

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 23 [Special].—Marquette players tonight tested their eyes, hands, and feet with a black striped yellow football beneath flood lights as they drilled in preparation for Saturday night's game with Purdue here.

Coach Tom Stidham ordered night practice for tomorrow also. The Hilltoppers reviewed their forward pass and running attacks, and conducted another checkup on defensive assignments against Boilermaker maneuvers. A crowd of 20,000 is expected.

LAYDEN TO AID IN WMC PROBE OF BEAR ELEVEN

Elmer Layden, president of the National Football league, last night said he will meet today with William H. Spencer, regional war manpower commission director, to volunteer his coöperation in investigating alleged irregularities in the assembling of the Chicago Bears' football squad.

Mr. Spencer has been asked to investigate the circumstances by which several members of the Bears left war jobs to play football this fall.

"The football clubs of our league always have coöperated with the war effort," said Layden. "If there are any irregularities we want to know about them, too. And they will be corrected. The war comes first."

Earlier in the day, Ralph Brizzolara, general manager of the Bears, visited Mr. Spencer in the WMC office and asked for advice and counsel. The director asked Brizzolara to present a written report giving information on those players who have left their jobs to engage in football.

Scrimmages Will Tell

Waukegan Lacks Weight; Banks on Tricky Offense

Waukegan High, smallest school in the Suburban league, will have the lightest football team in the conference this season. For years Waukegan has been noted for its defensive ability rather than offense.

Now Mark Wilson, coaching veteran of 22 years, believes he has the right formula for a winning combination in the group of 60 youngsters seeking varsity berths. The back field will average only about 150 pounds but is expected to display a baffling running and passing attack. Waukegan's back field will be heavily outweighed, especially in the Evanston, Oak Park, and New Trier games.

Hope to Continue Pace.

The line averages about 18 pounds more than the back field and will be counted on to continue the defensive pace it set last year, when it held three of five league opponents scoreless.

The back field includes two track stars—Charles Whiteleather and Bruce Bairstow. Whiteleather, at 132 pounds, is the lightest and fastest man on the team. He is the regular right half. Bairstow, the left half, is 30 pounds heavier than his teammate and nearly as fast. He reeled off three touchdown runs, one for 52 yards, which enabled Waukegan to defeat Roosevelt of the City league, 21 to 13, last Saturday.

Capt. Sammy Romeo, a 145 pounder, will handle the quarter back and blocking back duties. Johnny Schulz, out most of last year because of injuries, is the 160 pound full back. He is the best punter on the team. All four of the backs are able passers. Whiteleather and Bairstow are juniors and Romeo and Schulz seniors.

6 Veterans on Line.

Six letter men from last year's line are back. At center is Gordon Fiddyment, a 175 pounder, who is anxious to meet up with Center Jerome Harvey of New Trier once more. Fiddyment is the best place kicker on the squad.

Bill O'Donnell is the right guard and Bill Dixon the left. Dixon, at 165 pounds, weighs five more than O'Donnell. Roger Obenauf and Lyle Burgett are the tackles. Burgett, at 195, is the heaviest man on the team.

Charlie Della Valle and Isaac Coles are the ends. Della Valle often slips into the back field to pass, but is just as efficient in catching them. Coles is the only junior in the starting line. He has made a splendid showing since coming up from the frosh-soph team.

Wilson's football teams at Macomb, Elgin, and Waukegan won 115 games, lost 44, and tied 23. He won two titles at Macomb, two at Elgin, and tied for another. He has yet to coach a Suburban league champion.

Plan Pep Rally Today.

Some of the outstanding players he coached are Doug Mills, basketball coach and athletic director at Illinois, Herman Walser, Izzy Mesec, Nick Conteas, Otto Graham, Alex Kapter, Jack Morley, Bill Senn, Ray Morstadt, Ted Damos, Justin Rogers, and Bill Kolens. Kapter is captain of the present Northwestern team and Graham and Morley are his team mates.

Harry Hall, Lake county state's attorney, will lead the student body in a pep rally today before the team goes thru its last workout for its league opener against Evanston tomorrow in Waukegan. The remainder of the schedule:

Oct. 2, open; Oct. 9, Waukegan at Oak Park; Oct. 16, Waukegan at New Trier; Oct. 23, Waukegan at Highland Park; Oct. 30, Proviso at Waukegan, and Nov. 6, Morton at Waukegan. All are league games except the Highland Park contest.

The City High school league football race will open tonight with a double header in Shewbridge field when four south section teams get the jump on their other city rivals. In the first game South Shore meets Morgan Park at 6 o'clock. Two hours later Bowen and Calumet clash in a contest which may decide the eventual champion of the south section race.

The South Suburban league opens its schedule tonight with two games carded. Kankakee will visit Calumet City and Blue Island invades Thornton of Harvey. The contests are night games.

Final Outdoor Fight Program Set Tonight

Emile Williams, Pittsburgh light heavyweight, is paired with Willie Love of the Madison club in a five round event.

James Davis, Pittsburgh, vs. William Moore, Madison A. C. [3], 147.
Emile Williams, Pittsburgh, vs. Willie Love [5], 175.

PRELIMINARY BOUTS.
Tim Dalton vs. Robert Ellis [3], 140.
Ray Lonergan vs. Ernest Freeman [3], 118.
Pete Gorman vs. James Smith [3], 112.

Paddy Kane, former head boxing coach for the Catholic Youth organization, has been placed in charge of that sport at Virginia Polytechnic institute in Blacksburg, Va., it was learned yesterday.

The card in Marigold Gardens Monday has been revised following the cancellation of bouts pairing Harry Teaney, Cleveland lightweight, with Gene Spencer, and Fitzy Fitzpatrick, middleweight, also of Cleveland, with Gene Simmons. Corp. Lou Woods of Detroit and Camp Grant has been substituted for Fitzpatrick in an eight round event against Simmons, while an additional eight rounder between Robert Simmons, Indianapolis welterweight and brother of Gene, and Bobby Richardson, will supplant the one involving Teaney and Spencer.

MR. NAGURSKI IS TERRIFIC AND NO LESS, SAY BEARS

BY EDWARD PRELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Waukesha, Wis., Sept. 23.—Bronko Nagurski is terrific—no less—and will start at left tackle for the Chicago Bears Sunday in their National football league opener in Green Bay if the Packers kick off.

That was the announcement tonight by the Bears' coaching staff of Hunk Anderson, Luke Johnsos, and Paddy Driscoll as they reviewed their strategy and prepared to leave their training base.

Nagurski, who retired a couple of seasons ago after a long and brilliant career as a full back, is attempting a comeback as a lineman and apparently has exceeded even his own expectations.

But all the players, Nagurski not excepted, had plenty on their minds today as they prepared for their "final examinations," a mere matter of answering correctly 288 questions on play assignments and fundamentals propounded by the board of strategy at the price of $5 per question—if incorrectly answered..

The news of the double tragedy which today struck Don Hutson, star end of the Packers, brought sympathy from the Bears and the expressed hope that it would not mean the Packers' loss of Hutson Sunday.

Hutson first learned today that his 23 year old brother, Robert, an aviator, had been reported killed in action in the South Pacific. Then word was received that his father, R. B. Hutson, 56, had died in a Booneville, Ark., sanitarium, presumably from shock. Hutson left at once by plane for his parents' home in Pine Bluff, Ark.

Lach Battles for Bluejacket Half Back Post

bacher, guard, and Harry Frey, tackle.

Five of the starting eleven, selected by Coach Slip Madigan, are freshmen in the university. While the other two players are sophomores they have not had experience, since freshmen were not eligible last season in the Western conference.

Seven freshmen and four sophomores are listed on the Iowa second team. Coach Madigan expects to use all these players in tomorrow's game to adjust his plans for subsequent conference games.

Paul Glasener, 160 pound freshman from West High school, Waterloo, Ia., is expected to be Iowa's starting right half back. He will be paired with John Stewart, left half, a sophomore from St. Petersburg, Fla. Stewart and Bill Baughman, center from Jeannette, Pa., are the only members on the first eleven who live outside the state of Iowa.

MICHIGAN LOSES 2 HIGH RANKING LINE RESERVES

Guard and Center Are Declared Ineligible.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 23 [Special].—Ineligibility struck in Michigan's football camp today when two high ranking reserve linemen, both Navy V-12 trainees, came up with scholastic deficiencies and were forced to drop from the Wolverine squad.

They were Guard Bill Sigler, former University of Toledo regular, and Center Harold Warts from Birmingham, Mich. Both saw action against Camp Grant last week as Michigan won its opener, 26 to 0.

Coach H. O. [Fritz] Crisler sharpened the Wolverine pass defense today, expecting Western Michigan to depend largely upon its aerial attack in the game here Saturday.

OHIO STATE PICKS LINEUP.

Columbus, O., Sept. 23 [Special].—Coach Paul Brown, while not optimistic over Ohio State's chances against the Iowa Seahawks here Saturday in the season's opener for the Buckeyes, today picked the lineup which will start. At the ends will be Capt. Jack Duger and Cy Souders; tackles will be Russ Thomas and Bill Willis; guards are Bill Hackett and Wid Miller, with Gordon Appleby at center. In the back field will be Al Williams at quarter back, Gene Oliver at full back, and Dean Sensanbaugher and Bernie Parks at half backs.

SEAHAWKS SEEK REVENGE.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 23 [Special].—A 31 man Iowa Seahawk squad, eager to avenge the 41 to 12 defeat suffered at Ohio State's hands last year, will leave tomorrow for Columbus, O., to meet the Buckeyes.

The probable Iowa Pre-Flight lineup:

Skokie Indians Will Battle Fernwood Sunday

Krier's Skokie Indians, champions of the Midwest Baseball league and winners of their last 13 league games, will be out for 14 in a row Sunday when they meet the strong Fernwood All-Stars in Skokie's Oakton park.

More Delay on Shells Now Is Predicted

BY BOB BECKER.

Mr. Sportsman, if you are trying to buy some shotgun shells under the WPB certificate No. 6, there is no need to go into your hardware or sporting goods store now, nor on Oct. 1, because there are no shotgun shells available and it's a 500 to 1 shot there won't be any on Oct. 1.

E. W. Whitehouse of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co. said yesterday that he doubted if his company, one of the regular jobbers of ammunition, could ship any shells to stores by Oct. 15 and it was quite possible that the date would be nearer the end of October.

Whitehouse added that, as far as he could figure, there would be few if any shotgun shells left for Mr. Civilian Hunter when all the farmer orders were filled. Yesterday a few 16 and 20 gauge shells had been received at the wholesale house. But no 12s had come from any manufacturer. When the 12 gauge shells might arrive, could not be predicted.

A report from a big manufacturer of ammunition substantiates Whitehouse's statement about late delivery of shells to Chicago stores, for this manufacturer informed us yesterday that: [1] The ammunition on hand was being shipped [by order of the WPB] to the northern states, and [2] they didn't expect to finish their job of manufacturing shotgun shells before Oct. 15 or later. Chicago stores have to wait until the northern states get their ammunition before they can expect shipments from jobbers.

3 CHICAGOANS IN SCRATCH LIST FOR ELGIN RACE

Only three Chicago riders were considered strong enough to be placed on the scratch mark in the 17th Annual Elgin to Chicago bicycle road race to be held Sunday afternoon under the sponsorship of the George F. Barrett Athletic club.

Of the 10 selected for that position, Frank Brilando, Illinois state champion, was picked because of his consistant good riding. Bill Johann and Fred Pesek, teammates on the C. Y. O. squad, also were selected.

That the three Chicago boys will have plenty of competition is certain, with the top riders from six other states among the first 10. Arthur Lauf of Hydes, Md., national road champion; Carl Anderson, leading in points for the 1943 title; Gene Portuesi, and Robert Travani, Michigan senior and junior title holders, also will start from scratch.

ASSAIL FEDERAL INTRUSION WITH WAR AS CLOAK

Mortgage Men Ask Free Enterprise.

BY AL CHASE.

Uncle Sam's role of banker, realtor, builder, industrialist, and landlord, both now and in the post-war era, was assailed yesterday in the Drake hotel at the 30th annual business meeting and conference on post-war planning of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America. Speakers included many prominent bankers of Chicago and other cities and several executives in federal bureaus.

Charles A. Mullenix.

Charles A. Mullenix of Cleveland, president of the association, charged that New Dealers were using the war to perpetuate excess federal jobs, evading their military responsibility, and to further crackpot ideas in an underground development of revolutionary schemes of government.

Complains of Burocrats.

"There can be no complaint or objection when congress delegates to the President the supreme authority necessary for the conduct of the war," Mullenix said. "But we must complain of the activity of certain burocrats who use this authority for promulgating their pet schemes and developing a type of totalitarian rule in matters which have nothing to do with the war—such as the definite attempt of these socialistic forces which set up rent control, and the undemocratic manner in which it is administered.".

Mullenix attacked the national housing agency, which he declared had become a pyramided bureau which might have been justified in war time but has been used "for the domination of private endeavor, both in financing and construction of housing, by socialistic-minded public housing interests.

Private Management Asked.

"The socialistic 'public housers' within the NHA are working overtime on plans for tremendous public housing after the war," he said. "If public housing were turned over to private management organizations, the overhead cost could be reduced by an estimated two-thirds, but suggestions to Washington to this effect have met with evasive replies."

Sen. George L. Radcliffe [D., Md.] joined in criticizing federal activities in the business world.

"I should like to keep the government out of any business which can be handled satisfactorily by private operations," he declared.

Radcliffe also criticized those who contend that the government should go into the business of building houses for its citizens. He said the Home Owners Loan corporation had done a good job, but added: "But no one advocates the return of HOLC to the mortgage lending business."

Fitch Suspects Planners.

Morgan Fitch, president of the Illinois Association of Real Estate Boards, told the mortgage bankers that he did not like "this popular mania for professional plans. I'm afraid of professional planners. I suspect in some of these plans possible incipient agencies for the destruction of freedom."

Abner H. Ferguson, federal housing administration commissioner, said FHA needs no new legislation to go into immediate action in the small home field the moment war time restrictions are lifted. About half a billion dollars of unused insurance authorization remains outstanding, sufficient for FHA to finance at least 100,000 houses, he said, and an additional billion dollars is authorized when necessary.

The sessions will continue today and tomorrow.

Hogs Advance Again Despite Ceiling Order

Altho the OPA is preparing to enforce a $14.75 ceiling on live hogs beginning on Oct. 4, prices on the Chicago stockyards market rose to new five month peaks yesterday. Gains of 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds were general, with some sales up as much as 20 and 25 cents. Sows gained 10 to 20 cents.

Lard hogs registered the largest advances with the range the narrowest in three months. Nearly all classes were above the planned ceiling: Buyers paid an average of $15.10, the highest since April 12.

New Crop at Top.

Best new crop spring pigs, weighing 210 to 240 pounds, reached the $15.40 top, which was equal to the highest price since April 9 and 65 cents above the ceiling. Most 250 to 325 pound hogs brought $15.15 to $15.35. A drove of 242 extremely heavy butchers, averaging 531 pounds, sold at $15.10. The consignment brought the owner a total of $19,403 at the rate of more than $80 a hog.

Only the lightest stock, below 150 pounds, could be bought at or below the OPA ceiling of $14.75. Most good 160 to 190 pounders ranged from $14.85 to $15.30.

Best Steers Advance.

Best steers and yearlings were bought at 15 to 25 cents higher prices, but others were weak to 25 cents lower. Heifers were steady to weak. Beef cows, canners, and cutters slumped 15 to 25 cents. Bulls sold off 25 to 50 cents. Calves were steady.

Steady prices were paid for all classes of lambs, but old sheep were steady to 25 cents lower. Top range lambs brought $14.50.

WHEAT FINISHES IRREGULAR; OATS MARKET LOWER

Wheat futures held within a range of about ⅛ cent a bushel and closed ⅛ cent lower to ⅝ cent higher yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Oats broke early and rallied later, finishing ¼ cent to ⅝ cent lower. Rye was ½ to ⅝ cent lower.

Reports that the Canadian government was considering suspension of trading in Winnipeg wheat futures as the result of an 11⅝ cent a bushel advance in the October delivery within 15 trading days brought a flurry of selling into the Canadian market, sending prices down 2⅜ to 3⅜ cents from Wednesday's close. A strong rally, with support from export houses and shorts, followed the break. At the close prices were 1⅝ and 1¾ cents lower.

POST-WAR CREDIT.

In figuring the post-war credit on the victory tax is the allowance to a married man with one dependent $1,060 on a victory tax of $3,000, or is the allowance $1,100? Different results are obtained if the post-war credits for the married couple and the dependent are figured separately instead of combining the percentages.—R. M.

Answer: Examples shown in treasury regulations indicate that the post-war credit in your case would be $1,100. Married couples are given a post-war credit of 40 per cent of the victory tax, with a maximum of $1,000 for any one year's tax, and an additional 2 per cent credit for each dependent, but not more than $100. The two percentages are combined in computing the post-war credit, and the resulting credit is compared with the maximum. The smaller of the two is allowed.

Forty-two per cent of $3,000 is $1,260, whereas the maximum allowable for a married couple with one dependent is $1,000 plus $100, or $1,100.

LIVING COSTS ADVANCE 4.8 PCT. IN YEAR; 19.5 SINCE JANUARY, 1941

New York, Sept. 23 (AP).—It cost 4.8 per cent more to live last month than in August, 1942, and 19.5 per cent more than in January, 1941, the National Industrial Conference board said today. The cost of living for wage and low-salary workers was less than in July in 48 of 69 industrial cities surveyed, more in 18, and unchanged in 3, the board said.

The average cost for the whole nation declined 0.3 per cent, with Flint, Mich., enjoying the greatest decline, 1.8 per cent, and Bridgeport, Conn., the greatest increase, 1.5 per cent, comparing last month with July.

For the 12 month period Macon, Ga., reported the largest increase, 8.2 per cent, and New Haven, Conn., the smallest, 2.1 per cent.

PRINTING FIRM'S REORGANIZING PLAN APPROVED

Stockholders of the Lincoln Printing company approved a recapitalization plan for the company at a special meeting yesterday. The principal effect will be to decrease authorized common stock from 200,000 to 75,000 shares and to reduce the capital of the company with insurance proceeds received on the death of its founder, Washington Flexner.

The plan was submitted because earnings declined with the reduction of corporate financing. The major part of the company's business has been financial printing, and for several years earnings have been smaller than dividend requirement on the $3.50 cumulative preference stock, company officials explained.

For every two shares of the 30,354 preference shares outstanding, on which unpaid dividends were $4.12½ a share last May 1, stockholders will receive $15 in cash, $25 in new 6 per cent convertible debentures, and one share of new $1 par value common stock. For each four shares of common stock outstanding will be issued one share of new common.

FLAGRANT MEAT RULE VIOLATION CHARGED BY WFA

Suspension proceedings charging flagrant violations of meat slaughter quotas and meat restriction orders were instituted yesterday by the war food administration against H. Graver company 3913 South Morgan street, an independent packer.

The company was charged with slaughtering more than 13 million pounds of beef and 3 million pounds of veal and pork in excess of permitted quotas during the nine months from Sept. 26, 1942, to June 26, 1943.

"The apparent disregard of permitted quotas for meat slaughter and other violations of the meat control orders were the most flagrant continuous violations of the food orders that have come to the attention of my office," said E. O. Pollock, WFA regional director. The company has five days to answer the charges or request an oral hearing.

U. S. Steel Unit Acquires Petroleum Iron Works

United States Steel Products company, a United States Steel corporation subsidiary, has contracted to purchase manufacturing assets of the Petroleum Iron Works company, a subsidiary of American Republics corporation, Benjamin F. Department Store Sales Rise 20 Per Cent in Week

Department store sales in Chicago rose again during the week ended Sept. 18, standing 20 per cent above a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. The rise during the four weeks ended Sept. 18 was 10 per cent.

Stock Market Dips Again on Light Selling

New York, Sept. 23 (AP).—Aside from gold mines and scattered specialties, which enjoyed a belated upswing, leading stocks generally held to a downward path in today's market without being subjected to much pressure.

The list was mixed at the start, but offerings of mail orders, steels, motors and rails soon began to clip prices. Dealings tapered in the final hour as initial losses running to three or more points were largely reduced. Declines were slightly in the majority at the finish.

War News Is Ignored.

The good war news apparently was ignored and accounts trimmed, partly in the belief that some big foreign development may be in the making which could have market influence. Preparations for the big Wall street bond rally, held on the floor of the stock exchange after the close, may have helped divert attention from corporate securities.

Montgomery Ward was a conspicuous soft spot, dropping 2⅜ points in the wake of a disappointing first half year earnings statement. Sears, Roebuck fell a point.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was off 0.3 of a point at 51, where it had lost a sizable part of the comeback of the preceding week. Transfers of 667,330, shares compared with 661,060 yesterday.

CHICAGO STOCKS DROOP.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange were lower again yesterday on a turnover of 31,000 shares. Three 1943 peaks were reached. They were: Northwest Utilities 7 per cent prior lien closing at 99¼, up 1½; Lindsay Light & Chemical common, 5⅜, up ⅛, and Lincoln Printing $3.50 preference, 19¾, up ¼. Volume leaders included Chicago corporation, unchanged; Peabody Coal common, closing at 3⅜, up ⅜; Middle West corporation, 9¼, down ⅛; Spiegel, 7⅜, down ⅜, and Cities Service 15⅛, down ⅛.

BOND RANGE IS NARROWED.

New York, Sept. 23 (AP).—The bond market drifted in a narrow range today. Sales fell to $8,375,550 from $10,120,600 on Wednesday, and except for a 0.2 point decline in the 20 rails, the Associated Press averages showed little change.

RFC, INSURANCE FIRM LOSE PLEA TO SHIFT TRIAL

Stockholders of the Maryland Casualty company, who are suing the management and the Reconstruction Finance corporation over government financing arrangements they asserted were discriminatory against owners of common stock, won a preliminary point in the district court.

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe ruled that the suit must be tried in Chicago where the petitioning shareholders live, and dismissed company and RFC petitions to shift the hearings to Maryland. He sustained the petition of Atty. Marvin J. Weifeld.

The shareholders allege the government financing agency, in providing an additional 12½ million dollars for the company, exerted undue influence in controlling it thru converting preferred stock into common and electing all the directors.

NEW DIVISION IS CREATED BY KRAFT CHEESE

The Kraft Cheese company has formed a new northern division to handle both production and sales in a six state area by combining production facilities of the company's former Ward milk products division with the existing sales organization in the area. A rapid expansion of dairying in the northern states prompted the movement, John H. Kraft, president, explained, and said production facilities will be enlarged.

C. M. Peterson, general manager of the Ward division, will head the new division with headquarters in Minneapolis, Minn. Ernest R. Waugh, Minneapolis branch manager, will be director of sales.

BUROCRAT RULE CURB IS URGED BY GOV. GREEN

Asks Safeguarding of Constitution.

Continuation of constitutional government in the United States demands the restraint of "power hungry" burocrats in the national administration, Gov. Green declared last night. He addressed a joint dinner of the Illinois Society of Certified Accountants and the Public Accountants' Association of Illinois in the Hotel La Salle.

Illinois has created a system designed to ease the shift to a peace economy after the war and retain historic rights and privileges, but the growth of burocracy in Washington, D. C., threatens to impede the operation of such a system on a national scale, he said.

Asserting that government "can aid business or hamstring it with heavy - handed maladministration," the governor said the national government in the last decade had treated business men "with repressive and irresponsible arrogance."

Praises Illinois Prudence.

He said creation of the Illinois post-war planning commission promised to minimize the difficulties of individuals and businesses after the war and asserted the state administration's business prudence had been demonstrated by the accumulation of a 65 million dollar cash reserve—the first in the state's history.

"There are many starry-eyed world savers and do-gooders, and many power hungry burocrats in government today who believe that our traditional American form of government under the Constitution is out of date," Gov. Green said. "They sneer at proven institutions, and at the conception of freedom we have inherited from our forefathers, and use every device to circumvent, overthrow, or destroy the Constitution."

He warned that political freedom would disappear with the loss of economic freedom, and said the experience of Germany and Italy should be proof to this country that we cannot "keep our personal liberties under a system of socialism, collectivism, communism, or any other form of economic dictatorship."

Federal Job Slash Urged.

Gov. Green criticized invasions of state rights and said the federal government, with 90,000 employes in Illinois, duplicated "hundreds of services" provided by the state itself with somewhat more than 30,000 employes. He asserted that the federal jobs could be abolished and their work done by state employes without loss of service.

Attacking "federal burocrats who exercise a high-handed control" over funds to be spent for public projects within the state, he said:

"The burocrats handle these funds as tho they are making a personal gift to the people who paid them in originally, and they demand the right to supervise and boss the projects on which they are spent to the exclusion of the state and local officials who have been elected by the people for that purpose."

Bell Aircraft Drops Third Shift; Blames Lack of Men

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 23 (AP).—The Bell Aircraft corporation announced today it would discontinue the 1 a. m. to 8 a. m. shift at its Niagara Falls assembly plant, effective Sunday, because of what it termed "the prevailing shortage of man power." All third shift workers will be assigned to the other shifts "in an effort to obtain a more effective utilization" of the company's available man power, a company spokesman said.

Several promotional changes were announced by Avery Brundage, president of the La Salle-Madison Hotel company and owner of the La Salle hotel. Jack Powers, manager, becomes general manager, and is replaced by Harold Petersen, resident manager. Allen Stubbins, assistant manager, replaces Petersen.

Otis & Co. Group Offers to Buy All National Refining Stock

Cleveland, O., Sept. 23 (AP).—Stockholders of the National Refining company today received from Otis & Co., Cleveland investment banking firm, an offer to purchase their shares in a deal that would involve approximately 10 million dollars.

Announcing that it represented a group of investors, financial houses, and oil interests, Otis offered $100 a share for $6 prior preferred stock, $158.67 per share for 8 per cent preferred, and $8 a share for common. Completion of the deal is conditional upon acceptance of the offer by not less than 90 per cent of prior preferred and common stockholders and 66⅔ per cent of 8 per cent preferred stockholders.

Big Holders Agree to Sell.

National Refining has outstanding 499,110 shares of common, 44,615 of 6 per cent prior preferred and 1,556 shares of 8 per cent preferred.

In its offer, Otis reported that owners of about 261,000 common shares, or 52 per cent, and approximately 42 per cent of preferred stockholders already had agreed to sell their holdings.

National Refining said this group included William H. Lamprecht, chairman of the board; his sister, Mrs. Florence L. Dobbin; and Mrs. Margaret Fretter Nye, a director. Otis announced that I. F. Freiberger, Cleveland Trust company chairman, and President Oscar L. Cox of the Union Bank of Commerce had agreed to recommend acceptance of the offer for stocks owned by their banks or held in fiduciary capacities.

No Dividends Since 1932.

Within the last year, National Refining common sold at a low of $1.87½ per share, and prior preferred at a low of $44.50. No dividends have been paid on the common since 1932. As of last June 30, company assets were listed at $10,676,177 and current liabilities at $3,047,051.

The company was founded in 1882 by the late J. I. Lamprecht, father of the present board chairman. Financial circles reported that in recent years the company had been affected by increasing competition from other refiners and producers. These sources understood the present management would be retained if the proposed transaction were completed.

Nash Gets VT War Job Loan of 75 Million

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23 [Special].—Negotiation of a 75 million dollar credit, largest of the bank loans made under new liberalized "VT" arrangements of government agencies, was announced today by the Nash-Kelvinator corporation.

George W. Mason.

George W. Mason, president, and Howard A. Lewis, vice president in charge of company finances, said the credit would be used to finance war contracts and to provide working capital in the event any of the contracts were terminated.

Chase Bank Handles Loan.

The Chase National bank of New York negotiated the loan with the Federal Reserve bank there, and is clearing agent for a group of 21 banks thruout the country, including these Chicago institutions: Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, First National bank, Harris Trust and Savings bank, and the Northern Trust company.

Nash-Kelvinator, with plants in two Wisconsin and three Michigan cities devoted entirely to war work, manufactures Pratt & Whitney airplane engines and, the announcement said, has become the nation's largest producer of plane propellers.

Orders for 650 Million.

Unfilled orders held by the company reached 650 million dollars on June 30, and billings for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30 will exceed those of the preceding year by 100 millions, it said.

Terms of the loan provide for a government guarantee to the banks of 90 per cent and a standby charge of ⅜ of 1 per cent on the unused portion of the credit. Other banks participating in the credit are in New York, Detroit, Cleveland, Boston, Worcester, Mass., and Kenosha, Wis.

Hat Firm Fined $1,500 for Violating Labor Law

The Perrnau-Rosenow Hat Manufacturing company, formerly at 910 West Jackson boulevard, and Theodore Rosenow, former secretary and manager of the firm, were each fined $1,500 yesterday by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan on charges of violating the fair labor standards act by forcing employes to record eight hour days when they were working 10 hours. Pleas of guilty were entered on behalf of the firm and Rosenow by attorneys who explained that the firm, now out of business, has repaid its 109 former employes $9,042 for overtime.

APPEAL COURT HEARS 2 PLEAS AGAINST OPA

Ceiling and Lease Rules Attacked.

Validity of office of price administration regulations was challenged yesterday before the United States Emergency Court of Appeals in Chicago in two cases. The special court, composed of three judges appointed by the Supreme court chief justice, is making a circuit of the country to hear similar cases.

The protests heard yesterday were filed by Montgomery, Ward & Co. and the Patrick Cudahy Family company, operator of the Cudahy Towers, an apartment building in Milwaukee. The mail order company challenged the regulation which prohibits retailers of a low priced line of women's garments from adding to their line a higher priced variety than sold during a certain base period. The Cudahy case involved section 585 of the rent regulations, in which the company was barred from raising the rent in the case of a lease containing an optional clause.

Denies Inflation Check.

Stuart Ball, attorney for Ward, argued that the regulation was unfair and did not serve the purpose of the price act, which is to hold down inflation. He said the regulation affected his company's 647 stores in 31 categories of garments.

Ball sought permission to introduce more evidence to disprove the OPA contention that it was the tendency of merchants to drop low priced lines when they have an opportunity to sell a higher priced variety. The judges, Albert B. Maris of Philadelphia, Calvert Magruder of Boston, and Bolitha J. Laws of Washington, D. C., gave him five days in which to file a motion to introduce the new evidence. N. L. Nathanson, associate general counsel for OPA, was given a similar period to oppose the move.

Injunction Plea Heard.

A motion by OPA for an injunction against Ward before Judge John P. Barnes in the Chicago federal District court, enjoining the company from further violation of price regulations, was also heard. No decision was rendered as evidence was completed yesterday, and the hearing was continued until Monday, when arguments will be made.

In the injunction proceedings Ward contended that it has had to pay more for certain lines of women's and children's outer garments and therefore has had to charge more for the items. The OPA cited 73 alleged violations in which it contended overcharges ranged from $1 to $13.25. These violations were said to have taken place in 26 stores in 25 cities, including La Grange, Ill.

Ceilings on Ice Cream Extended for 60 Days

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—Temporary ceiling prices on ice cream and ice cream mixes will remain unchanged for the next 60 days, the OPA announced today.

EXPECT CAR LOADING DROP IN LAKES AREA FOR FOURTH QUARTER

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23 (AP).—A carloading estimate of 408,243 for the last quarter of 1943 in the Great Lakes area—3.2 per cent less than for the corresponding period last year—was given today to rail transportation men from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, New York, and Pennsylvania at the 57th annual meeting of the Great Lakes regional advisory board.

The car efficiency committee reported, however, that more freight, measured in ton miles—the current yardstick—was moved on the railroads in the first eight months of 1943 than during the first nine months of 1942 or during the entire year of 1926, when carloadings were the highest in history. The committee estimated that 150,000 cars had been saved so far this year by capacity loading.

PREDICT PRICE RENEGOTIATION TO BE RETAINED

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23 (AP).—The house ways and means committee, completing 12 days of public hearings, appeared definitely inclined today toward retention of the renegotiation law for recapture of "excessive profits" in war contracts, despite numerous petitions for its repeal. Both Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.] and Rep. Harold Knutson [R., Minn.], leading Republican member, expressed the view that congress would keep the law, after considering important modifications.

Some members said it appeared a majority of the committee would favor amendments providing for court appeals from decisions of renegotiation boards, raising the limit of contracts subject to renegotiation from $100,000 to $500,000 a year, exempting standard commercial products, and having one board instead of six pass on renegotiation cases. In addition, these members believed the committee might recommend some plan for compensating contractors who, in good faith, lose money thru war contracts.

PUBLIC PRINTER TELLS PAPER'S AID TO VICTORY

U. S. Official Lists Wide Range of War Uses.

Men who furnish the country's paper are as important to winning the war as those who produce the powder and shot, the oil, guns, tanks, planes, and ships, A. E. Giegengack, public printer of the United States, said yesterday as he told in astronomical figures of the books, pamphlets, manuals, forms, questionnaires, and ration stamps demanded for its successful prosecution.

Head of the United States printing office at Washington, Giegengack spoke at the final luncheon session of the paper and pulp industry's technical association in the Palmer House.

Demand Continues Heavy.

"A total of 4 billion forms and books [for rationing], requiring approximately 75 million pounds of paper, were produced in the fiscal year 1943," he said. He added that the demand for paper continues heavy.

"On Monday bids for paper for three months beginning Oct. 1 were received," he said. "This proposal covers 80 million pounds. Only 40 bids were received, covering approximately 60 per cent of our offering. All this will be needed to further some important phase of the war. Ninety per cent of our present production goes directly into prosecution of the war."

He said that the black market in gasoline is causing concern in Washington and predicted that action is imminent.

"We are now embarking on a new venture in the control of the black market in gasoline," he said. "Ten days is all we are allotted for the production and delivery of 250,000 pounds of paper stock to printing specialists whose schedules allow no breakdown if we are to be successful. The paper used in printing ration stamps and supplementary forms is the foundation upon which our present war time economy is being built."

100,000 Jobs in Year.

Some 100,000 printing jobs were sent to the government plant in the last year, he said, in telling of some of the demands on the department.

From the war department came 600 requisitions for books and pamphlets—training and field manuals, regulations, etc. These total 40 million copies a month and range from two to 300 pages each.

Some reprint orders for manuals involve 1,500 requisitions in a period of 12 days and require 12 million pounds of paper. The Soldier's Handbook, "that foundation stone of every rookie's training," ran into more than 7 million copies in the last year. This book contains 264 pages. Its production required 3½ million pounds of paper.

"Guidebooks for the army," he said, "accompany every advance of our troops. They explain local customs and provide vital foreign words. Thru them the army is helped to develop the friendship and coöperation of peoples in strange lands; they help our boys to understand the enemy."

He said these books are rushed to distant points by plane. It requires 25,000 pounds of offset paper every working day to furnish them. No failures in getting them out or to the men in any part of the world are tolerated, he said.

The third war loan program required 6½ million pounds of paper; 20 separate printing jobs, millions of copies, he revealed.

In addition to the government printing, outside jobs were let during the last year to 1,500 printers in 288 cities thruout the country. These jobs cost 61 million dollars. In 1941, the printing so done amounted to only 2 million dollars.

REPORT 13 NEW POLIO CASES IN CITY, 4 OUTSIDE

The 200th case of poliomyelitis in suburban Cook county was reported in Wilmette late yesterday, as the city count mounted to 763 cases.

The day brought four new cases in the county outside the city, with no deaths. The city added 13 new cases and recorded two deaths in the 24 hours up to yesterday morning. Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health, said one of the fatalities was a 9 year old girl who lived in the 200 block on West 59th street and the other an 11 year old boy, in the 1400 block on Sedgwick street. Seven new suspects have been put under observation, Bundesen said.

The county case count for the week to date was 13 up to last night, compared with 34 for the same period last week, Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, county health director said.

CHICAGO NEGRO DROPS FIGHT FOR BIG OIL ESTATE

Columbus Bell Stevens, Negro, a Chicago packing house worker who contended he was the son of Lete Kolvin, illiterate Creek Indian woman who left oil lands worth $7,413,286, yesterday dropped his court fight for the estate when he filed a motion in the Tulsa, Okla., federal court to dismiss his suit. Under a compromise decision made in the estate fight, which had been in Oklahoma courts since 1931, one-half the estate went to Floyd and Willie Mayweather, Kansas City, Kas., Negroes, and the other half went to Izora Alexander Lee of Claremore, Okla., who was Lete's half sister, and 45 other collateral heirs. The Mayweathers were nephews of Joe Stevens, who was Lete's husband.

KNIFE WIELDERS STEAL WHISKY.

Six Negroes armed with knives robbed him yesterday of 43 cases of whisky valued at $1,158, John Pugh, driver for Truck-Maintenance, Inc., 1210 Lake street, told police.

Surprise Gown

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Minnie McDougall with gown her husband bought.

A bluegreen evening gown was in the court of Circuit Judge Robert J. Dunne yesterday to plague Claude McDougall, 40 West 151st street, Harvey. For Mrs. Minnie McDougall, his wife, said her first view of it was when a department store clerk greeted her with: "Dearie, I've got that evening gown ready for you."

"I hadn't ordered any gown, judge, but I knew my husband, Claude, so I investigated and learned he had purchased it," Mrs. McDougal said.

"Yes, and look at it, your honor," chimed in her attorney, Sol R. Friedman. "It would fit a woman twice the size of Mrs. McDougall."

"I bought it for her," interposed McDougall, a steelworker. "It was to be a surprise."

"You know that's too big for me," snapped his wife. "I bet you were getting it for one of those lonely heart women you been writing to."

"Well, the lonely heart business started after he promised to throw away his little black date book if I would give him another chance," Mrs. McDougall said. "I found he was writing matrimonial agencies, saying how he needed a little sweetheart to cheer him up."

Judge Dunne ordered McDougall to pay up an $80 arrearage in temporary support payments by Monday, and said the divorce issue would be settled definitely Oct. 26.

NAZI REVERSES CALLED WARNING ON U. S. OIL CURB

Expert Says Germans Lack Fuel to Win.

Germany is losing the war because her oil supply is down to 350,000 barrels a day, far from enough for successful operation of the axis European mechanized equipment, the axis planes, and submarines.

This was disclosed yesterday by an attache of the petroleum administration for war who said it is the estimate of a group of experts fully informed of all oil the Germans presently have access to. At least 40 per cent—160,000 barrels of the 350,000 barrels daily supply is synthetic, he said. The German total is only a little more than the 325,000 barrels a day that PAW allotted to civilians in the east when the value of A, B, and C coupons there was reduced to 1½ gallons.

The figures, he said, are common knowledge among oil men, in the PAW and in other agencies engaged in prosecution of the war.

Yet They Throttle U. S. Output.

Yet Washington burocrats, he said, are throttling oil production in the United States, altho they know petroleum is the most essential war material.

The informant pointed out that oil production has been held down for the last two years. Ceiling prices averaging $1.17 a barrel on crude oil, clamped down two months before the attack on Pearl Harbor, have remained on despite demands by the industry that they be lifted and the price increased. The oil men have insisted that meeting their demands would have raised production so the country would have all the oil it needed.

Refuse Increase in Drilling.

Neither were the oil men, he pointed out, able to get a relaxation of drilling restrictions to produce more oil. So now, he added, 250,000 barrels daily is being imported from South America to keep the industry even with the demands for the war and civilian needs.

The PAW official said oil production in the middle west could be increased 30,000 barrels a day within two weeks if a proper price increase for crude were granted. He said little increase, however, is expected from Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson, who is expected any day to announce a decision.

7 OUSTED COPS BACK; $270 GIFT COSTS EACH $291

The seven patrolmen found guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer in accepting $270 from rookie patrolmen they were instructing in the department's drill school went back on the pay roll yesterday, but their 38 day suspension cost them $291.84 each.

Police Commissioner Allman directed the men to return to work at midnight. The civil service commission ruled that while they were guilty in taking the rookies' gifts, the offense was not sufficient to warrant their dismissal from the force. They were suspended by Allman Aug. 17 after a rookie's wife complained that her husband had been forced to contribute to a fund for the instructors.

The reinstated patrolmen and their stations are: Ernest Hill, Englewood; William O'Brien, Warren avenue; Edward Leckelt, Maxwell street; Edward Jensen, Summerdale; Mitchell Mall, Jefferson Park, and Joseph J. Wieklinski and Stanley J. Rozowski, Sheffield avenue.

OPA SHOE RULING CUTS CIVILIAN TO 2 PAIRS A YEAR

Nov. 1 Stamp May Run Until May 1.

Two pairs of shoes a year, instead of three, will be alloted to civilians, the office of price administration announced in Washington yesterday, because of a reduction in the supplies of leather, the man power shortage, and the drains for military purposes.

Unless production exceeds the present estimate, the new shoe ration stamp, which will become valid Nov. 1, will have to last until May 1. Shoe stamp No. 18 in ration book No. 1, however, will not expire Oct. 31, as originally planned, but will be good indefinitely. Thus, after Nov. 1, all unexpended No. 18 stamps will overlap the new shoe stamps, and those holding them will be able to purchase two pairs of shoes.

Chicago shoe store managers said last night the restriction apparently did not affect their business yesterday, and that they did not expect a rush for shoes to develop from it. Business now is so heavy, one store reported, that it would be hard to handle a new wave of buying.

Altho ration boards will cease issuing the present B series of B and C supplemental gas coupon books Sept. 30, and beginning on Oct. 1 will issue a C series of B and C books, the B, or older, series will remain valid after Oct. 1, it was announced yesterday by Michael F. Mulcahy, OPA director for the Chicago metropolitan district.

Mulcahy also announced a change in procedure of rationing gasoline in amounts of not more than 20 gallons, effective Oct. 15. Special certificates will be issued which will call for gasoline in amounts of not more than 10 gallons and not less than one. Formerly such small users of gasoline were given books or one gallon bulk coupons. The category includes soldiers and sailors on furlough who are entitled to five gallons.

The OPA yesterday authorized dealers and distributors to increase allowable inventories of coal and wood stoves by 50 per cent between Oct. 1 and Oct. 30.

WPB simultaneously telegraphed a questionnaire to all heating and cooking stove manufacturers asking detailed data on present problems interfering with adequate production.

The action by the two federal agencies followed a report made last week by the institute of cooking and heating appliance manufacturers which asserted that shortages of man power and inability to obtain raw materials were hampering output.

Dr. R. C. Newton, vice president of Swift & Co., meat packers, yesterday said, "The reason we have trouble in buying T-bone steaks is because more people have money to buy them."

In a speech before the Chicago section of the American Chemical society, Dr. Newton asserted, "The per capita supply of meat for civilians is approximately the same as it was before the war."

Answering the question, "Why can't we get meat as easily today as before the war?" Newton said:

"The people have 45 billion dollars more this year than there are goods upon which to spend it. The government expects to take 25 billions of this in taxes, but this still leaves 20 billions looking for a place to be spent. This means that the average families can compete for the purchase of the more expensive goods and they do."

Wife Injured in Argument Over Canning Tomatoes

During an alleged quarrel about the correct way to can tomatoes, Mrs. Andria Crowell, 38 years old, of 2714 Warren boulevard, was struck on the head yesterday morning by a jar which she said was thrown by her husband, Harry, 43. She was taken to County hospital with a severe cut on her head. Crowell was being held at Warren avenue police station pending a report on his wife's injuries.

Twin Cucumbers

The vegetable freak.

"That's one for THE TRIBUNE!" Mrs. Margaret Brenneis of 1751 North Mobile avenue, exclaimed while gathering cucumbers at the farm of her brother-in-law, Philip Biros, near Odell. She had just discovered a Siamese twin cucumber—two completely developed cucumbers five inches long—but joined together at the base near the stem.

$28,000 IN ATTIC OF HOME CAUSES A COURT BATTLE

Judge Tells Family to End Feud.

A family feud over $28,000 hoarded by a thrifty mother was aired yesterday before Judge John F. O'Connell of the Probate court. The money, which included $12,000 in silver coins, was found hidden about the family home at 6247 Kolin avenue, after the death of the mother, Mrs. Margaret Glass, on Sept. 7, 1940.

Her husband, George, converted the coins into bills, then hid all of the $28,000 in boxes under the attic floor, Judge O'Connell was told. George Glass died last April 24 at the age of 72, leaving a will dividing all his property among his four children—George J., 50; Louis, 48; Christ, 55, and Mrs. Anna Ter Haar, 53.

Accuses Two Brothers.

The case got into Probate court when Mrs. Ter Haar, as executor of her father's estate, filed a citation against her brothers, George and Louis, to discover assets. She charged they found the $28,000 in the attic after their father's death and have retained possession of it.

In reply, George Glass explained to the court that the money represented savings from a photo finishing business operated by the family at 35th street and Ashland avenue. He said his mother was the business manager, kept the books, and paid him and his brother, Louis, only $2.50 a week as wages for nearly 15 years. George contended he and Louis were entitled to the $28,000 as payment for their services.

Tells of Visit to Attic.

Mrs. Christ Glass, testifying in behalf of her husband's interests, said her father-in-law, before his death, took her to the attic, showed her the boxes of currency, and told her he wanted the money divided equally among the children.

Judge O'Connell refused to hold the brothers to an accounting, but expressed belief all the members of the family held a communal interest in the money. He urged the disputants to compose their differences and make an amicable settlement.

Attys. Charles E. Sawyer and F. Harold Bennett, representing Mrs. Ter Haar, indicated they would appeal from Judge O'Connell's decision. In addition to the $28,000 in currency, George Glass Sr. left three apartment buildings, valued at a total of $30,000.

Hold Two to Grand Jury on Girl's Rape Charges

Richard Fosenburg, 28 years old, and Charles Darling, his 17 year old brother-in-law, were bound over to the grand jury yesterday on a rape charge by Justice of the Peace Harry Hoyt in Waukegan on bonds of $5,000 each. Fosenburg has a wife and child. The case opened Wednesday, when an 18 year old Chicago girl testified she was raped Aug. 10 in a wooded section near Libertyville and the Des Plaines river.

Friend of the Yanks' Kin

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social welfare of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

Mrs. H. S. L. inquires: "My husband has been promoted to the rank of a second class petty officer. Will I continue to receive my allowance, or will he be able to receive any money in place of it?"

ANSWER: The family allowance will be discontinued, because your husband is no longer in one of the four lowest pay grades. He will be eligible to apply for a dependent's quarters allowance of $37.50 a month.

Mrs. A. M. writes: "Will you please tell me if I can send some underwear, a sweater, and a thermos bottle to my son who is somewhere in England?

ANSWER: I can see no reason why you may not send any of these items to your son if you intend them as Christmas gifts and mail them before Oct. 15. If mailed at any other time, you must present a written request for the items with your package. However, packages must meet the usual weight and size requirements.

Interested readers may obtain a bulletin which provides all postal regulations on Christmas gifts by sending in a stamped, addressed envelope.

Mrs. C. G. writes: "Can you give me the name of any agency which provides layettes for wives of service men? My niece, who is married to a soldier, expects her first child and cannot purchase clothing on the allowance which she receives."

ANSWER: Bundles for America, 337 North Michigan avenue, will provide layettes for wives of service men, when necessary. The wife should be able to provide information as to her husband's name, serial number, rank, and location.

Mrs. B. D. writes: "My husband is a private in the army. I am expecting a child, and my only income is the family allowance of $50 a month. Is it necessary for me to apply to the Red Cross or the Army Emergency Relief society in order to receive the free maternity care provided by the federal government for the wives of service men?"

ANSWER: It is not necessary for you to contact either organization in order to receive the care you mention. Apply to your personal physician, and if he authorizes such care, he can provide you with the necessary application blanks.

L. T. writes: "I have been notified that my son, who is in the navy, has been wounded. In a recent letter, he said that he expected to return to this country, and I am wondering if he will be sent to one of the veterans' hospitals in this vicinity?"

ANSWER: It seems likely that your son will be sent to a navy hospital until such time as it is determined that he can not be restored to active duty and he is provided with a medical discharge. He may then receive further treatment at a veterans' hospital.

ICC PONDERING SCOPE AND HUES FOR TRANSFERS

Four Parties Disagree on One or Two Colors.

Many points of disagreement over transfer arrangements among the street car, bus, and elevated companies to carry out the Illinois commerce commission's order for city-wide transfers were smoothed out yesterday at a commission hearing.

On other points the engineers for the companies, the ICC, and the city were still at odds. Merrill B. Knox, engineer for the commission, is to outline the agreed and unagreed factors when the hearing is resumed today. The order set Oct. 1 as the deadline for the transfers.

All of the conferees said they were against widening the transfer privilege to cover the city-wide use of all three companies' facilities on one 10 cent fare; that they believed in a two company limit except in special instances. One such instance was on Austin avenue north of Chicago avenue, where a trip begun by L downtown cannot be completed without using both surface and motor coach lines.

Want Time Stamps.

There was disagreement on the use of transfers from the elevated to the other companies in the loop until time stamping devices can be bought and installed. The elevated representatives held that without the machines, which can be had in about 90 days, it was "unbusinesslike" to hand out the transfers.

Another difference developed over the number of colors to be used for transfers. The L and the surface lines already have ordered two colors each, one color for transfer to each of the other companies. The bus lines and the city argued that one color was enough, as the second company will keep the original transfer and present it to the issuing company for a fare division.

On the disputed questions the commission will rule. Examiner James R. Clark announced that the commissioners for the next year will continue the case each two weeks, so that during the experimental period quick decisions may be made on moot points. This was a recognition that on a matter so intricate it was almost certain many minor revisions would have to be made.

Award $15,000 Damages.

Mrs. Irene Levy, owner of property in the 800 block of North State street, was awarded $15,000 yesterday in the Circuit court of Judge Michael Feinberg for damages allegedly suffered thru construction of the subway. The defendant was the city as owner of the subway.

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes said that each of 80 such cases would be fought on its merits. The Levy verdict will be appealed, he said.

MANLEY SCHOOL FEUD GROWS TO GUN TOTING WAR

A juvenile gang war among boys in the area of Manley High school, 2935 Polk street, has reached such proportions that many youths in the neighborhood are staying away from school for fear they will be beaten, it was revealed yesterday when a member of one of the gangs was brought into Boy's court after he tried to throw away a loaded revolver during a police chase.

Thomas J. Crofts, principal of the school, said that seven students had reported beatings to him, and that other students would not come to school because of the feud. He said he believed the trouble started from a single fight in Douglas park some time ago and spread thru the neighborhood.

The defendant in the case before Judge N. J. Bonelli was Andrew Briatica, 17, of 1217 South Sawyer avenue, who was arrested by a park police squad after a 50 mile an hour chase. Policeman Morris Woodman said that a loaded revolver was thrown from Briatica's car during the chase and that he found a hammer, two wrenches and a rock in the car. Judge Bonelli continued the hearing until Sept. 29, and asked assistance of Judge Oscar S. Caplan.

EMPLOYES STILL UNPAID, COUNTY TALKS ECONOMY

Payless paydays for 6,000 county employes provoked a heated discussion at a meeting of the county board yesterday. While the commissioners talked of the county's stringent financial condition, funds still were lacking to pay the employes for the first two weeks of this month and for the remainder of the fiscal year, ending Nov. 30.

The discussion was started when a resolution was introduced by Commissioner William N. Erickson, calling upon department heads to institute every economy possible to alleviate the situation.

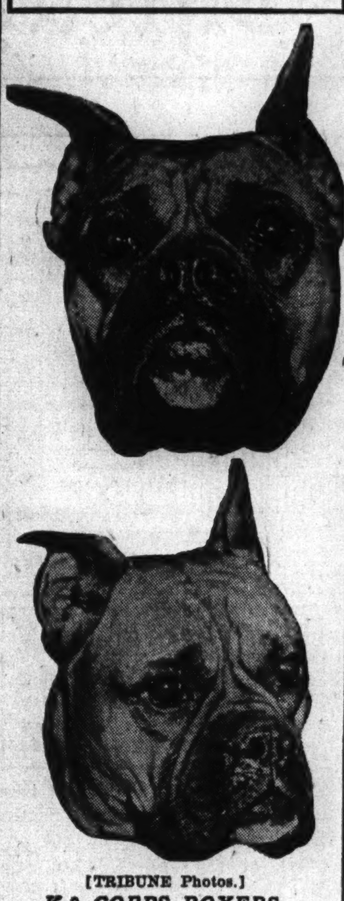
The resolution also requested that the Circuit court judges notify the elected officials of the county to submit at the earliest possible time a statement of the number of employes needed, eliminating all unnecessary positions.

The resolution was ordered sent to the finance committee when Commissioner Maurice F. Kavanagh [D.], who was acting for President Clayton F. Smith, promised that all efforts would be made to pass the next budget by the middle of December.

Fails to Appear for Trial in Flag Insult Stabbing

A subpena was ordered for Zachary Klenowski, 63 years old, 1418 Elk Grove avenue, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, when he failed to appear in Racine avenue court yesterday. He is accused of stabbing Stanley Druski, 53, of 1563 Milwaukee avenue, when Druski objected to Klenowski stamping on an American flag. Druski was treated at County hospital for three stab wounds in the abdomen. The case was continued to Sept. 28.

Featured Guests



[TRIBUNE Photos.]

K-9 CORPS BOXERS.

Two trained boxers, members of the K-9 corps of the army, were featured guests at a meeting of the Anti-Cruelty society last night to celebrate National Dog week. They were exhibited by Capt. John T. Flournoy, guard officer at the quartermaster department in Chicago. Brief talks in connection with Dog week, which was designated as such in Illinois by Gov. Green, were given by Harry Miller, executive secretary of National Dog week; Dr. W. A. Young, managing director of the Anti-Cruelty society, and G. E. Murphy, regional director of Dogs for Defense.

DEALS INVOLVING DOME EXAMINED AGAIN BY JURORS

As the Cook county grand jury continued its investigation into county gambling, Ercole Liberatore, tavern owner who recently has been buying and selling gambling establishments, made his second appearance before the jury yesterday to give additional information about his deals involving the Dome, the old Colony club, at 722 Rush street, and a tavern near the Dome.

Liberatore, who testified earlier that he once owned the Dome, a gambling establishment at 7466 Irving Park road which was raided and the equipment confiscated only to have it disappear later, disclosed yesterday that he had purchased a lease on the Colony club for $175 a month. Before he could move in three men purchased the night club from him for $6,000. He took that money, Liberatore said, and purchased another tavern near the Dome.

Also appearing yesterday were 11 policemen from the Morton Grove police station who were questioned about the district's raiding activities. The jury was wondering, it was reported, why only the small bookmakers and gamblers were raided, and why little equipment was confiscated.

Meet Mr. A.
He is an Accountant in the Loop from 9 to 5. He dropped into Wards one noon and applied for some "hard manual work EVENINGS."

Our Interviewer was surprised. "But surely," he said, "with all your training and experience, you'd rather be working in one of our offices."

Said Mr. A.: "I push a pencil around all day . . . I want to push around something heavy evenings. I NEED A WORKOUT."

So at WARDS Mr. A is having his workout . . . handling stock . . . a job that rests his brain and tires his body in a healthy fashion. And, best of all, HE'S GETTING PAID WELL FOR IT.

Besides, he's buying new furniture for his home, clothes for himself and family . . . and his CHRISTMAS GIFTS . . . all at a LIBERAL DISCOUNT FROM WARDS REGULAR LOW PRICES.

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE

CORPORATION.

Pinched for Cash

$20 FOR 30 DAYS COSTS ONLY 60c

The common-sense solution to any money shortage is a short-term loan. It allows a "breathing spell" in which to adjust expenses to fit income. Right now, for instance, living costs are up and it is becoming increasingly difficult to make ends meet. A loan from Commonwealth will "tide you over" until you get adjusted to these new war time conditions. Monthly rate 3% of balance of $150 or less, and 2½% on that part of the unpaid balance over $150.
